GOOD FAITH OF THE SWEDISH PEOPLE IS FULLY BELIEVED IN

Buenos Aires Incident Not an Act of War, But It Is Grave and It
May Have Consequences.

ARGENTINE STUNNED BY THE AFFAIR

Washington, Sept. 10.—The government today still was waiting for some indication of how the Swedish government regards the disclosures of the part taken by its legation in Buenos Aires. Neither the Argentine ambassador nor the Swedish minister presented any message from their governments.

At the state department today it was made clear that there was no disposition to question the good faith and honesty of the Swedish people.

That Argentine will take prompt steps toward securing an explanation from Sweden is assumed and the state department will be surprised if the Argentine foreign office does not force the recall of Count Luxburg, the charge d'affaires, who advised the sinking of Argentine ships "without leaving any traces," and who referred to the head of the foreign office as "a notorious ass."

That the incident has been regarded by this government as a warlike act by Sweden was absolutely denied. What may develop is a different thing. At present there has been no change in the position of the two governments. This government has attempted no restriction upon free communications between Sweden's representatives and their government and there was no indication any would be imposed. This government regards the entire question as a more direct grievance of the allies than that of the United States.

Whether this government got the dispatch it published from its own agents, or from those of one of the allies, remained a secret. Refusal also was made to discuss the question as to whether all the information in possession of the United States.

GERMAN PRESS HAS FIT OF FURY OVER PRESIDENT'S STAND

Amsterdam, Sept. 10.—There was a fresh outbreak of rage against the United States in Saturday's newspapers in connection with Secretary of State Lansing's reported denial of the statement that America would not insist on the elimination of the Hohenzollerns before entering into peace negotiations.

The Rheinische Post, which it follows with a furious denunciation of America, in which the alleged demand is alluded to as "the climax of the arrogant insolence of the American government," which it adds, "we hope will be met by an emphatic 'hands off' from the reichstag."

The Cologne Gazette says: "President Wilson's impudence is beginning to get on our nerves. Has he no sense at all that the sooner the interference is bound to goad a proud people to fury?"

The Frankfurter Zeitung says: "If America seriously wants peace, she cannot make it conditional upon the form of the German government to reorganize which is the most important task of the future for the German people and is only hampered by such extraneous interference."

The Frankfurter Zeitung issues a warning against the efforts of German reactionary elements seeking to make political capital out of President Wilson's reply to the pope. It says that certain parties make the point that national honor now requires that the democratization of Germany shall be indefinitely shelved because America makes it conditional for peace.

The paper declares that while unwarranted interferences will be sharply wrapped on the knuckles, the people shall not be deterred even by enemies from enforcing reforms deemed necessary for the benefit of the country.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

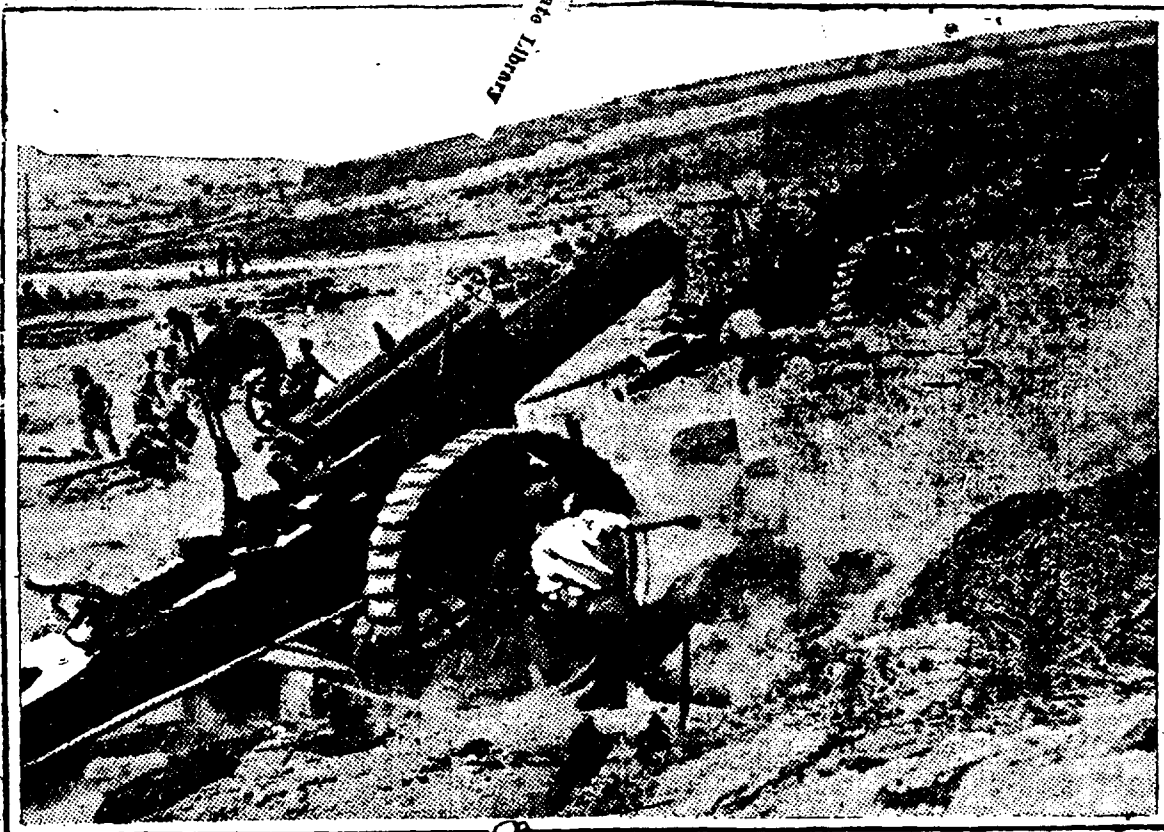

Garden City, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Donald H. Jones, of Fort Wayne, received a commission as second lieutenant upon the arrival of Battery D, of Field Artillery, with the 150th field artillery regiment, formerly the First Indiana. There were but three other men in the Indiana contingent to receive shoulder straps. Jones received the three months' training in the officers' reserve corps at Fort Benjamin Harrison and was formerly an employee of the Fort Wayne Box company.

It was dusk Sunday evening when Batteries D, of Fort Wayne, and F, of Lafayette, pitched tents for their encampment here.

However, the men were all in fine spirits and they went about their task like the good soldiers they are. Fortunately, the regiment is well supplied with both cots and bedding, as the weather is decidedly chilly. The entire trip of forty-eight hours was

CORNMEAL, EVEN AT THE PRESENT PRICE IS CHEAP

Washington, Sept. 10.—Cornmeal at the present high prices is cheapest of nutritious foods according to Herbert Hoover, who in a statement urges more general use of meal for making bread.

"There is twice as much nutritive value in a dollar's worth of corn meal as in a dollar's worth wheat bread at the present prices," Mr. Hoover said. "And corn must play a very important part in the conservation of wheat supply. There are four bushels of corn raised in this country to every one of wheat and corn meal is as good for food as is wheat."

Increased use of fish is also urged. American fish consumption, it is shown, is 18 pounds per capita annually against 65 in England, 57 in Canada, 52 in Sweden, 44 in Norway, 39 in Denmark and 37 in Portugal.

POPE'S EFFORTS GREATLY CLEAR THE SITUATION

Rome, Sunday, Sept. 9.—Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, has returned to Rome from a fortnight's vacation and immediately set to work, together with Pope Benedict, on the accumulation of documents received during his absence regarding the papal peace initiative. To those who approached him Cardinal Gasparri said: "Whatever happens, the proposition made by Pope Benedict in favor of peace will have the effect of greatly clearing the situation."

London, Aug. 27.—(By Mail.)—Throughout official London the belief is held that a very definite offer will come from Germany before winter and that the offer will suggest immediate cessation of hostilities on a status quo basis.

Entente statesmen have fully indicated they will refuse such terms and no doubt Germany is aware of this. But German leaders regard a status quo offer from the German side as an indispensable step in the preparation of German public opinion for further concessions.

PLAN CLUBS FOR FIGHTING MEN ON LEAVE IN GOTHAM

New York, Sept. 10.—The organization of a number of soldiers' and sailors' clubs for the use of the men while on leave here, is planned by the Harvard club, according to an announcement made today.

The club, it was said, has undertaken to finance, equip and maintain quarters here to be known as the national service club No. 1. Harvard men in charge of the club said there would be about 125,000 soldiers encamped in and about New York in a few weeks and of the number about 25 per cent. had homes in the city.

It was also estimated that about 10,000 soldiers and sailors would be in New York each day and that the proposed club would fill a want in the lives of the men.

DISTURBERS OF ABYSSINIA ARE TAKEN IN FIGHT

London, Sept. 10.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Jibuti, Africa, says that a German named Holts and an Austrian named Karmelich, who, with forty Arabs, have been wandering in the interior of French Somaliland, about two months, have been captured after a strong resistance in which several were killed. The capture of Holts and Karmelich is expected to result in important revelations of German activities in the region.

GEN. KORNILOFF TRIES TO SEIZE SUPREME POWER

Kerensky Meets Revolt With Prompt

WORST SITUATION SINCE REVOLUTION

Petrograd, Sept. 10.—Premier Kerensky has declared that a state of war exists in the town and district of Petrograd.

Premier Kerensky has ordered Gen. Korniloff, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, to resign in consequence of Gen. Korniloff's demand for supreme power.

Gen. Klembovsky has been appointed commander-in-chief. Premier Kerensky has issued this proclamation:

"On September 8 a member of the duma, M. Lvoff, arrived in Petrograd and called upon me in the name of Gen. Korniloff to hand over all civil and military powers to the generalissimo, who would form a new government at his pleasure. The authenticity of this summons was afterwards confirmed by Gen. Korniloff himself, who had a conversation with me over the direct telegraphic wire between Petrograd and main headquarters.

"Considering this summons addressed through me to the provisional government as an attempt by certain quarters to profit by the difficult situation of the country and establish a state of things contrary to the principles of the revolution, the provisional government has recognized the necessity of charging me, for the safety of the republican regime to take the indispensable measures to cut at the roots all attempts against the supreme power

FINE EXAMPLES OF HEROISM ON FIELDS OF WAR

Canadian Headquarters in France, September 10.—Private Henry Lorne McFayden, of an Ontario battalion, has been given a distinguished conduct medal for splendid devotion to duty while acting as a stretcher-bearer during a raid into the enemy's lines.

When the raiders withdrew, several wounded men had to be left behind in a shell hole close to the enemy lines. McFayden remained with them for two days and a night, used his clothing to bind their wounds and make them more comfortable, and eventually brought all the wounded men back into their own lines.

The award of the military medal to twenty-four non-commissioned officers and men of a French Canadian battalion which did gallant work at the capture of hill 70 and had already earned high praise for its fine achievement at Coirelette, shows that the men from the province had a full share in current victory.

Here are some records of French Canadian valor from the official statement on the reasons for the award of the military medal:

Private Joseph Roussin, single handed, attacked and killed five Germans and took three others prisoners. He was seriously wounded in the arm by a bayonet thrust.

Private Hilariou Lapointe, single handed, charged and killed the crew of an enemy machine gun and captured the gun just in time to save the lives of two advancing sections.

Private Adrien Brien, during the attack on hill 70, rushed a German machine gun, which was causing casualties. He killed the crew and captured the gun.

Sergeant Joseph Arthur Naud, on the southern slope of hill 70, led a party of men to the front line under intense and continuous barrage. He himself carried as much ammunition through this barrage as two ordinary men could have carried.

Stretcher-bearer Joseph Domplere, attempted to the wounded under an intense artillery fire without thought of his own safety. Many of them he carried to safety.

Lesson in Scientific Complexion Renewing

Everyone has a beautiful skin underneath the one exposed to view. Bear that in mind and it will be easier to understand the correct principle in acquiring a lovely complexion. Nature is constantly shedding the top skin in flaky particles like dandruff, only much smaller in size. In abnormal conditions, or in advancing age, these particles are not shed as rapidly as in robust youth. The longer they remain the more soiled or faded they become—that's the immediate cause of a "bad complexion."

It has been discovered that ordinary mercurized wash to be had at any drug store, will absorb these worn out particles. The absorption, while hastening Nature's work, gradually accumulates to cause no inconvenience. In a week or two the transformation is complete. The fresh, healthy, youthful undertone is then wholly in evidence. You who are not satisfied with your complexion should get an ounce of mercurized wash and try this treatment. Use the wash nightly, like cold cream, washing it off mornings.—Advertisement.

LUNG MOTOR PLACED AT DISPOSAL OF PUBLIC

SERVICES TO BE FREE.

Funeral Directors Schone & Ankenbruck, corner Berry and Barr streets, this morning installed a lung motor at its place of business. This new life-saving device can be used in cases of apparent death from electric shock, drowning, strangulation, gas asphyxiation, collapse on the operating table, and in severe cases of pneumonia.

The lung motor is adjustable to all sizes of patients and delivers to them the amount of air they would naturally breathe. It is extremely simple to operate and is used by the United States government in all departments.

Schone & Ankenbruck are making arrangements for a complete demonstration for the physicians in the community, as well as any of the public who may be interested. The announcement of this demonstration will be made by them later. The lung motor is displayed in their window at present, and can be seen there any time.

THE WILDEST RIDE OF THE WAR; CHARGED BOCHES IN AMBULANCE

HE DROVE HIS AMBULANCE RIGHT UP TO GERMAN TRENCHES. Staff Special.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 7.—Donald M. Walden has ridden into the jaws of death and returned alive. Now he is going back to war again.

As a volunteer ambulance driver in France, he swerved aside just as death's hand reached out for him, and brought back for his bravery the French "croix de guerre." He returns to the front soon with a lieutenant's commission gained in the officers' training camp at Fort McPherson, Ga.

"No man's land" has no new terrors in store for him. He drove his ambulance once through that bare strip where the earth was literally peeled by shells and where nothing else lived, right up to the German trenches before he saw he had been unnecessarily risky. They talk of it still in France as the wildest ride of the war.

The Germans were storming Pont-a-Mousson, known as the "death hole," a red rendezvous of ruin, the morning of July 4, 1915.

The telephone bell brought the lieutenant at the ambulance station in the rear to the receiver with a jump.

Two French officers and two doctors were wounded in the harbor this morning. Walden's car was ready. He was ready. He started in the direction of the first-line trench.

There were no street signs and no corner traffic policemen to direct him. Finally he got to a place where there was no one from whom to ask his way if he had wanted to ask it, inasmuch as the only men he saw were lying bleeding on the ground. There was, in short, quite a bit of confusion, so that any ambulance driver who lost his way might be pardoned.

Walden rode for a minute through a strip absolutely denuded of vegetation. He was deafened by the hail of fire. Shells burst all about him.

A trench was just ahead. Several heads popped up. Walden's eyes popped open. He looked again at uniforms and weapons. He was upon the German first line trenches. He had come through the curtain of fire.

He speeded up and wheeled his car in a short arc over shell craters and splinters of wood and trees. He got back to the French first line trench. He took the officers and doctors to the base hospital.

When they were lifted out, Walden himself got out to inspect his machine. A shell had struck beneath the seat. How it happened that any engine remained in the car was a mystery. All told, the machine had been hit several times.

His friends expect Walden to make one of the bravest of Uncle Sam's officers. They don't see what there is left for him to fear.

THE SOLDIER, AT INSTANT DEATH, FEELS NO PAIN, SPIRITS FROM GREAT BEYOND ASSURE ENQUIRER

Entrance Into the Spiritual World Accomplished Without Suffering, But Released Spirit of Man Killed in Battle is Dazed for Awhile.

(This is one of a number of articles by Hereward Carrington, famous American psychologist and student of psychical phenomena, given to the Daily Sentinel in an interview with its New York correspondent, Frederick M. Kerby. Another will appear in an early issue.)

BY HERWARD CARRINGTON.
(In an interview with Frederick M. Kerby.)

Soldiers killed in war feel no pain. Entrance into the spiritual world is accomplished without suffering, but the released spirit, killed in battle, is for a while dazed by the sudden shock of violent death.

Let me first give you verbatim what the celebrated clairvoyant, Bert Reese, has given as a description of what takes place over a battlefield, as seen by his super-physical sight and vision. Reese is the man who was arrested in New York for "fortune telling," and gave a demonstration of his unusual powers (whatever they are) in Judge Rosak's court, as a result of which he was discharged from custody. Here is Reese's description:

"You ask me to describe what I have actually seen taking place in the astral and spiritual worlds over a battlefield. I will try to tell you; but it is difficult and terrible! Thousands of spirits are being literally hurled into the spiritual world at one time, when they are least prepared for it. While they all ultimately revive, and resume their normal condition, many of them are in a terrible state for time. They are confused; bewildered; they do not know what to do, where to turn; where they are. To explain to you just what takes place, let me first of all explain a little of the inner constitution of man.

"The soul is the connection between body and spirit; the soul is connected with the body by a sort of vital electricity; the spirit to the soul by a sort of vital magnetism. If any of these links are broken, the man dies. If broken suddenly, the man dies of so-called 'shock.'

"It is well known that a sudden shock, sufficient to cause death, produces instant insensibility. This shock is to the diffusion of the elements of the soul throughout the system of the person. It is as if you had struck a small bone with a hammer so powerfully and suddenly that the cohesion between the atoms was suddenly dissipated; and what was before a solid mass is now only smoke and dust, flying in the wind.

"Several soldiers who have returned to me from the spirit world have told me their sensations immediately after falling dead by rifle or cannon ball. They relate how they intuitively realized the nature of the accident, and that they had just 'died' in the usual sense of the word, but they did not feel anything like pain—being only disposed to sleep very profoundly, regardless of the place, and forgetful of what had happened to them. This indifference has in many instances resulted in a kind of slumber for many days in the spirit world, before they were able to reconstruct their bodies.

"Those who are killed in battle usually feel no pain. So long as they live, they do; but these are the pains of life, not death. As soon as the spirit is freed from the mortal body, pain ceases, and the being thus liberated then reforms and reunites. The spirit then occupies it.

PRESIDENT WILSON GOES TO PLAY GOLF

Leaves Mayflower to Have a Brief Frolic Ashore
at Gloucester.

Gloucester, Mass., Sept. 10.—The president's yacht Mayflower with its convoy was still in the harbor this morning, but prepared to weigh anchor later in the day and continue the cruise upon which President Wilson and Mrs. Wilson embarked at New York Saturday. Reports that the party would come ashore again today drew a crowd to the water front, but it was made known that the president wished to avoid anything in the way of a demonstration. It was not revealed just when the Mayflower would sail, and it was intimated that the president would not have left the Mayflower yesterday if his plans to do so had become known in advance.

The president and Mrs. Wilson came ashore at 11 o'clock and were met at

The weather was fine and bracing. The president was smiling at the small crowd at the wharf as his car moved away and then passed through the principal street here where citizens were waiting to see him.

Colonel House declined to say where the president would play, as he was anxious to avoid the crowds that might be attracted to the links when it became known that he would take part in a game.

With Farmers on Silage.

Professor J. W. Schwab, of Purdue university, will lead discussions on silage an olive stock, which is to be the principal theme for farmers of Allen county in two tours that are to be conducted Wednesday and Thursday. Over one hundred silos are to be filled this fall, it is figured, and should receive the greatest care in order that silage may be conserved. Some of the subjects which will be taken up in this connection will deal with the correct method of filling a silo and the best stage at which to cut corn for silage.

Two meetings will be held Wednesday, as follows: 9:30 a. m., Henry Kurtz's farm, eleven miles on Mayville road; 1:30 p. m., Joe Guston's farm, northeast of Woodburn.

A livestock tour is being planned for Thursday.

The other wedding concerned two out of town people, Miss Fay Wiseman, of Pendleton, and Mr. Lovell S. EXCLUSION FROM MAILS

That May Be Fate of Some German Language Newspapers in America.

THOSE HOSTILE ARE TO HAVE ATTENTION

No Disposition to Treat Them as a Class, But Individually.

Washington, D. C., September 10.—Exclusion from the mails of certain influential German language newspapers printed in various sections of the United States is under consideration by the postoffice department as a part of the government's determination to prevent circulation of anti-war propaganda.

In three or four instances, it is understood, officials have virtually decided that the utterances of the German language newspapers in question fully warrant their exclusion from the mails. Other publications are being investigated.

No Treatment as a Class.
There is no intention to treat the German language dailies as a class and each newspaper will be considered on the basis of the time, character and nature of its articles and editorials. In numerous instances, it is said, German language publications have shown a commendable loyalty and wholeheartedness in supporting the government. The newspapers under consideration in connection with the proposed action are widely scattered.

Contents of the news and editorial columns of the newspapers under investigation, it is said, apparently were written with a view to coming within the law and at the same time creating anti-ally sentiment and generally discouraging the government's plans for carrying on the war.

Language As a Factor.
Where this is the case officials have taken into consideration the fact that the alleged objectionable articles and editorials have been published in the enemy tongue as a factor to be regarded in reaching a decision.

A number of publications printed in English also are under consideration in connection with the department's intention of tightening the restrictions heretofore placed upon dissemination through the mails of anti-war propaganda.

This program has received a marked impetus since the recent decisions of Federal Judges Hough and Speer upholding the postmaster general in excluding from the mails The Masses and The Jeffersonian.

Another Revolt of Convicts at Joliet

Prisoners Start Mutiny and One of Them is Shot—Guards Stabbed.

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 10.—A riot occurred in the state prison today during which one convict was shot and three guards stabbed.

The first trouble occurred yesterday. At breakfast call about twenty of the convicts broke from the line and one, seizing a spade, is said to have threatened a guard. The latter, after ordering the convict to drop the weapon, shot him.

This morning at the same hour the trouble broke out afresh. The men again broke from the line. The emergency whistle sounded and in the melee which followed three of the guards were stabbed. The guards clubbed their rifles and order apparently was restored. They had become angered at the imposition of restrictions on their discipline. Among the privileges previously enjoyed by the convicts was an almost unlimited food.

DRILLING STARTS PROMPTLY IN CAMP

Indiana's First Contingent Quickly Takes Up Soldier's Life.

Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., Sept. 10.—When you walk through this camp you are struck with the prominent part that Indiana is taking in it. Two regiments will be made up almost entirely of Indiana men, one mostly with men from Indianapolis. All the officers except the commanders are Indiana men. A company of engineers made up entirely of men and officers from Indiana is here. An Illinois regiment, with the exception of the commander, is officered by Indiana men. Indiana officers will command a negro company to be trained here.

Ward Lambert, of Crawfordsville, has been named by the war department to supervise the sports of the soldiers. Mr. Lambert is a noted athlete from Wabash college, and last year was the coach for Purdue's basketball team.

Some to be Replaced.
The physical examination of the men has not yet been completed, but six examining boards are at work and it is believed that their report will be made public soon. Those who fail in this test will be sent home and their places filled with more recruits from the various counties. When the physical examination is over, those who have passed will receive uniforms and then the routine work of a training camp will begin.

Seven out of every hundred men drafted an assigned to camp Taylor will be rejected for physical deficiencies, it is estimated by Colonel John H. Allen, division surgeon, and in charge of medical examinations. The men remaining, it was said, of the first 5 per cent. quota sent to the camp, likely will receive promotions as noncommissioned officers in a very short time if they manifest requisite ability.

SIX HANDSOME LOTS FOR HOME SITE IN SOUTH WOOD PARK

When it was announced that Joseph F. Miller, secretary of the Heit-Miller-Lau Company, manufacturing confectioners, had purchased six valuable lots in South Wood Park, the natural question arose: "What is there about this new Higeman & Schaaf sub-division that is so irresistibly attractive?" Possibly the photograph is a sufficient answer, although no newspaper halftone can even suggest the wonderful beauty of these wooded properties. The picture shows one of the cross-walks connecting Drury Lane with Pembroke Lane. These lots face upon the latter. The sale of these lots was handled for Higeman & Schaaf by Carl J. Getz.

SOME MORE COARSE WORK.

German diplomacy's coarse work, diligently exemplified during the two years that this country was put upon by its clumsy trickery and crude subterfuges, has just disclosed itself in a new field. Exposure by the state department at Washington of the double-dealing of the kaiser's plenipotentiary in Argentine constitutes no surprise. It is about what was to be expected. That the Swedish legation in Buenos Aires should so readily have lent itself as a clearing-house for German treachery is, however, something of a shock. Out of this sensational unmasking of German duplicity and Swedish violation of friendship must issue events that will solidify all Latin-America against the kaiser and embarrass King Gustaf's government everywhere.

Notwithstanding that the past two or three years have led us to expect anything from the German government and its diplomatic agents anywhere, the disclosures respecting the treachery practiced against Argentine are of an amazing sort. Already South America was well set against Germany. Brazil, the greatest and most powerful of Latin-American nations, is at war with her and only by an almost abrupt concession to Argentina's demands in respect of U-boat outrages had the Berlin government been able to avert a break with that republic. That the Swedish legation at Buenos Aires should have taken upon itself the forwarding of German treachery is beyond comprehension upon any hypothesis save that the Swedish government is according a secret support to the kaiser. It answers nothing that Swedish diplomatic representatives in this country advance a plea that the Swedish legation in Buenos Aires was imposed upon. That might be plausible if German plotting having its origin in the South American city had not been compelled to find its way from the legation there through the foreign office at Stockholm into channels that reach Berlin.

It was a coarse and clumsy piece of work of the same pattern from which came Herr Zimmermann's proposals to Mexico and Japan to make cause against the United States to keep this nation busy in the event that war came between America and Germany; of the same pattern from which came a score of breaches of good neighborhood, friendly intercourse and international comity while the maladroit and plausible von Bernstorff occupied the German embassy in Washington and had that pair of consummate devils, Boy-Ed and von Papen, engineering his dirty work in this friendly land.

Germany is audacious in her tricks and her games, fertile in resource and wholly unconscionable in her resort to what is low, mean and treacherous, but she is coarse—unspeakably coarse—in her practice of them among and upon her friends. She stands today outlawed by almost all nations save the three allies that tremble under her brutal coercions. Is it any wonder? The Argentine matter is simply excess of proof in the case against Berlin.

LEND A HAND FOR THE BOYS.

To a multitude of religious, benevolent and patriotic activities the people of Fort Wayne have freely given a great deal of money during the past year and a half. Not to anything have they given financial support that stood in better desert to it than the Boy Scouts now do to the help that is asked of the people of Fort Wayne in aid of that movement here. History may at some time contrive to unravel the tangled skein of claims to the honor of having conceived the idea that has unfolded in this country and others in the growing ranks of Boy Scouts, and when history shall have done that the world will owe the originator a monument and a perpetual fame, for nothing save the school and the church are better for a boy than the association and fellowship of the Scouts. Indeed, there are some benefits from the Scout life and activity that neither school nor church can supply.

The Boy Scouts should have every aid and encouragement. Whatever is needed in money to keep the good work going and expanding should be ungrudgingly given. If you have a boy in the Scouts you can appreciate this beyond another's power to impress you. If you have a lad who in the near coming years will be eligible by his age to enter the Scouts it is to your very dear personal and parental interest to sustain the organization and movement. If you have no son, bethink you of some other's son that you may indirectly help and of One Son who gave His word that He would acknowledge as being unto Him such service as any of us might do in whatsoever good ways for even "the least of these." The Boy Scouts are put in the way of becoming good men—men with strong bodies, hearty spirits, clear vision, fine ideals and strength and readiness to serve. There are so many ways in which the Boy Scout movement ministers to the health and enjoyment of boys that it would be a tediousness to recite them, but you can get an enthusiastic account of it all by sitting down an hour or so with any youngster who has got past the tenderfoot degree. Try it.

Plans are about perfected for the campaign to raise ten thousand dollars for support of the Scout movement in Fort Wayne. Be prepared to meet the call upon your financial assistance. Altogether by itself as a splendid thing for the boys of today who are to be the men of tomorrow the Boy Scout movement makes just claim to encouragement and support, but in this hour of strain and stress it becomes of personal concern to every patriotic American and to his government and nation that this fine organization be upheld and promoted. Before the war shall have ended the Boy Scouts will be doing their bit for the good of their country here at home that no one will question and none will fail to appreciate.

Be ready and cheerful for your own good part in this excellent campaign to put some degree of solid financial backing behind the movement in Fort Wayne.

A TRUE AMERICAN HE IS.

Elsewhere there is printed on this page today an address delivered in Michigan City, Ind., quite recently by Mayor Martin T. Krueger, of that place, at a farewell reception tendered the officers and members of a company of the Indiana national guard just departing for the war.

We commend a careful reading of this address to all into whose hands this newspaper may fall. It is an eloquent and stirring speech, patriotic in every word, loyal in every thought, inspiring in every sentiment. Other addresses to similar occasion have been frequent in recent weeks and of like expression and import. Mayor Krueger's address is worth reading wholly for itself, but it is a thousand times more worth reading for another and a better reason.

Mayor Krueger, as his name gives clue, is of German blood. But he is more than that. He is of German birth. He came at an early age to this land to make it his home and to become its citizen. He was poor, but he has made his way forward to the goal of a distinguished success. He has been twice elected mayor of his city. He is a lawyer of repute, an orator of wide fame and a substantial and prosperous man. But above and beyond these he is an American sans peur et sans reproche. His Americanism is the soul of him—constant, intense, unafraid and aggressive. Read that speech on another part of this page, and then say if you think better words could have come with finer eloquence and greater force from a truer heart, whether descended from the best Cavalier blood of Virginia or claiming forebears among the sturdiest of the Mayflower stock of New England.

Up in Michigan City Martin T. Krueger's Americanism is well enough known. It may not be so well known farther out in the state. But it ought to be. This German-born American citizen is an example and a comfort, an inspiration and a refuge in this time, for he is a striking type of a large class of German-born everywhere who know why they did not remain German in their allegiance and who know what America has been and will continue to be to them. Mayor Krueger has indulged himself no hesitations and has not mined his words during the past two or three years in making known where he stands as to his country nor why.

When you just don't know what else you can immediately do to help the country in war, just drop around to Red Cross headquarters and leave a dollar or two—or five or ten. The Red Cross always needs money and the days of labors come on apace where labor is needed.

Probably Berlin would now like to know by what treachery the Washington state department surprised the secret of the Prusso-Swedish plot to sink Argentine ships "leaving no trace." Berlin will find out when the mystery of the Zimmermann note to Mexico is unraveled.

Shiners, Craws and Pollywogs

A German-Born American's Words

The subjoined address was delivered a few days ago at Michigan City, Ind., by Hon. Martin T. Krueger, the mayor, on the occasion of a public farewell given to the soldiers of Company G, of that city, who were leaving for the war. Mayor Krueger was born in Germany, but his Americanism is thoroughly undiluted.

If a war could be ended by writing, printing and talking, then this great and terrible war must of necessity have been ended a long time ago; for there has surely been written, printed and spoken enough matter to fill a library. The time seems now to have arrived when talking must cease and action must begin and it is a source of great pride with us to know and feel that you are ready and prepared for that action.

I scarcely know whether this occasion should be called a "Farewell night" or a "Knights' farewell." No steel-clad warrior of old ever went forth to do battle in a more noble and knightly cause than that which you are about to engage in, and that fact has inspired me with the thought that when you come back from this awful war you will be veterans who will join with others in forming a great organization; something like the now vanishing Grand Army of the Republic, and there is no doubt of that, for it has been the practice of returned soldiers after every war. When that time comes and that veteran army is formed, it should be named the "Knights of Liberty." There has never been upon the earth a greater force moving toward liberty than the army of today who are a part and there is not today beneath the skies a greater, better known and universally acknowledged emblem and token of that liberty than the starry flag you will carry and follow to foreign climes, to victory or to death. Under its white and crimson stripes you will go forth to conquer peace from the high prophet of war himself.

There are people who believe this war could have been avoided; they are only deceiving themselves. That it might have been postponed a short time, a year or two, perhaps, may be true, but the arch plotter and enemy of peace and liberty was only biding his time, when, having destroyed his neighbors one by one and robbed them of the means of further resistance, war would have come to us, as we now go to war. Our shores would have been invaded, our cities destroyed, our industries ruined and despoiled. Instead of crossing the ocean and aiding France and England in their struggle for the world's liberties, we would then have been obliged to fight for our national life on our own soil and alone. When we considered what a monstrous struggle this war is and how desperately all the able-bodied men of many nations are fighting to shake off the tyrant invader at the cost of millions of men and billions of treasure, we can in a measure, at least, estimate how poorly equipped we would have been to drive back the invader and common enemy of all the civilized world alone, when the fatal hour should have struck for us.

Fortunately, we did not wait for the enemy to get ready and strike us. God knows we had no wish to go to war with Germany nor with any other nation; for more than two years we held our peace and were jeered and scoffed at, ridiculed and insulted as cowards, because we confined ourselves to sending notes and protests while American lives were sacrificed and American property destroyed. Our enemy would not and could not understand that all we asked was that our rights under the laws of nations and our flag should be respected and we be permitted to remain at peace with all the world.

Not content with sinking our ships and taking the lives of American citizens—men, women and children, they plotted to crush us into a war with other lands and even promised to assist them to dismember the union of our states and give some of them to those other countries as a premium for making war on us. We protested and remonstrated and Germany made promises and repudiated them as fast as they were made. She talked of friendship and amity and at the same time sought to invade both Japan and Mexico to invade our country and make war on us. We believed her promises had been made for the sole purpose of gaining time to prepare to strike us more effectually.

And, as if to crown the full measure of his infamy the enemy sought, by crafty means and devices, to create dissensions among our own people as well, and as a result of this propaganda, we dare not lay the flattering unction to our souls that when these brave boys shall have gone to defend our country, our flag, and our property, under the blue sky of sunny France, and at the cannon's mouth, they will have enemies only in front of them and only friends behind. Humiliating as the thought and the fact may be, it is nevertheless true that treason is rife, right here in our own country, in this and in almost every other city and county in America. It does not require the services of a detective or a secret service officer to find the slimy trail of men who have perjured their soul by holding up their hands to heaven and to swear that they recognized "all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, state, or sovereignty whatever," and took a solemn oath to support the constitution of the United States in order that they might be given citizenship in this country, and who are now skulking in the dark places sowing the seeds of dissension and section by finding fault and harping on the wrongs of the United States and applauding and condoning every horrible criminal and inhuman outrage perpetrated by the instruments of a tyrant whose hands are clothed with human blood to his arm-pits.

Those snipers are too cowardly to help the assassin at whose shrine they cowl and worship and whose praises they never tire of singing and who give them every aid and comfort they think safe to give without running the risk of getting into a detention camp or, perhaps, even a jail. When Zimmermann told the American ambassador to Germany, the "Count von Bernstorff," that the "United States dare not do anything against Germany, because we have five hundred thousand reservists in America who will rise against your government," the ambassador replied: "We have five hundred and one thousand reservists in America who will rise against your government, because we will find ourselves in the line of fire if we do not rise."

I remember well just before the close of our civil war, when they took cowards who sympathized with the rebellion, tarred and feathered them, rode them on fence rails and finally took several of them down to an old pier and ducked them in the lake until they were glad enough to kiss the flag and hurrah for Lincoln to save their worthless hides, and there are a few rode in pickle for some of the copperheads of today in this country and harping on the wrongs of the United States and applauding and condoning every horrible criminal and inhuman outrage perpetrated by the instruments of a tyrant whose hands are clothed with human blood to his arm-pits.

Do not worry boys about what will happen back home when you have gone to the front. There will be enough Americans left here to see that the old flag is not trailed in the dust or offered insult or indignity, and to see that the rank copperhead crawls into his hole and stays there or takes the consequences.

And we will see to it also that those you leave behind, who may be in need of your protection or support, if any, shall not be left to bear and to suffer alone.

Soldier Boys! I bid you Good-speed in the name of every loyal citizen of Michigan City, and as you go forth to battle, to fight for your country, for your country's flag, for home and dear ones there may a just and merciful God guide, protect and preserve you and bring you back here covered with the laurels of victory and the honors of true soldiers who have done their whole duty and done it bravely, nobly and well. Good-bye with you. Good-bye.

A FLAT ANSWER.

(Cleveland Leader.)

The effort to make the United States helpless against its enemies in this war by interposing constitutional objections to the military draft and the sending of troops out of the country has received the check it merits at the hands of Judge Emory Speer of the United States district court of southern Georgia. He has dismissed the suit brought to test this question by that professional Georgia trouble-maker, Tom Watson, in such a manner that it will require more than ordinary brazenness and disloyalty to carry it further.

Judge Speer holds that the United States government has ample and exclusive power to raise and support armies in any manner that may be deemed expedient and can use them for the defense of the nation and the maintenance of its safety and rights in any way necessary, without hindrance from any section of the constitution primarily intended to apply to other purposes.

"To agree," he says, "to this contention (that the draft violates the constitutional prohibition of slavery and involuntary servitude) we must conclude that the soldier is a slave. Nothing could be more abhorrent to the truth, nothing more degrading to that indispensable and gallant body of citizens trained in arms, to whose manhood, skill and courage is and must be committed the task of maintaining the very existence of the nation and all that its people hold dear."

FROM THE SENTINEL

PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

The M. O. A. Y. club gave one of their delightful parties to New Haven last night and were entertained at the Cook Hotel. A delightful time was had despite the fact that it rained while making the trip home. William H. Bryant, age seventy-five, died with paralysis last evening at 9 o'clock. The deceased leaves a wife and six children; also four brothers and two sisters. Mr. Bryant was a contractor. He also filled several terms of public office.

The Westminister seminary will open one week from next Monday with a large attendance. This school, under the efficient management of Miss Sharp and Mrs. Wells, is becoming not only very popular in Fort Wayne, but all over the state. Last night at their lovely home, on Spy Run avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knight gave a delightful dancing party to honor of their guests, the Misses Nelson, of Logansport. At 11 o'clock elegant refreshments were served by Caterer Seidel. About thirty-five couples were present to enjoy this evening.

CITY COURT LEVIES FINES IN SUM OF $412

Thirty-Four Law Breakers Stand Before Judge
Kerr.

Half a dozen complaints of open vice in Fort Wayne led Sheriff Gillie and a squad of police to ransack the suspected districts Saturday night. Most of the crime haunts led into blind alleys but two large catches were made.

Police court was a busy institution on Monday morning as a result. There were thirty-four cases on the docket. Thirty-three convictions followed. Fines were assessed by Judge H. W. Kerr to the total of $412.

Too Old to Fight.
David Cramer is 62 years old, and by his own admission is not the fighter that he used to be. He feared that the could not down James Crouse, a sturdy land tenant, at the edge of the city when Crouse threatened him, Cramer said. So the aging fighter put on brass knuckles. "Crouse has trouble with everybody. I know a fellow who is going to mow him down with a sythe if he keeps on wanting to fight," said Cramer in testimony.

Cramer pleaded guilty to the charge of wearing the deadly knuckles when he passed the Crouse home one night last week. He was fined $10 and costs.

Caused a Scene.
One of the four women taken in a raid on a disorderly house in the rolling mill district Saturday night caused a scene after police court by demanding that her lawyer pay back the money he had taken for representing her before the court. She had been fined $15 and costs along with

Uncle Harry Tells of What Italy's Armies Have Done

"Uncle Harry," said Joe, "do you remember Tony, the old Italian that sells apples near the school?" And then, without waiting for a reply, Joe continued: "I was talking to him the other day and he certainly was happy."

"You hear about da bigga fight, eh?" he said. "I guess we showa da Austrian what's a what now?"

All three laughed at Joe's mimicry of old Tony's enthusiasm.

Then Jimmy spoke up: "I guess Tony Alps Mountains! No wonder they had to go slowly!"

"Yes," said Uncle Harry. "Much of the fighting has been done among the chain of mountains known as the Julian Alps and the Italian troops have, of course, had enormous difficulties with which to contend. The Austrians had strongly fortified positions that were by their very nature almost proof against attack. To strike at these strongholds it was necessary to hoist and drag, foot by foot, heavy guns up the sides of mountains that tow-ment that the Italian armies had won a great victory, Uncle Harry?"

"Yes," replied Uncle Harry, "and if Joe will get the map he'll be glad to tell you about the recent victories won by the Italians—and why the advance is considered so important."

"Much of the recent fighting has been along the River Isonzo, which you see here winding its way northward from the gulf of Trieste," Uncle Harry continued, running his finger over the map which Joe had spread on the table. "The Italian troops, following a prolonged and fierce bombardment, stormed the heights of Monte Santo and captured the summit. At the same time the Austrian city of Trieste was being bombarded by Italian and British warships lying in the gulf of Trieste, and another part of the Italian army was winning victories on the slopes of the Hermada, a mountain fortress that forms the chief barrier to Trieste."

"For months," continued Uncle Harry, "the Italian armies, led by Gen. Cadorna, have been pressing eastward and southward with Trieste as their final goal."

"But haven't they been going awful slowly?" interrupted Helen. "Italy has been in the war ever so long and according to the map she has only advanced a few miles."

Uncle Harry smiled. "You didn't look at the map closely enough, Helen. Jimmy, do you see anything on this map that would make it hard for an army to advance?"

"Jimmy studied the map closely for several moments and then exclaimed: 'Why they're been fighting in the ered thousands of feet in the air. Not for years and years—not since the time of the great Napoleon, has an army achieved such a feat. History tells us, you remember, that when Napoleon announced that he would march his army over the Alps, people said that was impossible, and then Napoleon said, 'Alps? There are no Alps.' And now General Cadorna, too, has proved 'there are no Alps' to a conquering army."

"It must be awfully cold fighting way up in those mountains," said Joe.

"It is," replied Uncle Harry, "both the Italians and the Austrians have suffered terrible hardships. Only last night I was reading an account by a war correspondent who told how sentries high up in the mountains are sometimes found frozen to death at their posts. But in spite of all these hardships the Italians have kept pressing on and on. They seemed to be making very slow progress, but when you appreciate the difficulties that confronted them they were in reality moving forward at a very good rate."

"We'll watch the papers closely and see how this Italian drive continues."

Editor's Note—Uncle Harry will be glad to answer inquiries, either in this column or by mail, provided letters are signed with the full name and address of the persons writing. The correspondents' names will not appear in the articles.

In addition to the organization perfected in Allen county each town in the county is to have a similar organization, according to plan laid by C. F. Charles, of Chicago, chairman of the Seventh Federal Reserve district, which includes Indiana, with the exception of a few counties in the extreme southern part.

The entire state will be organized in a like manner.

NO HOPE ENTERTAINED FOR BROWER'S RECOVERY

There is no hope of any improvement in the condition of Ralph Brower, soldier-aviator, who was terribly crushed and scalded when two machines collided at an aviation field in Texas some weeks ago. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Brower, of this city. Mention of their leaving for Texas on account of their son's accident was mentioned exclusively in The Sentinel some days ago.

The young man is at the base hospital at San Antonio, Tex., where it is reported his sight and hearing are practically gone and he is gradually going insane.

Brower graduated from the Fort Wayne high school, and for a time worked in the Pennsylvania shops. His father is employed on the Pennsylvania as an engineer.

Mrs. W. T. Shepard and son, Cyrus, have returned from a visit in Des Moines, Ia., with relatives and were accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. J. C. McDole, who is to spend the winter here.

Little Helen Dessauer, of West Wayne street, had a birthday party on Saturday afternoon and several of her little friends enjoyed a birthday cake, games and a pleasant time together with her.

Mrs. U. W. Ford, who had been spending the summer here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Green, of West Berry street, and with her sister, Mrs. W. H. Noll, left on Friday for her home in Hightstown, N. J.

Misses Pauline Quick and Helen Colling gave a party on Friday evening for intimate friends at Miss Colling's home in South Harrison street, and announced during the evening her engagement to George Raizing and the date of her wedding to be October 20, and before the guests recovered from their surprise at that they discovered the engagement of Miss Quick to Charles Mallet was announced.

Announcements were made at supper time when red cards were discovered hidden in the napkins. The cards were heart shape. The company included Misses Loretta Gooley, Therese Roy, Katherine Burdick, Letty Dilts, Madeline Rhodes and Mrs. Edith Darby.

Boak—Peters.

A beautiful, though wholly informal home wedding, was that of Miss Helen Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Peters, and Mr. Arthur E. R. Boak, professor of history at the University of Michigan, which took place on Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock, Rev. H. B. Master, of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Miss Florence I. Lang was the bride's honor maid and Captain Edward Troxell, of Ann Arbor, was attendant to the groom.

The bride wore a pale pink crepe, combined with silver lace and girdle of silver ribbon with a touch of blue about the bodice and at the waist line. Miss Lang's flowers carried out the coloring of her gown with pink roses, snapdragons and forget-me-nots. A collation was served after the bridal couple had received the congratulations of the company, which included only the immediate relatives and a few near friends. Mrs. Will Peters presided at the punch bowl. The wedding music was furnished by Mrs. C. A. Horton and Anthony Ciccone, harp and violin players. The house was artistically decorated with baskets and crystal bowls of pink and white fall flowers and many gladioli, asters, lilies, the fragrant clamatia, phlox and roses were used. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Boak will be at home in Ann Arbor at 1114 Willard street, where they will receive their friends after the first of November. For traveling the bride is wearing a tailored suit of Scotch cheviot in blue and black and all accessories are plain and quiet in coloring to correspond.

Swinehart Family Reunion.

The twelfth reunion of the Swinehart family descendants was held at the home of W. T. Kline, 1702 Canfield street, Huntington. There were 123 people present and the family representatives came from Ohio, Ohio and Illinois. Ninety-four sat down at one table for dinner, which was a treat, and afterwards a program was well rendered. Prof. J. L. Swihart furnished music. The opening prayer was made by Rev. Elmer Warden, of Colorado. President of the society is Marion Swinehart, Columbia City; secretary, Fred Swinehart, of Ellettsburg, Ia. It was planned to hold the next reunion in the same place the second Sunday of September, 1918.

Crawford and Vaughn Reunion.

The annual reunion of the Crawford and Vaughn families was held at the home of John Emrich in Dunfee, on September 2. This was the seventh gathering of these two families. One hundred people were present and a fine time and a big dinner are the chief summary of what happened. As officers for the ensuing year, Grayson Laud was chosen as president; Billy Hilbert, of Roanoke, vice president; Mrs. Gustie Schinbeckle, of Dunfee, as secretary; Mrs. Harry Schane, of Fort Wayne, as treasurer; Mrs. G. H. Paul, of Fort Wayne, as chairman of entertaining committee.

Ruch, Loshire, McMaken Meet.

The reunion of the Ruch, Loshire and McMaken families will be held in Swinney park on Sunday, September 16. A good time is in store for every one who attends. A basket dinner will be served at noon and will be a genuine feast.

NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE MEETS.

The Non-Partisan League will hold its regular meeting in the assembly room at the court house Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Every woman in the city is invited to attend. It will not be long until candidates must be voted for by city officers, and it behooves the women to learn all they can, what to expect from each man who will be elected and to acquaint themselves with the platforms of the different parties. The Non-Partisan League workers feel that this can be done through meetings. Candidates representing the different political parties will be asked to speak to the league. The speaker secured for Thursday evening is Creighton H. Williams, who will talk on "The Mayor and the Council." A voting machine has been secured and everyone will have a chance to practice on it. The time for registration will soon be up, and in order not to get into the rush at the end women should register right away. A notary public will be present at Thursday's meeting and registration will take place free.

FURNITURE OF WALNUT IS AGAIN FASHIONABLE

The bride-to-be of autumn is setting her heart on walnut furniture, as she makes mental pictures of the cosy apartment that is going to be planned for, soon. Very fashionable, indeed, just now is walnut, and walnut bedroom, diningroom and library "suites" as the furniture people call them, fair to displace the long adored mahogany from favor—for a time at least.

Think not, however, that walnut furniture means a revival of the mid-Victorian styles, and that those hideous wattle-nots, sideboards and bureaus now stored up in garret or scattered about in seldom used bedrooms, may be brought downstairs and refurbished. The new walnut is dark, rich and extremely distinguished, with a dull, soft luster and a somber color that makes a most attractive background for gorgeous cretonnes. The tapestry blue that is so fashionable in modern dining-rooms is exactly the setting for walnut furniture, and walnut looks well also—as mahogany does not—with rugs and wall coverings in reddish or terra cotta tones. The lines of the new walnut pieces are extremely simple. No carved grapes and flowers as in the seventies when this wood was the mode; no twisted columns or lumpy drawer handles; no tables with tops tortured into grotesque shapes. The new furniture is massive, dignified and graceful, the rich color of the wood being deemed sufficient ornament in itself.

Rengo Belt Reducing Corsets

are made exclusively for medium and full figures

Rengo Belt Corsets are not intended for slender women—they are strong, sturdy corsets for medium and stout women, reinforced by a specially designed and exclusive Rengo Belt feature for straightening
the abdominal line.

In every other respect these famous corsets are ideal for reducing because of their perfect lines and absolute strength. Rengo Belt Corsets cannot be stretched out of shape or broken, no matter what amount of wearing stress is put upon them by heavy figures. They will mould to their own beautiful lines because they are stronger than any figure, yet pliable and comfortable because they have no "fixings" or "trappings" of any kind—nothing to indicate that they are specially constructed Reducing corsets, unless you understand the scientific tailoring of the design itself.

All models are boned throughout with double watch-spring steels,
and some are fitted with "steelastic" webbing inserts, for more active freedom.

Shop Through Our Paris Office for American Soldiers in France

How can we send gifts or needful articles to our soldier boys in France is a question confronting those who have loved ones in the Country's service. The shipping facilities from the States are limited—the American Red Cross has first call on all available ships, and there is the uncertainty of correct delivery even after the goods are received on the other side.

Here Then Is The Answer

Wolf & Dessauer, through their Paris office, have an arrangement which at once solves the problem satisfactorily and surely. This store will take orders from friends and relatives here, to be filled in Paris by shoppers in that city. These goods will be charged to our patrons' accounts the same as if purchased right here in the store. From Paris they will be forwarded direct to the soldier in any branch of the service anywhere, in camp, at the front, or in hospitals.

Paris is experienced in providing for soldiers' wants. The purchaser can get more for the money, and the delivery is much more prompt and certain. We are prepared to extend this service immediately and shall be pleased to go into detail with all interested in the novel plan.

Adjectives Fail When It Comes to Telling of the New Silks!

Perhaps we can best state the facts by saying that our present display of Silks is the most wonderful showing we have ever made—in styles, qualities and colorings, we have eclipsed all former efforts. Under existing conditions it was more difficult than ever before to procure handsome, exclusive silks—but we got them, as we always do!

We want every women interested in Fall fashions to see this array of loveliness. Early selections are of course best, as many of the exclusive novelties shown cannot be duplicated later.

Silks for Street and Afternoon Wear

Among this class of silks the "Army and Navy" shades hold full sway. To women is at least accorded the privilege of wearing the same colors as our boys, and they find them most becoming. Every shade of blue that the soldiers and sailors wear is represented, from cadet and Joffre blue to the deepest navy of the sailor's garb. The grays offer almost as wide choice, from soft, light tones to dark battleship gray.

As a striking contrast to the more sombre colors are Flag red, La France red, currant and Bordeaux, vivid purple and deep, dark tones of purple. Other new shades equally in demand are Maryland brown, tete de Negre, castor, sand, Russian green and Paris bronze. And black of course in every wanted fabric.

For Evening Wear

There are soft, beautiful fabrics in such lovely tones as—

Twilight blue
American Beauty
Rose pink Flesh

Jade green
Ocean green
Golden yellow
Canary

French gray
Mist gray
Ivory
White

The slender silhouette of the season calls for soft "slinky" fabrics, and Fashion has responded with silks of an exquisite softness, yet of an unusual firmness of weave. Here are to be seen new—

Kid Skin Satin, Satin Charmelle, Satin Marchioness, Charmeuse, Satin Royale, Imperial Satin, Costume Satin, "Moon-Glo" Meteor, Imperial Chiffon Taffeta, Chiffon Failles, Meteors and Crepe de Chine.

Of plaids, stripes and brocades, in taffetas and satins, there is a remarkable diversity, and women will want these for smart blouses, separate skirts and coat linings.

Exclusive Patterns in Coat Linings

For lining furs and coats are handsome silks and satins in our own exclusive designs, as carefully chosen as other lines of silk in this section.

Beautiful Velvets

Army and navy tones predominate in the velvets as in the silks. The richness of the fabric gives an added beauty to these fashionable colors, and makes such velvets adapted for day and evening wear. For capes and scarfs are plenty of black plushes, expressly intended for the purpose.

Ask to see the beautiful new white buckskin satin and silk broadcloth, both of which will wash, and are most desirable for making smart collars and cuffs.
All these silks we bought at the right price, because we know where and how to buy.
They are offered to the women of Fort Wayne in the same way—we can help you plan your winter wardrobe economically.

MANY JOIN THE NAVY

List of Fort Wayne Boys Who Have Enlisted Within Last Few Days.

THERE IS PLENTY OF ROOM FOR OTHERS

Gus Lose Leaves Soon for Connecticut to Join Mosquito Fleet.

Alfred Remy, 20, a cook, enlisted in the naval service and was sent to Indianapolis for further examination Monday by Local Recruiting Officer A. G. Kaftan. Remy is a Swiss, having been in this country only a few years. He had, however, taken out his first papers and was eligible for service. James C. Townsend, 2010 Fairfield avenue, also left for Indianapolis today for examination. Townsend enlisted as a machinist in the aviation reserve class.

Other young men from this city who have left recently are Lawrence B. Hallenstein, 710 West Berry; George Leland Lord, 1019 De Graff; Adolph E. Strasser, 1315 Scott avenue; Guy R. Stout, Pontiac and Calhoun street.

There is plenty of room in the navy yet for men of the right class, according to Kaftan, and it is the wish of the recruiting officer that the idea that the navy is full be speedily dispelled.

Joins Mosquito Fleet.
Gus Lose, 810 Main street, a former student at Purdue university, will leave shortly for New London, Conn., to join the mosquito fleet. In the meanwhile Lose is spending a few days visiting at home.

Soldiers Pass Through.
Members of Company B of Angola and Company K of Auburn passed through Fort Wayne Monday morning at 8:40 o'clock on their way to Fort Benjamin Harrison.

Annual Banquet.
The annual "Old Boosters" club of the Fort Wayne recruiting station was Saturday evening at the Hotel Oliver at South Bend. The party motored back to this city Sunday.

Given Assignments.
Capt. Karl W. Detzer and Lieut. Peter Elson, both former newspaper men of this city, have been assigned to machine gun work at Camp Taylor, near Louisville, in the instruction of the new national army units in this branch of the service.

PLAN TOMORROW FOR FIRST SUBURBAN DAY

The Executive Committee to Meet—Police Will Co-Operate.

Tomorrow, the executive committee of the newly organized Fort Wayne Suburban Day Trade association will hold a meeting to make final arrangements for the first great Suburban Day—Wednesday, September 19. Interest in the plan is shown by many inquiries from other cities and towns and the farming communities, as well as from the people of Fort Wayne, many of whom are asking by what means they can best assist in making these Suburban days a marked success from the beginning.

Chief of Police Lenz has assured the association of his earnest co-operation to extend the glad hand to the hundreds of visitors who will come by automobile each Wednesday by giving emphatic instructions to the traffic policemen to use extreme care and consideration in directing and instructing visitors concerning the traffic ordinances. It appears that complaints of undiplomatic treatment of visitors has been made against traffic "cops" who, while striving to do their duty, have failed to take into consideration the feelings of strangers who are unfamiliar concerning Fort Wayne's traffic regulations.

The Suburban Day association has laid as one of the foundation stones of its plans the urging of people everywhere to patronize their home merchants to the full ability of the home merchant to fill the want. Fort Wayne asks patronage from out of town people only when the home merchant is unable to meet the need. The plan seeks to show the fallacy of the patronage of the mail order house and other agencies outside of the trade area of which Fort Wayne is the natural center.

MAINE IS VOTING ON SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT

Portland, Me., Sept. 10.—The voters of Maine went to the polls at a special election today to cast their ballots on the question of ratifying the constitutional amendment for woman suffrage submitted to the people by the last legislature. The Maine Equal Suffrage League and the Suffragist Referendum League of Maine have conducted an active campaign for the amendment. The opposing forces have been led by the Maine association opposed to suffrage for women. Leaders of both sides said they felt confident of victory.

CLAIM PRISONER IS HELD UNLAWFULLY

Habeas Corpus Petition Filed to Secure Release of Charles Spencer.

Claiming Charles Spencer, colored, 21 years old, is being held a prisoner at the county jail unlawfully and is being restrained of his liberty, W. A. Tarver filed a habeas corpus petition in the circuit court Monday morning in an effort to secure his release. The petition charges that Sheriff George Gillie is holding Spencer a prisoner by virtue of a warrant of commitment issued by Judge H. Waveland Kerr, in police court.

The petition sets out that Spencer was arrested on September 4, 1917, on the charge of loitering and on September 5 was taken before Judge Kerr, who found him guilty and committed him to the county jail under $200 bond, which he has been unable to furnish.

STAYS OUT TATE.
For That Reason Bernice Hamm Sues for Divorce From Lester Hamm.

Because her husband is out with his automobile on an average of five times a week as late as 1 and 2 o'clock a. m., Bernice Hamm, through her attorney, Ben F. Heaton, filed suit Monday in the superior court, asking for a divorce from Lester A. Hamm. Mr. and Mrs. Hamm were married on January 9, 1917, and separated one day last week. Mrs. Hamm charges her husband with refusing to provide a home for her and failure to support her. An order restraining him from disposing of his automobile and to restrain the General Electric company from paying him his wages, is also asked.

REFUSES TO WORK.

Declaring that her husband "refuses to work even when good positions are offered to him," Dona F. Penrod, Monday in superior court, filed suit asking for a divorce from Samuel J. Penrod. She is represented by Attorney John Albin. She charges him with being extremely abusive.

Mr. and Mrs. Penrod were married November 22, 1907, and have three children—Hugh, 8; Nora, 7; and Eugene, 3. Mrs. Penrod also has two children by a former marriage.

Sent to Girls' School.
Mary Frazier, a young girl who has caused the officers considerable trouble, was sentenced Saturday in the juvenile court to the Indiana Girls' school at Clay City. Her stepfather, A. Bennett, charged her with being extremely abusive.

Mr. and Mrs. Penrod were married November 22, 1907, and have three children—Hugh, 8; Nora, 7; and Eugene, 3. Mrs. Penrod also has two children by a former marriage.

Acquit Negro.
Earl Taylor, colored, charged with entering the home of C. F. Schaefgenacker, 530 Holman street, was acquitted in circuit court Saturday.

Visits Schools.
Trustee Allen Hamilton, of Wayne township, spent the greater portion of the day yesterday visiting the schools of the township and seeing to it that the work is started properly. Practically all the schools in the county with the exception of one township started Monday.

An Abusive Husband.
Mrs. E. B. Bare has filed suit in the superior court asking for a divorce from Heber M. Bare, whom she charges with failure to provide and extreme cruelty, especially to their three children. Mr. and Mrs. Bare were married on August 11, 1903, and separated August 17, 1917. Mrs. Bare recently had her husband arrested on a charge of neglecting his children. She is represented by Attorney Glenn A. Smiley.

Appraisal Filed.
Ben F. Heaton and E. W. Cook, appraisers of the late Justin N. Study, have filed an appraisal of the same, which shows cash deposits in bank of $1,496.70 and one Scottish-Rite cathedral bond, $50.

MAYOR CONDITIONS FOR ANOTHER FIGHT

Preparing to Make Stubborn Battle Against Tank Infringement.

Mayor W. J. Hosey is not allowing his ideas of public safety to be put to rout by the "tanks" of the Sinclair Oil company. He is carefully preparing arguments against the latest council measure, which allows the company to place several large gasoline containers within the city limits, with apparent intention of vetoing the council ordinance.

The fact that large tank cars would have to be sidetracked inside the city and would stand on the Wabash railroad siding while the explosive liquid is being transferred from the freight cars to the underground tanks is a fact, says the mayor. If all storage tanks are kept outside the city there will not be the added danger of halting railroad tank cars in Fort Wayne, the mayor says.

"I have found that the recent council vote was in a slight measure due to the fact that the present situation of the General Electric works was held to be uncertain," said the mayor. "It was thought by a few people that the present storage of oil by the General Electric company might be held illegal. The situation at the electric works is entirely different. The oil stored there is for consumption and not wholesale disposal. The oil kept at the electric works is for transformers and oil switches and is inflammable in a low degree. The two situations are not parallel."

MORE PIGGERY MATTER.
Dr. J. H. Gilpin Tells Mayor of Camp Garbage Disposal.

Success of the pork forming method of garbage disposal at Fort Benjamin Harrison and at Lansing, Mich., are being pointed to by Mayor W. J. Hosey, who states that Fort Wayne will yet see the time when a piggery is held to be the most practical way of caring for city waste.

Dr. J. H. Gilpin, city health board secretary, who was told by the mayor that Fort Wayne will yet see the time when a piggery is held to be the most practical way of caring for city waste.

HAVE 16,000 VOTERS.
Little Hope of Getting Full Quota for City Election.

Nearly 16,000 men and women have registered for the coming city election, the latest count of the registration clerks shows. The number is more than 14,000 below the quota of the city for the ballot contest. Election officers have small hopes of reaching within 5,000 of the best possible enrollment for the election.

Places where registrations will be taken on Monday, both day and evening, are:
F. W. Stethorn drug store, 1028 High, corner St. Mary's.
William C. Gerding drug store, 2633 Anthony boulevard, corner Pontiac.
Bellamy News stand, corner Calhoun and Pontiac.
Wildwood drug store, 3004 South Wayne.

He will talk upon the subject of "Street Lighting," in which field the local man is considered to be an authority.

WHO WILL HEAD CITY SCHOOLS, GRAVE TOPIC

Board Will Not Attempt to Act on Matter at First Session.

The most serious question which the Fort Wayne school board has faced in several years is that of "Who is to take the position of city school head, which position was made vacant by the death of Prof. Justin N. Study?" School board members admit that they have no idea how the problem is to be solved. The officials are sure of one thing and that is that they are in no hurry about filling the place.

The new superintendent will not be named at the first regular meeting of the board since the schools opened, which session will be held Monday afternoon. Probably the matter will be talked about, if time allows after bills are allowed and other topics disposed of.

There is a list of applicants for the position as Fort Wayne school superintendent which would bewilder any group of men, school board members say. These out-of-town applications have not been previously considered as yet. Two men in the Fort Wayne schools at present are named prominently for the place.

"We have no more idea than you outsiders who will get the place," said E. W. Cook, member of the school board, Monday morning. "The schools are starting off nicely and we will be in no great hurry to fill the position. Prof. Study set a high standard for the Fort Wayne schools and we feel that we must consider his successor with the greatest care."

BOY SCOUT CAMPAIGN TO BEGIN TOMORROW

One Hundred Business Men to Have Charge of the Fund-Raising.

The three day fund raising campaign for the Boy Scouts will have its beginning tonight when a group of business and professional men will assemble for a dinner at the Anthony. The canvass for funds will begin in earnest Tuesday morning. On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday the workers will meet for conference at lunch at noon at the Commercial club.

The one hundred business men who will make the canvass are divided into ten teams, captained as follows: 1. Maurice C. Niezer; 2. Sam W. Greenland; 3. Albert E. Thomas; 4. Charles E. Pask; 5. D. F. Waterfield; 6. Robert Koerber; 7. S. A. Callahan; 8. E. A. Crane; 9. John C. Hoffman; 10. E. A. Wagner.

At the dinner tonight speakers will explain in detail the need and the manner in which the $10,000 fund will be expended during the coming three years to keep the work going in Fort Wayne and making 1,500 young lads into real scouts.

Yesterday, from the pulpits of most of the city churches, pastors of all denominations spoke enthusiastically of the movement and urged their people to give it their moral and financial support.

Organized labor is strongly back of the movement as is shown by the following resolution adopted at the March session of the Federation of Labor:

"Whereas, the Boy Scouts of America, through its national body in New York, teaches the youth of our country the principles of self-reliance, respect for old age and their fellow men; reverence to God; humane treatment of all animal and bird life; courtesy; thrift; trustworthiness; loyalty to parents, home and country; co-operation—in that no man is independent of his fellows—and other fundamental principles that go to make the boy of today the desirable man of tomorrow, therefore, be it

Resolved, that the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor does most heartily endorse the Boy Scout movement as promulgated by the troops already in Fort Wayne and those to be formed under the jurisdiction of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America, and that this federation offers its full moral support to the Boy Scout movement."

BREAKS HIS BACK IN "GIANT SWING"

Athletic Conscript Has Lived Two Days and May Survive.

Casimir Lutinski, 1307 Hayden street, employed at the Bass foundry, has lived for two days with a broken back and may survive the injury. His condition remains critical. He is being cared for in the St. Joseph hospital, from where word of his death has been expected by physicians of the city since Sunday.

Lutinski was performing the "giant swing," a difficult athletic feat, at a taut wire, at the rear of his rooming house, Sunday morning. His hold slipped and he fell on his head. He lay unconscious. His friends thought he was killed. Later he showed signs of life and was removed to the St. Joseph hospital. Examination revealed that the man, who is a native of Poland, had broken his back, between the shoulder blades. He was expected to die at any minute. But he has worn out two days and now has a fighting chance for recovery, says Dr. J. E. McArdle, who is attending the case.

The injured man was a conscript subject from the first city district. His name was well down the list of those to be called for the national army.

BREAKING UP PARADE STARTS MINE STRIKE

Five Thousand Miners at Springfield Display Resentment.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 10.—Five thousand coal miners representing seventeen mines in the vicinity of Springfield, refused to go to work this morning because of the action of military authorities here in breaking up a parade of labor unionists intended as a demonstration in support of the striking street car constitutional rights of assemblage and free speech were denied by armed troops. Whether the strike is to be prolonged could not be determined because it was not authorized by meetings of miners' locals. President Frank Farrington, of the United Mine Workers of Illinois, who is in Washington, was notified of the strike.

THE LADIES' SOCIETY OF DEBOLAH REBECCAH LODGE will meet on Wednesday, Sept. 11, at 8 o'clock with Mrs. J. Gable, 421 East Pontiac street.

MAY BE NO BALL IN CENTRAL CIRCUIT UNLESS PEACE COMES

Prospects for 1918 Look Gloomy to Club Owners.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 10.—With Bill Essick's Grand Rapids team the pennant winner, the Central league closed its 1917 season. Although one of the greatest races the circuit has ever seen developed during the season, only one club of the league made money and that team, Peoria, was not in the league when the season started. The other cities, including South Bend, which was dropped for Peoria, were heavy losers.

While there is bound to be talk of a revival in 1918, with a rearranged circuit, it's almost a cinch the lesson learned by the club owners this season will not soon be forgotten. The war, too, will have its effect on plans for another year. At least five club owners have declared they are through until the great war is over.

Not a Player Sold. Possible drafts by major league teams may enable some of the teams to come close to breaking even on the season, but not a single player of the league has been purchased outright to date. Pitcher Wachtel, of Muskegon, who was reported sold to Brooklyn for $2,500, hasn't been sold after all, and it now develops the Dodgers do not want him.

Catcher Harry Smith, of Fort Wayne, who was expected to sign with Brooklyn, has been grabbed by Cincinnati for a trial. American association teams will give several players of the league trials, among them Shortstop Cavency, of Springfield; Pitchers Willis and Hoffman, and Catcher O'Farrell, of Peoria, all of whom will get trials with Joe Tinker's Columbus team. Pitcher Jess Haines and Outfielder Walker, of Springfield, already have joined the Detroit Tigers, who held options on them.

Major league scouts are expected to be hovering in the vicinity of Peoria, Ill., for the next five days. The special series between the Peoria club, champion of the Three-league, and Grand Rapids Central league winner, will continue until one club has won four games. Regular world series rules are to prevail for the series, with the winners taking 60 per cent of the players' share of the receipts and the losers 40. The Peoria club is practically intact for the series, while Grand Rapids will be minus the services of Shortstop Harry Brant and Second Baseman George Carey, who were injured toward the close of the season.

Fort Wayne Officially Last.

Owing to the fact that some dispute has arisen over the positions occupied by Dayton and Fort Wayne in the windup of the Central league race, the official standing given out by the secretary of the league is printed herewith. Dayton's percentage is one point higher than Fort Wayne's. The standing follows:

PACES NEW FIVE MILE RECORD SATURDAY.

Quebec, Sept. 10.—A new world's harness record for a five mile race was established here on Saturday at the closing of the Quebec exhibition harness meeting when Marcel needed ten rounds of the half mile track in 12 minutes and 23 seconds.

The record standing for five miles up to then was 12:24, made in 1902 by Zombar.

CHICAGO WHITE SOX ARRIVE TOMORROW

Everything Ready for Game With Local Baseball Stars.

The game with the Chicago White Sox to be played by an all-star cast of Fort Wayne baseball celebrities at League park tomorrow has set the local baseball fans on edge for what promises to be an opportunity to see real major league baseball as played by prospective world champions. The advance ticket sale has been heavy and the local promoters of the game are feeling optimistic. It will be the banner event of the baseball year in Fort Wayne.

Assurance has been given by Manager Rowland, of the Pale Hose, that it will be his regular lineup that will be sent against Fort Wayne except for possibly Catcher Schalk, whom Rowland wishes to save for the all important games yet on the Sox schedule and the world series if the Sox get into it.

Regular prices will prevail for the game, according to the management, and in case the game is called off on account of rain or not played for any reason, all money will be refunded by the local promoters. Butler, Ind., the home of Liebold, the Chicago Sox famous shortstop, will send a big delegation here to witness the game.

THE PARADOX OF BASEBALL—FRED MERKLE, FORMER GIANT, NOW ON TEAM HE ONCE HOPED TO BEAT IN PENNANT FIGHT.

Baseball, like any other sport, must have little jokes. This time the victim is Fred Merkle, first baseman of second base fame. The fates have decreed to put Fred in a somewhat paradoxical situation and laugh at him.

Veteran fans will remember when Merkle made the bone that made him famous, in 1908, he vowed to wreak vengeance on the club that caused his team's downfall. So far as Johnny Evers is concerned, and he had most to do with Merkle's sudden leap to renown, Fred's vow has been fulfilled.

For Fred now is trying to fill the gap Evers left when he quit the Cubs. But what makes Merkle's position severe is his enforced rest with the unsuccessful Cubs during a series in which he had hoped to have a hand.

Merkle was so at Chicago fans and everything that smacked of the Smoky city, after the Cubs took the pennant from the Giants by a play-off. Now, as fate would have it, he's there playing with the Cubs, and destined to watch one of the most severe world series battles in history.

Fred even now can't have a hand in licking Chicago—whether it's the White Sox or the fans, he doesn't care, although he'd much prefer showing up the latter. He would be able to put up a good fight today if he were with the Giants, for his batting and fielding has not been lowered to a marked degree. He has shown better judgment and greater skill in batting this year than last, although in former years he has exceeded his present standing.

In 1915, when with the Giants, Merkle finished sixth in batting and his fielding averaged .989. In 1908, the year of his fame, he batted .268 for the eighteen games he played. He had come to the Giants only the year before from Tecumseh, Mich.

Merkle still has the hope of rejoining the Giants and beating the Cubs, the team he plays with now, to the pennant.

MYER'S TEAM WINS FROM LINCOLN LIFERS

First of the Big City Series Goes to the New Club.

Two runs in the ninth inning gave the first game of the three game series for the championship of Fort Wayne to Bader Myers' newly organized club by a score of 3 to 2. It was a thrilling ninth inning rally, the find the one reads about in books, that did the work and sent the Lincoln Lifers to defeat and gave one of the championship contests to the Cubs.

The score stood 2 to 1 in the ninth with one Cub batter gone when Laird singled and Lieble followed his predecessor's example. Hoffer's out at first gave both runners a base. Dietrich demonstrated to the satisfaction of the rooters pulled for the Cubs that he was a pinch hitter when he delivered a clean blow which scored two and won the game. The Lincoln Lifers could not score in the half of the ninth and the game ended.

Good pitching by Ostermeier and Dietrich both featured.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Sox Get Easy One.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Empire Owens forfeited yesterday's game here to Chicago in the tenth inning when the score was 3 to 3 because of the dilatory tactics of the Cleveland players. The forfeit gave Chicago a lead of seven games over Boston in the race for the pennant in the American league. Cleveland players protested a decision in the tenth and took out ten minutes arguing the question. Catcher O'Neil, of Cleveland, deliberately threw the ball into the field and the umpire called the game off. Score: Cleveland..... 1 0 0 0 2 0 0 0—3 Chicago..... 2 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—3

ACCIDENT KEEPS TWO BOYS OUT OF THE AUTO RACES

Indianapolis Pair Develop Engine Trouble Upon Arrival.

Jimmy Ingles and Willie Groff, of Indianapolis, en route from Indianapolis to Fort Wayne yesterday to enter the big auto derby with their special built Maxwell, developed engine trouble just upon their arrival in the city and were unable to proceed to the track.

Ingles, who is a tackle on the Indiana University football team, having made his "17" last year, is widely known as an athlete over the state. Groff has driven in a great many races and would have likely given some of the drivers on the track in Sunday's races some keen competition.

SPORT CHATTER

Now is when big league managers shake in their boots, for fear the bush leagues will take their nines in exhibition games. If they stop awarding medals as athletes prizes, some athletes will have to go to war and win them that way.

There are other sports besides baseball, but we just can't think of them while the Giants and White Sox are fighting to get at each other.

To speed up American league ball games Ban Johnson ought to encourage the shine ball instead of ruling it out.

Swimmers seem to last longer than any other athletes. Is this another argument for bathing?

The idea of giving dogs cash prizes must have been cooked up just to rattle human medal winners.

CAPRON RETURNS.

Local Attorney Says Conditions in Mexico Are Appalling.

Attorney John C. Capron, who has returned from a trip to Mexico, declares that conditions in that country are most appalling. However, he says, the attitude of the people towards the United States has changed. While there is no difference in their personal dislikes the fact that the United States is raising an army of millions of men has made a profound impression.

Mr. Capron stated that an armored train with escort of barefooted soldiers in ragged uniforms met the train on which he was riding. Telegraph poles and trees within sight of the car windows were decorated with human forms swinging by the neck, for when the soldiers of Carranza catch brigands they string them up. The same is true when the brigands catch Carranza soldiers.

AUTO RACING PROVES AN EXCITING SPORT TO 12,000 LOCAL FANS

Record Crowd Jams Centlivre Park to Witness Fast Driving.

Despite the fact that but poor facilities were offered for the holding of a pretentious auto race meet, the first big derby in Fort Wayne was run off smoothly and to the liking of a crowd of race enthusiasts estimated at 12,000. No accident of serious consequences, nor a single disagreeable feature marred the afternoon of sport. M. H. Karnes, who acted as official starter, expressed himself as being extremely well pleased with the way Fort Wayne had responded to what he regarded as an attempt to give them a good run for their money.

Dale Armentrout in his Duesenberg, was the scintillating star of the meet. He had little difficulty in capturing every race that he was entered in, being defeated only once, and that in the time trials for one mile by Ralph Ormsby in a Hudson. In this event which was from a standing start, it was demonstrated that on the small track it was impossible for one car to pass another in so short a distance as one mile. Ormsby, however, deserves credit for winning the race, and showed that he had the nerve by his driving in the following races. He forced Armentrout to go the limit in the ten mile professional race and had it not been for engine trouble he might have made a better showing in the five mile race.

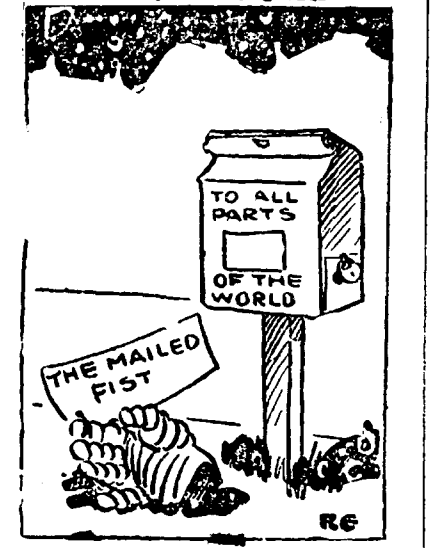

One accident, which did not prove serious in any way and had no tendency to mar the day's sport, occurred when Ben Lawell, of Columbus, O., driving a special built sixteen-valve motor Ford, broke a connecting rod on the steering rod. He went into the fence on the southeast turn but was able to slow his car down considerably and he escaped uninjured himself and only little damage resulted to his car. The only "fatality" of the day was when a little black and tan dog pushed its way through the crowds surrounding the track and got in front of one of the fast flying cars. It might have caused a serious accident to the men in the car except for careful handling. The dog never knew what hit it.

The results of the various events follow: One mile time trials, purse $500—Ormsby in a Hudson, first; Armentrout, Duesenberg, second; Dawson, Maxwell, third. Time—1:09. Special match race for side bet $500—Armentrout in Duesenberg beat Rudy, in Lightning Comet (five miles). Time—6:27. Five mile professional—Armentrout, Duesenberg, first; Lawell, special Ford; second; Dawson, Maxwell, third. Time—6:10. Ten mile professional race, purse $1,500—Armentrout, Duesenberg, first; Ormsby, Hudson, second; Rudy, in Lightning Comet, third. Time—12:23. Ten mile amateur race—Hinkle, Buick, first; Maxwell, Ormsby, second; Chevrolet, Brown, third. Time—13:03.

KERENSKY IS NEITHER A MAN WITH ONE FOOT IN GRAVE NOR THE DICTATOR—SAVIOUR OF RUSSIA

BY CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL
(Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

Every day I am asked to tell something about Kerensky, the "dictator," the "man of blood and iron," the "ruler of Russia," and supposed holder of a raft of other titles the foolish or the reactionary have made for him.

The great question seems to be about his health. He is supposed to be running a race between death and a position as the "Napoleon of Russia," death having the inside track and being likely to win.

The universal belief in this "blood and iron" fantasy is one of the most interesting examples I have ever known of the possibilities of the fake when it takes the form of a pleasing dream.

Kerensky is about as much a man of "blood and iron" as he is of pumpkin rinds and Jimson weeds. He is about as much a "dictator" of Russia as you are.

Nevertheless, since the world is determined to have him the "man of the hour" in Russian affairs, ladies and gentlemen know Mr. Kerensky, present prime minister of Russia.

He is about 40, rather well set up, about 5 feet 8 inches in height, clean shaven, thin-lipped, blue-eyed. He has a very good head, but you would know instantly it was not the head of an American, because it is so much up and down instead of fore and aft. He has rather lightish brown hair, cut short and rising straight from his head. He has square shoulders, much grace of bearing and an excellent poise for his particular job, which is oratory. But in private conversation he has something of Grover Cleveland's habit of not looking much at the person with whom he is talking, a trick that in Cleveland's case produces a certain impression of shyness.

Except when he gets started on one of his extraordinary flights of eloquence he is one of the most reticent of men. It is hard to draw him out on any ordinary topic and still harder to judge what he really thinks about it unless he gets interested and sits up to take notice of his surroundings. Then his blue eyes betray him. But at that he will never be a prize-winner at conversation, having too much of a fondness for words of one syllable and only a few of those.

He is an old-time revolutionist and tasted all the bitterness that the old regime handed out to me of his faith. He is a socialist, but that is no distinction in Russia; nine-tenths of the people are socialists.

He is also an idealist and at the beginning of the revolution was as dreamy as any. He, too, had this notion that the downfall of autocracy in Russia sounded Gabriel's big horn for the Earthly Paradise.

There were to be no more divisions among men, and, of course, there were to be no more wars. UNIVERSAL BROTHERHOOD HAD ARRIVED ON THE MIDNIGHT TRAIN. Everybody was to love everybody else; the lion was to lie down and the lamb was to cease to be chope for him.

It was a fine, good feeling and one that reflects great credit on the Russian people. They had joy themselves and they wanted all the neighbors to come in and have some.

There were two men in Russia that never for a moment allowed their enthusiasm to distort their knowledge of the world as it really is with Germany in it.

One was Prince Kropotkin, the old-time philosopher and revolutionist, whose daring escape from the fortress of Peter and Paul is one of the most stirring chapters in the imperishable history of Russian democracy, and the other was Platonoff, who first unfurled the red flag of revolution in the Nevsky Prospekt, the great thoroughfare of Petrograd.

These elderly warriors in the long fight, continually warned their countrymen that so long as German autocracy remained in the world unbroken there was no chance for democracy either in Russia or in any other place.

I heard Prince Kropotkin speak on this subject one Sunday afternoon in Nordny Dom, great people's palace of Petrograd, and his logic was like an avalanche rushing down a Swiss mountainside. It swept all before it.

Kropotkin and Platonoff steadily insisted that the first duty of the new democracy in Russia was to give to the other democracies of the world all possible help in the life and death struggle against autocracy. The revolution was only a few weeks old when Kerensky came out of his trance and saw that these men were right. He has not wavered since from that conviction, which has grown steadily among all Russian people who think.

He is a good parliamentarian, but not so good as Tseretelli, the silent man of Russia, nor as Tschaldse, the resourceful chairman of the national council. These two, in my judgment, have no superiors in any parliamentary body of the world. I have seen Tschaldse steer the council so swiftly and skillfully around perilous shoals and through difficult straits that he made all the other presiding officers of my acquaintance seem bunglers. He was like old Hank Haft, the prince of Nantucket skippers. He knew instinctively in advance every change in wind and weather and had everything ready for it.

But Kerensky is pretty good at that sort of thing. The time the council was about to split over the anarchists' demonstration and was saved by his clever piece of parliamentary maneuvering as ever was pulled off, the credit for the scheme, I was told, belonged to him as much as to Tseretelli and Tschaldse.

As to his health and this dream stuff about the race between death and a Napoleon stunt—I don't see anything in that. I suppose it may be possible for a man to be very sick and to give every indication of being very well, but I don't believe it. Mr. Kerensky, it is true, has no ruddy color in his face and is obviously not a husky. But his eye is perfectly clear and good, his step is quick and firm, his voice has the ring of health, his hand clasp is the grip of a man of vigor, and when he is launched upon one of his amazing speeches I can assure you the only impression you get from him is of power and heat.

The picture of an invalid with one foot in the grave and yet doing these oratorical feats was, of course, very taking, and a good story, but it seems to be chiefly a pipe.

Not as big a pipe, however, as the other idea that he will "rule Russia." Nobody will do that but just Russia herself.

One was Prince Kropotkin, the old-time philosopher and revolutionist, whose daring escape from the fortress of Peter and Paul is one of the most stirring chapters in the imperishable history of Russian democracy, and the other was Platonoff, who first unfurled the red flag of revolution in the Nevsky Prospekt, the great thoroughfare of Petrograd.

These elderly warriors in the long fight, continually warned their countrymen that so long as German autocracy remained in the world unbroken there was no chance for democracy either in Russia or in any other place.

Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. W. J. HESS WILL BUILD IN SOUTH WOOD PARK.
One visit to South Wood Park appears to have convinced Deputy Postmaster William J. Hess that the new south side subdivision is a splendid place to establish a home. He has purchased two handsome wooded lots with a combined frontage of ninety feet facing Indiana avenue, south of the junction with Pembroke Lane. "You may say," said he, "that we think South Wood Park is an ideal place to live and we plan to build there as soon as we can arrange for it." The transaction was handled by F. W. Smitley, acting for Hilgeman & Schaff.

PLAN OF DRIVE-WAYS A DELIGHT TO ALL

The artistic plan of the drives in South Wood Park brings enthusiastic comment from the hundreds who are now becoming acquainted with the new subdivision. The arrangement of the streets is made clear to the visitor by the placing of low, white "fences," while the use of fences of another color enable the visitor not only to determine the exact form of the parkways but also the size and shape of each lot. By observing the placards, the visitor can also ascertain whether or not a lot has been sold. In fact, South Wood Park, although of broad area, is easily understood by the visitor.

E. J. HIGGINS BUYS IN SOUTH WOOD PARK

Edward J. Higgins, of 810 Wildwood avenue, assistant manager of the Independent Cooperage Co., has selected a tree-covered lot on Indiana avenue in Section A, South Wood Park. Mr. Higgins plans to build on the property in the near future. Carl J. Getz, acting for Hilgeman & Schaff, handled the transaction.

Peace Situation in Germany. A high official authority gave the Associated Press today the following statement of the situation in Germany as regards peace conference:

"There is no doubt that the German government is anxious to get out of the war at the earliest possible moment on any terms which will insure them against revolution at home and national collapse.

"Great numbers of people in Germany today would welcome a peace on a status quo basis, this meaning practically a draw, in which no belligerent would occupy any territory beyond that which it possessed in July, 1914, and in which, moreover, each side would bear its losses incurred during the course of the war. But it is impossible to say how far this view has spread among the German proletariat because naturally where it exists it has had small opportunity of public expression.

"It is obvious that if the German people ultimately come to accept a net loss of territory as inevitable they must pass to that frame of mind through the intermediate stage of a willingness to accept a status quo peace. If the war continues to go against Germany, the test will be to conclude such a peace will certainly be made as soon as the pressure reaches a certain point.

America Alters Situation. "Since Germany's so-called peace offer a year ago, the continued pressure of the entente and the entry of the United States has completely changed the situation.

"The question is now in fact, not what are the war aims which Germany will impose before she grants peace, but what terms she herself will be willing to accept. That is a very simple statement of the greatest fact in the war situation today.

"The entry of the United States and many of the South American republics has put economic matters into the foreground. The German government must obviously view with extreme apprehension to the situation at home in the months immediately succeeding the declaration of peace. The physical exhaustion of the people and of the country, combined with the want of food, which cannot be immediately remedied, and the want of raw material for starting manufactures will create a most serious situation. If when the troops come back from the front, it is not possible immediately to start again the industrial life of the country and provide food and work, there would inevitably be a very dangerous revolutionary movement.

Would Prefer Civil War. "This would be started by the minority socialists and if Germany comes out of the war without a definite increase of strength and prestige in some form or another, the influence of the government on the middle classes will be so much weakened that it will be impossible any longer to depend on their active support against a revolutionary movement. The Prussian military and agrarian party remains as firm and uncompromising in domestic as in foreign affairs as ever and many of them would rather see a transfer of civil war to any surrender which would deprive them of the political power which they regard as their right.

"For this reason, that which the German government will most seek for in any peace arrangement is security that as soon as the war is over there shall be a free flow of food and raw material into the country and at the same time free markets for German products. If this could be secured, the energy of the people could be at once directed to the restoration of the commerce and industry and these interests are so concerned that they would be turned away from dangerous political considerations.

EARLY FALL

Indiana and Illinois tonight, but whether it will have much of a force with him was not known.

Farmers say that heavy or continued frosts at this time will do much damage to corn and other crops, which have not yet matured.

Early morning rains in Indianapolis had a taste of winter this morning and straw hats were the exception on the early street cars. The weather bureau said the mercury had dropped to 48 degrees below zero at 7 a. m. and the weather forecast is "fair and continued cool tonight and Tuesday."

and rights of the citizens won by the revolution.

"I therefore, for the maintenance in the country, of liberty and public order, am taking all measures, which I shall announce at the proper moment, to the people.

"At the same time I order Gen. Korniloff to hand over his functions to Gen. Klembovsky, commander-in-chief of the armies on the northern front, which bar the way to Petrograd and I order General Klembovsky to assume provisionally the functions of generalissimo, while remaining at Pskov.

"Secondly, I declare a state of war in the town and district of Petrograd. I appeal to all citizens to remain calm, maintaining the order necessary for the welfare of the fatherland

When M. Lvoff saw Premier Kerensky on Saturday and presented General Korniloff's demands, it developed today, he told the premier that an organization of duma members, Moscow industrial interests and other conservative forces who played the role of the opposition at the recent Moscow conference, were supporting General Korniloff, and the army and navy, and tranquilly and faithfully fulfill their duty in the defense of the fatherland against the foreign enemy."

GRAVEST OF EVENTS.

Petrograd, Sunday, Sept. 9.—Eleven cabinet ministers have been in continuous session in the winter palace today considering measures to face General Korniloff's revolt, which, in conversations with the Associated Press correspondent, the ministers admit is the gravest event since the revolution.

So far, except for the deposition of General Korniloff, which the general is apparently determined to defy, no measures have been decided upon, but the discussion is proceeding on a plan to constitute a directory of five men with full power. The names so far submitted for membership in this body are Premier Kerensky, Vice Premier Nekrasoff, M. Skoloff, the minister of labor, M. Trestchenko, the minister of foreign affairs, and M. Savinkoff, the assistant minister of war.

In a talk with the correspondent Foreign Minister Trestchenko said: "The plan for the directory is under discussion and may be decided tonight. So far the government is unable to make any statement. At 12 o'clock we expect the arrival of General Alexeff, with whom we will confer. My personal opinion is that General Korniloff's revolt is not dangerous and is partly due to a misunderstanding which will be cleared up."

Regarding the rumors of widespread arrests in Petrograd today in connection with the revolt, the Associated Press correspondent is unable to say whether or not arrests have yet been made by order of the government, although there may have been some by the judicial authorities under the ordinary process of law.

Oppose Military Rigors.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Russian embassy officials believed the resignation of General Korniloff was forced by elements of the council of workmen and soldiers' delegates opposed to enforcement of the death penalty for mutinous soldiers and that Gen. Klembovsky, the new commander, will modify the death penalty order. The Russian government would not accept the resignation of the general and soldiers in the Kerensky cabinet, it was pointed out, have been dissatisfied with the stringent measures adopted to restore the Russian army to discipline, fearing the power might menace the new democratic ideals of the republic. They insisted that a less drastic disciplinary code would receive more whole-hearted support of the army and consequently would be more effective. The embassy had not received official news of Gen. Korniloff's removal.

A BELATED BIT OF CHEER.

Petrograd, Sept. 8.—(Delayed.)—The members of the special American Red Cross mission to Russia, eight of whom are on the eve of departure for home, gave a dinner tonight to Ambassador Frances, members of the embassy staff and the military and naval attaches. Charles J. Vopicka, American minister to Rumania, Serbia and Bulgaria; Henry Watkins Anderson, chairman, and Dr. Francis W. Peabody, a member of the Red Cross mission to Rumania, were also guests at the dinner. Other guests were American residents of Petrograd.

The members of the American Red Cross mission to Rumania arrived here today, leaving a majority of the party at Moscow, where they will return on Monday en route to their destination. Of the Russian mission, Dr. Frank Billings of Chicago, Dr. George C. Whipple of Harvard, Professor Henry Sherman of Columbia university, Harold H. Sift, of Chicago, Dr. Wilbur E. Post of Chicago, William C. Nichols and Major Malcolm Grow, U. S. A., and two orderlies will leave for home on Tuesday night. At the dinner Dr. Billings, head of the medical section of the mission, expressed satisfaction at the work accomplished and declared that the mission "put the Red Cross on the Russian map."

Dr. Billings said that he was going home to emphasize the message already transmitted to America that the Russian people are worthy of all the assistance that America can give them.

The Americans are leaving a permanent Red Cross unit here in charge of Raymond Robins, of Chicago, in addition to being in charge of the headquarters here. Robins will supervise the four chief Russian relief organizations and will be in direct contact with the Russian army in the field. One of the chief recommendations of the commission is that American ambulance corps be sent to Russia at once for service at the front.

sion of the department had been made public.

TWO AMAZED TO BELIEVE.

Buenos Aires, Sept. 10.—Argentine officials, according to newspaper accounts today, are still unable to believe that the dispatches sent to Berlin through the Swedish legation here were accurately translated. The foreign office early today said that it was without official advice from Ambassador Naon or American Ambassador Stimson. Newspapers and officials generally believe that the government will demand the recall of Count Luxburg, German charge at Buenos Aires, but a rupture in diplomatic relations with Germany is not anticipated at present, the Argentine government preferring, it is said, to consider the affair a personal one between the German and Swedish representatives here.

La Epoca, the recognized mouthpiece of President Riggen's party says: "These documents show discourtesy and duplicity so great that we were unable at first to believe such practices possible by such men. We must conclude, regardless of such unimpeachable sources of information, that we did not believe possible such monstrous deceit, which is so exceptional in these times when diplomatic customs have acquired a spirit of sincerity and frankness. Before such stupendous duplicity calm perplexity is possible and it is impossible to believe that a nation calling itself

our friend (we refer principally to Sweden, Germany's methods being already doubtful) could observe such conduct without any cause for a grudge against us at the present moment with its terrible event reawakening the worst instincts we thought forever dead."

"Although unable to foretell what action the government will take, it is certain that it will take energetic measures to assure the dignity of the nation's highest officials, who are thus insulted in an unprecedented manner, despite their best efforts to treat Germany with dignity during the delicate situations arising through the tramping under foot of the American flag."

La Nacion, in its issue today, declares that it is absolutely necessary that both the German and Swedish ministers leave the country immediately.

BRITISH PRESS COMMENT.

London, Sept. 10.—The Daily Mail, in an editorial, congratulates the American intelligence service on "the second great exploitation of this year," and says:

"A blacker piece of diplomacy on Germany's part never was exposed, while on Sweden's part an offense against neutrality and against every decency of international intercourse, deliberate and desperate, was revealed. It can only be realized when we recall that Sweden has herself suffered from such outrages as she is assisting Germany to inflict upon Argentina."

"Such conduct combines maximum duplicity with maximum treachery and we are confident that every Swede promptly will resent as a cruel stain upon national honor, and every Argentine as a gross insult to the honor of a friendly nation, the government that juggled the country in a position so basely dishonorable."

"As matters stand, the allies have every excuse for treating Sweden as a country that has gone over to the enemy. We are confident, however, that no allied government wishes to declare a Swedish attitude to be a declaration of war for the criminal acts of their rulers. But the allies, and especially the United States, have a sharp weapon in their hands in the form of blockade."

All Denounce It.

All the London newspapers in their editorials similarly denounce the measured language of Germany's action as revealed in the Swedish disclosures. The Daily News under the caption of "The Latest Perfidy" says:

"It is impossible to foresee what effect the astonishing revelations will have on the general course of the war. If further evidence of the cynical brutality with which Germany fights, it is surely here. Among the ruffians to whom the German public service appears to offer refuge in such numbers, Count Luxburg, German charge of affairs in Argentina, is entitled to a very prominent place."

"Trusting we shall think it is scarcely credible that Argentine public opinion, even if the Argentine government were willing, will tolerate a continuance of friendly relations with Germany."

Foreign Office Guilty.

Commenting on the Swedish-Argentine disclosures, the Manchester Guardian assumes that the Swedish foreign office knew the contents of the cipher messages. It would be fairly easy for it to learn them, the newspaper declares, as it points out that what could be decided by the employees of the United States embassy could be decided by employees of the Swedish government.

"But even if it did not," says the Guardian, "its responsibility is not less great. It gave a blank cheque which could be and was, in fact used by one belligerent against other belligerents and neutrals."

The Guardian continues that the Swedish foreign office made itself a party to the crime of planning the murder of Argentine seamen and the sinking of Argentine ships.

The Guardian assumes that the Swedish people knew nothing of the transactions and will hasten the necessary measures to clear themselves of the stain their government has put on Sweden's good name. The newspaper also expresses belief that the Argentine people may be trusted to make proper reply to this German conspiracy.

NO ADVICES IN LONDON.

London, Sept. 10.—Count Wrangel, the Swedish minister at London, arrived at the Swedish legation early this morning prepared to give to the British foreign office a letter of introduction. The minister told the Associated Press that he had no advice regarding the Argentine affair and had "nothing whatever to say about the matter."

The count indicated, however, that he might have some announcement to make later. The Argentine minister is out of the city and is not expected to return until Wednesday.

BATTERY D AT GARDEN CITY

made without accident of any kind and all of the men are well.

It was a noisy greeting which New York gave the Hoosier soldiers, halting here for a time before going overseas. As their train in four sections, wended its way over the long route through the city, whistles of hundreds of small boats, of scores of freight and passenger trains and of countless factories and mills shrieked their recognition to these volunteers in Uncle Sam's great army of democracy and liberty.

Thousands of cheering soldiers, it would be folly to estimate how many thousands of persons waved their greetings as the train passed through the city and out on Long Island to Garden City. New York knows that troops arriving here are soon to go to the battle line, and it looks on the soldiers with an affection that the service they are about to render their country.

An interesting scene was witnessed this afternoon when the Indiana artillerymen touched the hands of several hundred sailors of the navy. The Indiana men were in four sections, stalled about five miles out from camp, when on a parallel track passed a train bearing several hundred of the blue-jackets. Both the soldiers and sailors extended their hands from the car windows and touched each other's finger tips as the navy men's train whizzed by. The soldiers greatly interested the Hoosier soldiers, since it is the job of the navy to protect the troops crossing the Atlantic.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY'S WAR NEWS

heavy concentrations of fresh troops they have been able to keep the Italians from achieving the notable success which completion of the capture of the mountain would constitute. The Italians have captured 145 guns from the Austrians since the beginning of this offensive.

General Petain's troops last night climbed the summit of the mountain of Verdun on Saturday when they pushed their lines ahead materially in the Fosse and Carrières wood sector. The Germans were obliged to abandon their furious assaulting tactics of the day, probably because of the heavy losses sustained in attacks which left the French line unshaken.

Paris characterizes the repulse sustained by the Crown Prince here as an important one and dwells upon the extremely serious extent of the casualties inflicted by the French fire.

There were only raid operations on the remainder of the night and there was a similar lack of activity of a major sort along the British lines. General Haig's troops, however, put in a busy night in successfully consolidating the positions taken by them yesterday northwest of St. Quentin in the direction of the German line.

announcements. Berlin, however, declares this ground was retaken by the Germans early today.

The Macedonian fighting is again assuming importance. On the extreme west of the front the French have apparently made a considerable force. Yesterday they recaptured several villages in the Malik lake region and the German war office today admits that German forces there were obliged to retreat before superior French pressure.

The German advance in the Riga region, the government should put all of its available funds in allowances to be equally shared by all that need help.

Representative Gillette, of Massachusetts, acting republican leader, endorsed all the measure except the optional insurance feature. Instead of issuing optional pension policies, he insisted, the government should put all of its available funds in allowances to be equally shared by all that need help.

Mr. Goodrich, however, is in critical state, following relapse.

GOVERNOR'S CONDITION IS REPORTED BETTER

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 10.—Governor Goodrich, who is ill at a local hospital of typhoid fever, was said to be better at the hospital, but his condition is still said to be serious. The governor's condition took an unfavorable turn yesterday when he suffered an intestinal hemorrhage, followed by rising fever, but was regarded as a little more favorable this morning.

sure, says the official statement issued today by the German war office. The Teutons retired in the direction of the heights southwest of Lake Ochrida.

GERMANS ADMIT RETIREMENT.

Berlin, Sept. 10.—British troops yesterday pressed back slightly the German reserves at Hargicourt and to the official statement issued by the German general staff. Early today, the statement adds, the Germans recaptured the positions to the east of Hargicourt.

Paris, Sept. 10.—Successful raids were made by the French last night on the German positions in the Champagne and Argonne regions, the French war department announced today. On both banks of the River Meuse, there was a violent artillery bombardment. The French success in the sector of the Fosse and Carrières woods was completed and a number of new prisoners were taken.

CADORNA PRESSES AUSTRIANS.

Rome, Sept. 10.—Gen. Cadorna continues to press the Austrian forces in the region of the Austro-Italian front, north of the Carso. According to the official statement issued today by the Italian war department, yesterday there was a very great artillery bombardment south of the Carso.

Since the beginning of the battle the Italians have captured 145 guns.

HAIG REPORTS WORK.

London, Sept. 10.—Field Marshal Haig, in his official report today, says the British troops last night consolidated the positions captured during the day of the Hargicourt, on the Somme front in France. At several points of the front German raiding parties were dispersed.

NO CESSATION OF BATTLE.

Udine, Italy, Sunday, Sept. 9.—The fighting on the heights of Gorizia continues night and day during good and bad weather. The continuous contest seems to the observer to be animated by superhuman force, the Italians and the Austrians almost constantly engaging in hand-to-hand encounters. A strange situation is being brought about by the wro forces, virtually equal in numbers, strength and determination, struggling for supremacy in a circumscribed area where it is impossible for either side to employ more men or artillery. Gaps in the ranks are instantly filled and thus the contending forces remain so balanced that victory apparently is impossible to either side. The fierceness of the struggle is proved by the fact that in twelve hours the Italians attacked the enemy five times.

Tells House Insurance Bill for Fighters is Best Since War Began.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Applause swept over the house floor and through the galleries today when Speaker Clark in a brief speech defended the soldiers' and sailors' insurance bill as the best measure brought before congress since the declaration of war.

"One of the objections to this bill," he said, "is that the government is liable to find itself in the hole as a result of it. I don't know whether it will put the government in the hole or not and I am not very much exercised about that. I am in favor of making the soldiers that go to Europe as comfortable as possible both physically and mentally. I don't want them to have to worry about their families back home. If they are willing to risk their lives we ought to take care of them."

"I am in favor of insurance," he said. "I think in time everybody in the country will have insurance of some kind. I never have been able to save any money and I have carried insurance because I wanted to keep my wife and children out of the poor house. And I want to fix it so that the wives and children of these soldiers won't have to go to the poor house."

Representative Gillette, of Massachusetts, acting republican leader, endorsed all the measure except the optional insurance feature. HORACE IN WONDERLAND.

When Horace recovered he just had time enough to get barbered up before supper, so he locked his room and skidded toward the elevator. His room was on the top floor and instead of the barber he found a porter. He was usual, it was waiting on the high level floor. Life in Wonderland was just one shock after another for Horace. Reaching the main floor he hailed for the barber booth and doctored up at the hat rack. No porter came tearing up the stairs, trying to get him out of his room and unscrew his collar and those other tip seeking courtesies. Nope, he did it himself in solid comfort.

Horace told the barber to give him a shave and trim up his hair. The barber did both in perfect silence and offered no suggestions of tonics for scalp treatments, he did dirty his scalp with a good massage he'd give him that would remove all the blackheads, etc., none! He did as Horace asked, and most of all he combed Horace's hair exactly as Horace does himself.

The barber and porter worked over Horace a long time, but the smiling waiter trying to bring him tea.

CANNOT GET COAL.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 10.—Local coal dealers say they have been unable to buy coal at the new prices set by the government and that the city is facing a coal famine. The dealers say the consumers are buying too freely and that operators report they do not have the cheaper grades of coal for delivery. One retailer showed a number of letters he said he received from operators turning down orders for several carloads of coal. The reply in each case was the it would be impossible to supply coal, the dealer said.

WAY TO UTILIZE STALE BREAD.

Here is a way suggested by the United States department of agriculture to utilize stale bread and left-over milk for French toast: Beat up together 1 egg, 1 cup of skim or whole milk and salt to taste. Place a small quantity of butter, bacon fat or other suitable fat in a broad-bottomed frying pan. Dip slices of stale bread into the egg and milk mixture until they are thoroughly moist and fry on both sides until a golden brown. Serve hot with or without syrup. The use of two or three eggs instead of one will make the dish still more nutritious and will satisfy many people entirely as a meal.

Local Markets.

Not a single load of corn was received on the Fort Wayne markets Monday, and as a matter of fact less than a dozen loads have been delivered here during the past week. The scarcity of corn is largely due to the uncertain feeling regarding the quality of new corn, which is several days later than usual.

An increase in the price of eggs is believed to be certain as a result of unfavorable weather conditions and the apparent scarcity.

Ten loads of hay at the city scales Monday sold for $15 to $16 and eight loads of oats at 55 to 59 cents a bushel. The receipts were light, which, because of weather conditions, was to be expected.

WHEN Mrs. Housewife makes up her grocery list, she mustn't forget crackers.

Tests show that crackers are higher in food value than equal weights of meat, potatoes or beans.

Crackers fit in with any course, they never fail the housewife, they help to round out the menu.

What dish can compare with the ever-ready crackers and milk that can be prepared in a jiffy?

WHAT ever covered the "between meals" problem so satisfyingly as crackers and a spread?

The many inviting ways in which crackers may be prepared make them a necessity at every breakfast, luncheon, dinner and supper every day in every Fort Wayne home. There's more satisfying food value at less cost in crackers than in any two other foods.

We are adding to the good things in crackers and cakes all the time. Ask your grocer about them.

THERE are a host of varieties of crackers and cakes of various kinds that are made in this clean bakery and packed in such a way that they remain clean and crisp, as when they left the ovens. And the taste is so delicious that you won't be satisfied until you have more.

Think of the many dainty ways you may serve these delicacies, and serve them for every meal or function. You'll be delighted.

AT THE MAJESTIC

Up to Date Is the New "Peck's Bad Boy."

Lovers of good, wholesome comedy have a treat in store in the coming of the new "Peck's Bad Boy," which has been entirely rewritten and set to music by the famous composer, Irving Berlin, who has no end of successes to his credit. The situations are laid in and around Shultz's grocery store and are funny to the extreme, as the clever comedians never let an opportunity pass to create laughter and the pretty girls go to make the picture complete. Jacques Baum has been especially engaged for the title role and is capably supported by a well selected company of fun-makers. The attraction is booked to appear at the Majestic again tonight.

"Nothing But the Truth" With Max Figman Tomorrow.

Anderson & Weber, who will offer Max Figman, the well known comedian, at the Majestic tomorrow evening in James Montgomery's stage version of Frederick Isham's latest novel, "Nothing But the Truth," claim there are 304 laughs during the two and one-half hours that it takes to play the farce, and after one has witnessed the many troubles and tribulations that Mr. Figman, as the young stock broker who bets he can tell the truth for twenty-four hours, has, the auditor thoroughly agrees with the producers. The piece played for one year in New York at the Longacre theater, and comes with the highest endorsement of both press and public as being one of the cleanest and most laughable farces that has been seen for many years. Mr. Figman is well known as an actor of farce and he will have the assistance of as capable a company of farceurs as money can get together. All in all, "Nothing But the Truth" is designed for fun only, and it will help for two hours a half to drive dull care away.

AT THE PALACE

HONOR THY CHILDREN.

Big William Lawrence in Laugh Sketch at Palace.

Ponderous William Lawrence, known as Big Bill with the whole souled laugh is the featured star in the laugh sketch "Honor Thy Children," being offered the first portion of the week at the New Palace. The little playlet is a clever satire on the modern day tendency to exalt the position of the children in the household. It is a neat little story and abounds in sparkling epigrams.

The six Colonial Belles, a double trio of charming girl musicians with Hattie Deunum as the prima donna are old-time favorites with Fort Wayne vaudeville audiences, for these young people have been here several times and always register big. They have some brand new numbers this time but are using the same quaint Colonial setting. Montrose and Allen, the singing, talking and dancing duo; Karleton and Klifford, the novelty landscapers whose painting on a transparent canvas is an unique stunt; Gus Erdman, the song jester in comical singing, and Holliday and Willette, a man and woman team of kidding comedians are others on this bill.

WASHINGTON IS WAITING UPON SWEDEN

GOOD FAITH OF THE SWEDISH PEOPLE IS FULLY BELIEVED IN

War, But It Is Grave and It
May Have Consequences.

ARGENTINE STUNNED BY THE AFFAIR

Washington, Sept. 10.—The government today still was waiting for some indication of how the Swedish government regards the disclosures of the part taken by its legation in Buenos Aires. Neither the Argentine ambassador nor the Swedish minister presented any message from their governments.

At the state department today it was made clear that there was no disposition to question the good faith and honesty of the Swedish people.

The distinction between the people and the government was carefully pointed out.

That Argentine will take prompt steps toward securing an explanation from Sweden is assumed and the state department will be surprised if the Argentine foreign office does not force the recall of Count Luxburg, the charge d'affaires, who advised the sinking of Argentine ships "without leaving any traces," and who referred to the head of the foreign office as "a notorious ass."

That the incident has been regarded by this government as a warlike act by Sweden was absolutely denied. What may develop is a different thing. At present there has been no change in the position of the two governments. This government has attempted no restriction upon free communications between Sweden's representatives and their government and there was no indication any would be imposed. This government regards the entire question as a more direct grievance of the allies than that of the United States.

Whether this government got the dispatch it published from its own agents, or from those of one of the allies, remained a secret. Refusal also was made to discuss the question as to whether all the information in possession.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Garden City, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Donald H. Jones, of Fort Wayne, received a commission as second lieutenant upon the arrival of Battery D, of Fort Wayne, with the 150th field artillery regiment, formerly the First Indiana. There were but three other men in the Indiana contingent to receive shoulder straps. Jones received the three months' training in the officers' reserve corps at Fort Benjamin Harrison and was formerly an employee of the Fort Wayne Box company.

It was dusk Sunday evening when Battery D, of Fort Wayne, and E, of Lafayette, pitched tents for their encampment here.

However, the men were all in fine spirits and they went about their task like the good soldiers they are. Fortunately, the regiment is well supplied with both cots and bedding, as the weather is decidedly chilly. The entire trip of forty-eight hours was

GERMAN PRESS HAS FIT OF FURY OVER PRESIDENT'S STAND

Amsterdam, Sept. 10.—There was a fresh outbreak of rage against the United States in Saturday's newspapers in connection with Secretary of State Lansing's reported denial of the statement that America would not insist on the elimination of the Hohenzollerns before entering into peace negotiations.

The Rheinische est alsische Zeitung carries a headline that crosses an entire page, in large type, reading: "America demands the deposition of the Hohenzollerns," which it follows with a furious denunciation of America, in which the alleged demand is alluded to as "the climax of the arrogant insolence of the American government," which it adds, "we hope will be met by an emphatic 'hands off' from the Reichstag."

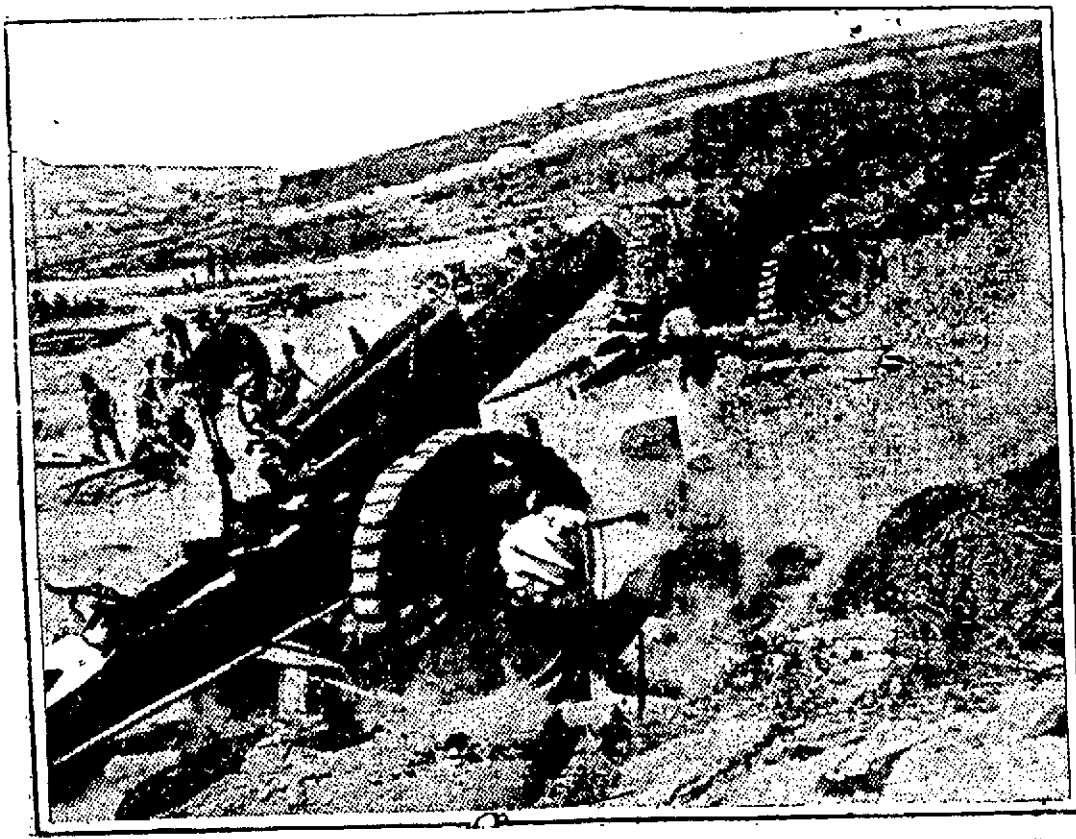

The Cologne Gazette says: "President Wilson's impertinence is beginning to get on our nerves. Has he no adviser to tell him that this sort of interference is bound to goad a proud people to fury?"

The Frankfurter Zeitung says: "If America seriously wants peace, she cannot make it conditional upon the form of the German government to reorganize which is the most important task of the future for the German people and is only hampered by such extraneous interference."

The Frankfurter Zeitung issues a warning against the efforts of German reactionary elements seeking to make political capital out of President Wilson's reply to the pope. It says that certain parties make the point that national honor now requires that the democratization of Germany shall be indefinitely shelved because America makes it conditional for peace.

The paper declares that while unwarranted interference will be sharply wrapped on the knuckles, the people shall not be deterred even by enemies from enforcing reforms deemed necessary for the benefit of the country.

CORNMEAL, EVEN AT THE PRESENT PRICE IS CHEAP

Washington, Sept. 10.—Cornmeal at the present high prices is cheapest of nutritious foods according to Herbert Hoover, who in a statement urges more general use of meal for making bread.

"There is twice as much nutritive value in a dollars worth of corn meal as in a dollars worth wheat bread at the present prices," Mr. Hoover said. "And corn must play a very important part in the conservation of wheat supply. There are four bushels of corn raised in this country to every one of wheat and corn meal is as good for food as is wheat."

Increased use of fish is also urged. American fish consumption, it is shown, is 18 pounds per capita annually against 65 in England, 57 in Canada, 52 in Sweden, 44 in Norway, 39 in Denmark and 37 in Portugal.

POPE'S EFFORTS GREATLY CLEAR THE SITUATION

Rome, Sunday, Sept. 9.—Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, has returned to Rome from a fortnight's vacation and immediately set to work, together with Pope Benedict, on the accumulation of documents received during his absence regarding the papal peace initiative.

To those who apprehended that Cardinal Gasparri said: "Whatever happens, the proposition made by Pope Benedict in favor of peace will have the effect of greatly clearing the situation."

PLAN CLUBS FOR FIGHTING MEN ON LEAVE IN COTHAM

New York, Sept. 10.—The organization of a number of soldiers' and sailors' clubs for the use of the men while on leave here, is planned by the Harvard club, according to an announcement made today.

The club it was said, has undertaken to finance, equip and maintain quarters here to be known as the national service club No. 1. Harvard men in charge of the club said there would be about 125,000 soldiers encamped in and about New York in a few weeks and of the number about 25 per cent. had homes in the city.

It was also estimated that about 10,000 soldiers and sailors would be in New York each day and that the proposed club would fill a want in the lives of the men.

DISTURBERS OF ABYSSINIA ARE TAKEN IN FIGHT

London, Sept. 10.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Jibuti, Africa, says that a German named Holts and an Austrian named Karmelich, who, with forty Arabs, have been wandering in the interior of French Somaliland, about two months, have been captured after a strong resistance in which several were killed. The capture of Holts and Karmelich is expected to result in important revelations of German intrigues in Abyssinia.

GEN. KORNILOFF TRIES TO SEIZE SUPREME POWER

Kerensky Meets Revolt With Prompt Action, Deposes War Chief and Declares War at Petrograd.

WORST SITUATION SINCE REVOLUTION

Petrograd, Sept. 10.—Premier Kerensky has declared that a state of war exists in the town and district of Petrograd.

Premier Kerensky has ordered Gen. Korniloff, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, to resign in consequence of Gen. Korniloff's demand for supreme power.

Gen. Klembovsky has been appointed commander-in-chief.

Premier Kerensky has issued this proclamation:

"On September 8 a member of the duma, M. Lvoff, arrived in Petrograd and called upon me in the name of Gen. Korniloff to hand over all civil and military powers to the generalissimo, who would form a new government at his pleasure. The authenticity of this summons was afterwards confirmed by Gen. Korniloff himself, who had a conversation with me over the direct telegraphic wire between Petrograd and main headquarters.

"Considering this summons addressed through me to the provisional government as an attempt by certain quarters to profit by the difficult situation of the country and establish a state of things contrary to the conquests of the revolution, the provisional government has recognized the necessity of charging me, for the safety of the republic, with the duty of taking the indispensable measures to cut at the roots all attempts against the supreme power.

KORNILOFF REBELLION MUST BE SUPPRESSED

Petrograd, Sept. 10.—Members of the Russian cabinet today told the Associated Press that the provisional government regarded General Korniloff's pronouncement as an act of rebellion which must be ruthlessly suppressed. The government, it was added, believed it had enough loyal troops and the support of the Russian people to enable it to put down the Korniloff movement.

Summary of the Day's War News

The great battle which General Cadorna is waging for Monte San Gabriele is continuing uninterrupted despite the inclement weather. The Austrians are being subjected to unrelenting pressure but by means of the gun.

FINE EXAMPLES OF HEROISM ON FIELDS OF WAR

Canadian Headquarters in France, Sept. 10.—Private Henry Lorne McFadden, of an Ontario battalion, has been given a distinguished conduct medal for splendid devotion to duty while acting as a stretcher-bearer during a raid into the enemy's lines. When the raiders withdrew several wounded men had to be left behind in a shell hole close to the enemy lines. McFadden remained with them for two days and a night, used his clothing to bind their wounds and make them more comfortable, and eventually brought all the wounded men back into their own lines.

The award of the military medal to twenty-four non-commissioned officers and men of a French Canadian battalion which did gallant work at the capture of hill 70 and had already earned high praise for its fine achievement at Courcellette, shows that the men from the province had a full share in current victory.

Here are some records of French Canadians' valor from the official statement as to the reasons for the award of the military medal:

Private Joseph Roussin, single-handed, attacked and killed five Germans and took three others prisoners. He was seriously wounded in the arm by a bayonet thrust.

Private Hilarion Lapointe, single-handed, charged and killed the crew of an enemy machine gun and captured the gun just in time to save the lives of two advancing sections.

Private Adrien Brien, during the attack on hill 70, rushed a German machine gun, which was causing casualties. He killed the crew and captured the gun.

Sergeant Joseph Arthur Naud, of the southern slope of hill 70, led a party of men to the front line under intense and continuous barrage. He himself carried as much ammunition through this barrage as two ordinary men could have carried.

Stretcher-bearer Joseph Dompierre attended to the wounded under an intense artillery fire without thought of his own safety.

Many of them be carried to a place of safety on his back.

Lesson in Scientific Complexion Renewing

Everyone has a beautiful skin underneath the one exposed to view. Bear that in mind and it will be easier to understand the correct principle in acquiring a lovely complexion. Nature is constantly shedding the top skin in fine particles like sand, only much smaller in size, in abnormal conditions, or in advancing age, these particles are not shed as rapidly as in robust youth. The longer they remain the more soiled or faded they become—that's the immediate cause of a "bad complexion."

It has been discovered that ordinary mercurized wax, to be had at any drug store, will absorb these worn out particles. The absorption, while hastening Nature's work, goes on gradually enough to cause no inconvenience. In a week or two the transformation is complete. The fresh, healthy hue, youthful under skin, is then wholly in evidence. You who are not satisfied with your complexion should get an ounce of mercurized wax and try this treatment. Use the wax nightly, like cold cream, washing it off mornings.—Advertisement.

LUNG MOTOR PLACED AT DISPOSAL OF PUBLIC

SERVICES TO BE FREE.

Funeral Directors Schone & Ankenbruck, corner Berry and Barr streets, this morning installed a lung motor at its place of business. This new life-saving device can be used in cases of apparent death from electric shock, drowning, strangulation, gas asphyxiation, collapse on the operating table, and in severe cases of pneumonia.

The lung motor is adjustable to all sizes of patients and delivers to them the amount of air they would naturally breathe. It is extremely simple to operate and is used by the United States government in all departments.

Schone & Ankenbruck are making arrangements for a complete demonstration for the physicians in the community, as well as of the public who may be interested. The announcement of this demonstration will be made by them later. The lung motor is displayed in their window at present, and can be seen there any time.

THE WILDEST RIDE OF THE WAR; CHARGED BOCHES IN AMBULANCE

HE DROVE HIS AMBULANCE RIGHT UP TO GERMAN TRENCHES. Staff Special.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 9.—Donald M. Walden has ridden into the jaws of death and returned alive. Now he is going back to war again.

As a volunteer ambulance driver in France, he swerved aside just as death's hand reached out for him, and brought back for his bravery the French "croix de guerre." He returns to the front soon with a lieutenant's commission gained in the officers' training camp at Fort McPherson, Ga.

"No man's land" has no new terrors in store for him. He drove his ambulance once through that bare strip, where the earth was literally peeled by shells and where nothing else lived, right up to the German trenches before he saw he had been unnecessarily risky. They talk of it still in France as the wildest ride of the war.

The Germans were storming Pont-a-Mousson, known as the "death hole," a red rendezvous of ruin, the morning of July 4, 1915.

The telephone bell brought the lieutenant at the ambulance station in the rear to the receiver with a jump.

Two French officers and two doctors were wounded in the first-line trenches—that was the message.

Walden's car was ready. He was ready. He started in the direction of the first-line trench.

There were no street signs and no corner traffic policemen to direct him. Finally he got to a place where there was no one from whom to ask his way if he had wanted to ask it, inasmuch as the only men he saw were lying bleeding on the ground. There was, in short, quite a bit of confusion, so that any ambulance driver who lost his way might be pardoned.

Walden rode for a minute through a strip absolutely denuded of vegetation. He was deafened by the hail of fire. Shells burst all about him.

A trench was just ahead. Several heads popped up. Walden's eyes popped open. He looked again at uniforms and weapons. He was upon the German first line trenches. He had come through the curtain of fire.

He speeded up and wheeled his car in a short arc over shell craters and splinters of wood and trees. He got back to the French first line trench. He took the officers and doctors to the base hospital.

When they were lifted out, Walden himself got out to inspect his machine. A shell had struck beneath the seat. How it happened that any engine remained in the car was a mystery. All told, the machine had been hit several times.

His friends expect Walden to make one of the bravest of Uncle Sam's officers. They don't see what there is left for him to fear.

THE SOLDIER, AT INSTANT DEATH, FEELS NO PAIN, SPIRITS FROM GREAT BEYOND ASSURE ENQUIRER

(This is one of a number of articles by Hereward Carrington, famous American psychologist and student of psychical phenomena, given to the Daily Sentinel in an interview with its New York correspondent, Frederick M. Kerby. Another will appear in an early issue.)

BY HERWARD CARRINGTON.

(In an interview with Frederick M. Kerby.)

Soldiers killed in war feel no pain.

Entrance into the spiritual world is accomplished without suffering, but the released spirit, killed in battle, is for a while dazed by the sudden shock of violent death.

These are the conclusions to be gathered both from the phenomena observed by clairvoyants, and from scientific observations of death as we know it.

Let me first give you verbatim what the celebrated clairvoyant, Bert Reese, has given as a description of what takes place over a battlefield, as seen by his super-physical sight and vision. Reese is the man who was arrested in New York for "fortune telling," and gave a demonstration of his unusual powers (whatever they are) in Judge Rosalby's court, as a result of which he was discharged from custody. Here is Reese's description:

"You ask me to describe what I have actually seen taking place in the astral and spiritual worlds over a battlefield?

I will try to tell you; but it is difficult—and terrible! Thousands of spirits are being literally hurled into the spiritual world at one time, when they are least prepared for it. While they all ultimately revive, and resume their normal condition, many of them are in a terrible state for a time. They are confused; bewildered; they do not know what to do, where to turn; where they are. To explain to you just what takes place, let me first of all explain a little of the inner constitution of man.

"The soul is the connection between body and spirit; the soul is connected with the body by a sort of vital electricity; the spirit to the soul by a sort of vital magnetism. If any of these links are broken, the man dies. If broken suddenly, the man dies of so-called shock."

"It is well known that a sudden shock, sufficient to cause death, causes instant insensibility. This fact is due to the diffusion of the elements of the soul throughout the system of the person. It is as if you had struck a small bone with a hammer so powerfully and suddenly that the cohesion between the atoms was suddenly dissipated; and what was before a solid mass is now only smoke and dust, flying in the wind.

"Several soldiers who have returned to me from the spirit world have told me their sensations immediately after falling dead by rifle or cannon ball. They relate how they intuitively realized the nature of the accident, and that they had just 'died,' in the usual sense of the word, but they did not feel anything like pain—being only disposed to sleep very profoundly, regardless of the place, and forgetful of what had happened to them. This indifference has in many instances resulted in a kind of slumber for many days in the other world.

"The soul becomes the vehicle or

PRESIDENT WILSON GOES TO PLAY GOLF

Leaves Mayflower to Have a Brief Frolic Ashore at Gloucester.

Gloucester, Mass., Sept. 10.—The president's yacht Mayflower with its crew was still in the harbor this morning, but prepared to weigh anchor later in the day and continue the cruise upon which President Wilson and Mrs. Wilson embarked at New York Saturday. Reports that the party would come ashore again today drew a crowd to the water front, but it was made known that the president wished to avoid anything in the way of a demonstration. It was not revealed just when the Mayflower would sail, and it was intimated that the president would not have left the Mayflower yesterday if his plans to do so had become known in advance.

The president and Mrs. Wilson came ashore at 11 o'clock and were met at the pier by Col. and Mrs. E. M. House with two automobiles. The president was accompanied by his naval and military aides and attendants who carried several golf bags. The weather was fine and bracing. The president was smiling at the small crowd at the wharf as his car moved away and then passed through the principal street where where citizens were waiting to see him.

Colonel House declined to say where the president would play, as he was anxious to avoid the crowds that might be attracted to the links when it became known that he would take part in a game.

EXCLUSION FROM MAILS

That May Be Fate of Some German Language Newspapers in America.

No Disposition to Treat Them as a Class, But Individually.

Washington, D. C., September 10.—Exclusion from the mails of certain influential German language newspapers printed in various sections of the United States is under consideration by the postoffice department as a part of the government's determination to prevent circulation of anti-war propaganda.

In three or four instances, it is understood, officials have virtually decided that the utterances of the German language newspapers in question fully warrant their exclusion from the mails. Other publications are being investigated.

No Treatment As a Class.

There is no intention to treat the German language dailies as a class and each newspaper will be considered on the basis of the time, character and nature of its articles and editorials. In numerous instances, it is said, German language publications have shown a commendable loyalty and wholeheartedness in supporting the government. The newspapers under consideration in connection with the proposed action are widely scattered.

Contents of the news and editorial columns of the newspapers under investigation, it is said, apparently were written with a view to coming within the law and at the same time creating anti-ally sentiment and generally discouraging the government's plans for carrying on the war.

Language As a Factor.

Where this is the case officials have taken into consideration the fact that the alleged objectionable articles and editorials have been published in the enemy tongue as a factor to be regarded in reaching a decision.

A number of publications printed in English also are under consideration in connection with the department's intention of tightening the restrictions heretofore placed upon dissemination through the mails of anti-war propaganda.

ANOTHER REVOLT OF CONVICTS AT JOLIET

Prisoners Start Mutiny and One of Them is Shot—Guards Stabbed.

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 10.—A riot occurred in the state prison today during which one convict was shot and three guards stabbed.

The first trouble occurred yesterday. At breakfast call about twenty of the convicts broke from the line and, once seizing a spade, is said to have threatened a guard. The latter, after ordering the convict to drop the weapon, shot him.

This morning at the same hour the trouble broke out afresh. The men again broke from the line. The emergency whistle sounded and in the melee which followed three of the guards were stabbed. The guards clubbed their rifles and order apparently was restored. The rioters numbered about fifty. They had become angered at the imposition of restrictions on their discipline. Among the privileges previously enjoyed by the convicts was an almost unlimited correspondence with sentimental women.

Indiana's First Contingent Quickly Takes Up Soldier's Life.

Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., Sept. 10.—When you walk through this camp you are struck with the prominent part that Indiana is taking in it. Two regiments will be made up almost entirely of Indiana men, one mostly with men from Indianapolis. All the officers except the commanders are Indiana men. A company of engineers made up entirely of men and officers from Indiana is here. An Illinois regiment, with the exception of the commander, is officered by Indiana men. Indiana officers will command a negro company to be trained here.

Ward Lambert, of Crawfordsville, has been named by the war department to supervise the sports of the soldiers. Mr. Lambert is a noted athlete from Wabash college, and last year was the coach for Purdue's basketball team.

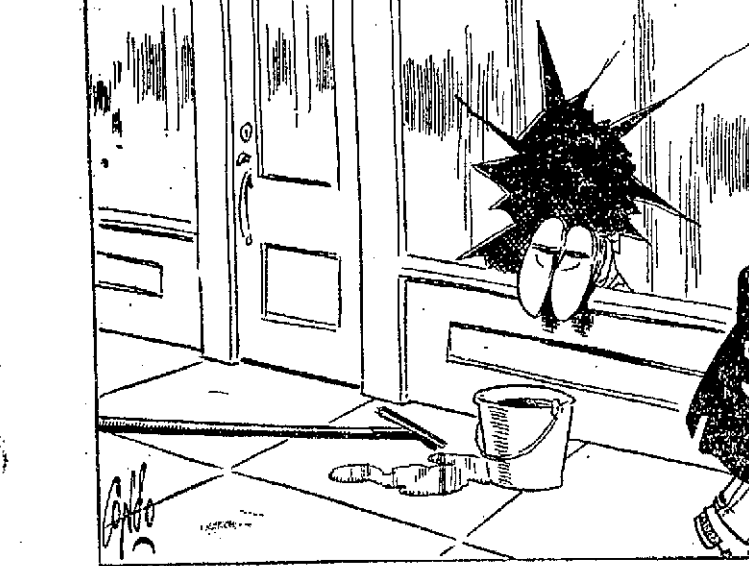

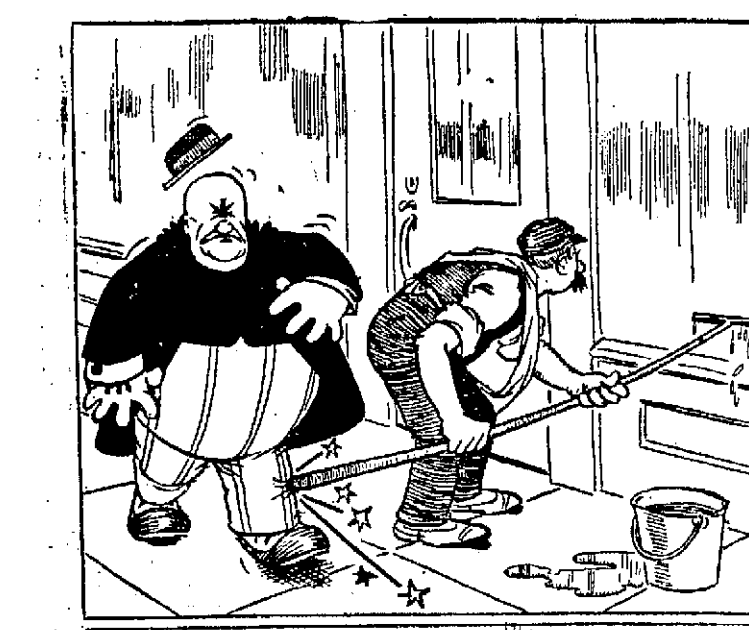

Some to be Replaced.

The physical examination of the men has not yet been completed, but six examining boards are at work and it is believed that their report will be made public soon. Those who fail in this test will be sent home and their places filled with more recruits from the various counties. When the physical examination is over, those who have passed will receive uniforms and then the routine work of a training camp will begin.

Seven out of every hundred men drafted are assigned to camp Taylor will be rejected for physical deficiencies, it is estimated by Colonel John H. Allen, division surgeon, and in charge of medical examinations. The men remaining, it was said, of the first 5 per cent. quota sent to the camp, likely will receive promotions as noncommissioned officers in a very short time if they manifest requisite ability.

SOME MORE COARSE WORK.

German diplomacy's coarse work, diligently exemplified during the two years that this country was put upon by its clumsy trickery and crude subterfuges, has just disclosed itself in a new field. Exposure by the state department at Washington of the double-dealing of the kaiser's plenipotentiary in Argentine constitutes no surprise. It is about what was to be expected. That the Swedish legation in Buenos Aires should so readily have lent itself as a clearing-house for German treachery is, however, something of a shock. Out of this sensational unmasking of German duplicity and Swedish violation of friendship must issue events that will solidify all Latin-America against the kaiser and embarrass King Gustaf's government everywhere.

Notwithstanding that the past two or three years have led us to expect anything from the German government and its diplomatic agents anywhere, the disclosures respecting the treachery practiced against Argentine are of an amazing sort. Already South America was well set against Germany. Brazil, the greatest and most powerful of Latin-American nations, is at war with her and only by an almost abject concession to Argentina's demands in respect of U-boat outrages had the Berlin government been able to avert a break with that republic. That the Swedish legation at Buenos Aires should have taken upon itself the forwarding of German treachery is beyond comprehension upon any hypothesis save that the Swedish government is according a secret support to the kaiser. It answers nothing that Swedish diplomatic representatives in this country advance a plea that the Swedish legation in Buenos Aires was imposed upon. That might be plausible if German plotting having its origin in the South American city had not been compelled to find its way from the legation there through the foreign office at Stockholm into channels that reach Berlin.

It was a coarse and clumsy piece of work of the same pattern from which came Herr Zimmermann's proposals to Mexico and Japan to make cause against the United States to keep this nation busy in the event that war came between America and Germany; of the same pattern from which came a score of breaches of good neighborhood, friendly intercourse and international comity while the maladroit and plausible von Bernstorff occupied the German embassy in Washington and had that pair of consummate devils, Boy-Ed and von Papen, engineering his dirty work in this friendly land.

Germany is audacious in her tricks and her games, fertile in resource and wholly unconscionable in her resort to what is low, mean and treacherous, but she is coarse—unspeakably coarse—in her practice of them among and upon her friends. She stands today out-layed by almost all nations save the three allies that tremble under her brutal coercions. Is it any wonder? The Argentine matter is simply excess of proof in the case against Berlin.

LEND A HAND FOR THE BOYS.

To a multitude of religious, benevolent and patriotic activities the people of Fort Wayne have freely given a great deal of money during the past year and a half. Not to anything have they given financial support that stood in better desert to it than the Boy Scouts now do to the help that is asked of the people of Fort Wayne in aid of that movement here. History may at some time contrive to unravel the tangled skein of claims to the honor of having conceived the idea that has unfolded in this country and others in the growing ranks of Boy Scouts, and when history shall have done that the world will owe the originator a monument and a perpetual fame, for nothing save the school and the church are better for a boy than the association and fellowshipship of the Scouts. Indeed, there are some benefits from the Scout life and activity that neither school nor church can supply.

The Boy Scouts should have every aid and encouragement. Whatever is needed in money to keep the good work going and expanding should be ungrudgingly given. If you have a boy in the Scouts you can appreciate this beyond another's power to impress you. If you have a lad who in the near coming years will be eligible by his age to enter the Scouts it is to your very dear personal and parental interest to sustain the organization and movement. If you have no son, bethink you of some other's son that you may indirectly help and of One Son who gave His word that He would acknowledge as being unto Him such service as any of us might do in whatsoever good ways for even "the least of these." The Boy Scouts are put in the way of becoming good men—men with strong bodies, hearty spirits, clear vision, fine ideals and strength and readiness to serve. There are so many ways in which the Boy Scout movement ministers to the health and enjoyment of boys that it would be a tediousness to recite them, but you can get an enthusiastic account of it all by sitting down an hour or so with any youngster who has got past the tenderfoot degree. Try it.

Plans are about perfected for the campaign to raise ten thousand dollars for support of the Scout movement in Fort Wayne. Be prepared to meet the call upon your financial assistance. Altogether by itself as a splendid thing for the boys of today who are to be the men of tomorrow the Boy Scout movement makes just claim to encouragement and support, but in this hour of strain and stress it becomes of personal concern to every patriotic American and to his government and nation that this fine organization be upheld and promoted. Before the war shall have been ended the Boy Scouts will be doing their bit for the good of their country here at home that no one will question and none will fail to appreciate.

Be ready and cheerful for your own good part in this excellent campaign to put some degree of solid financial backing behind the movement in Fort Wayne.

A TRUE AMERICAN HE IS.

Elsewhere there is printed on this page today an address delivered in Michigan City, Ind., quite recently by Mayor Martin T. Krueger, of that place, at a farewell reception tendered the officers and members of a company of the Indiana national guard just departing for the war.

We commend a careful reading of this address to all into whose hands this newspaper may fall. It is an eloquent and stirring speech, patriotic in every word, loyal in every thought, inspiring in every sentiment. Other addresses to similar occasion have been frequent in recent weeks and of like expression and import. Mayor Krueger's address is worth reading wholly for itself, but it is a thousand times more worth reading for another and a better reason.

Mayor Krueger, as his name gives clue, is of German blood. But he is more than that. He is of German birth. He came at an early age to this land to make it his home and to become its citizen. He was poor, but he has made his way forward to the goal of a distinguished success. He has been twice elected mayor of his city. He is a lawyer of repute, an orator of wide fame and a substantial and prosperous man. But above and beyond these he is an American sans peur et sans reproche. His Americanism is the soul of him—constant, intense, unafraid and aggressive. Read that speech on another part of this page, and then say if you think better words could have come with finer eloquence and greater force from a truer heart, whether descended from the best Cavalier blood of Virginia or claiming forebears among the sturdiest of the Mayflower stock of New England.

Up in Michigan City Martin T. Krueger's Americanism is well enough known. It may not be so well known farther out in the state. But it ought to be. This German-born American citizen is an example and a comfort, an inspiration and a refuge in this time, for he is a striking type of a large class of German-born everywhere who know why they did not remain German in their allegiance and who know what America has been and will continue to be to them. Mayor Krueger has indulged himself no hesitations and has not minced his words during the past two or three years in making known where he stands as to his country nor why.

When you just don't know what else you can immediately do to help the country in war, just drop around to Red Cross headquarters and leave a dollar or two—or five or ten. The Red Cross always needs money and the days of labors come on apace where labor is needed.

Probably Berlin would now like to know by what treachery the Washington state department surprised the secret of the Prusso-Swedish plot to sink Argentine ships "leaving no trace." Berlin will find out when the mystery of the Zimmermann note to Mexico is unraveled.

A German-Born American's Words

The subjoined address was delivered a few days ago at Michigan City, Ind., by Hon. Martin T.
Krueger, the mayor, on the occasion of a public farewell given to the soldiers of Company G, of that city, who were leaving for the war. Mayor Krueger was born in Germany, but his Americanism is thoroughly undiluted.

If a war could be ended by writing, printing and talking, then this great and terrible war must of necessity have been ended a long time ago; for there has surely been written, printed and spoken enough matter to fill a library. The time seems now to have arrived when talking must cease and action must begin and it is a source of great pride with us to know and feel that you are ready and prepared for that action.

I scarcely know whether this occasion should be called a "Farewell night" or a "Knights' farewell." No steel-clad warrior of old ever went forth to do battle in a more noble and knightly cause than that which you are about to engage in, and that fact has inspired me with the thought that when you come back from this awful war and as veterans you will join with others in forming a great organization; something like the now vanishing Grand Army of the Republic, and there is no doubt of that, for it has been the practice of returned soldiers after every war. When that time comes and that veteran army is formed, it should be named the "Knights of Liberty." There has never been upon the earth a greater force moving toward liberty than the army of which you are a part and there is not today beneath the skies a greater, better known and universally acknowledged emblem and token of that liberty than the starry flag you will carry and follow to foreign climes, to victory or to death. Under its white and crimson stripes you will go forth to conquer peace from the high prophet of war himself.

There are people who believe this war could have been avoided; they are only deceiving themselves. That it might have been postponed a short time, a year or two perhaps, may be true, but the arch plotter and enemy of peace and liberty was only biding his time, when, having destroyed his neighbors one by one and robbed them of the means of further resistance, war would have come to us, as we now go to war. Our shores would have been invaded, our cities destroyed, our industries ruined and despoiled. Instead of crossing the ocean and aiding France and England in their struggle for the world's liberties, we would then have been obliged to fight for our national life on our own soil and alone. When we consider what a monstrous struggle this war is and how desperately all the able-bodied men of many nations are fighting to shake off the tyrant in-vader at the cost of millions of men and billions of treasure, we can in a measure, at least, estimate how poorly equipped we would have been to drive back the invader and common enemy of all the civilized world alone, when the fatal hour should have struck for us.

Fortunately, we did not wait for the enemy to get ready and strike us. God knows we had no wish to go to war with Germany nor with any other nation; for more than two years we held our peace and were jeered and scoffed at, ridiculed and insulted as cowards, because we refused ourselves to sending notes and protests while American lives were sacrificed and American property destroyed. Our enemy would not and could not understand that all we asked was that our rights under the laws of nations and our flag should be respected and we be permitted to remain at peace with all the world.

Not content with sinking our ships and taking the lives of American citizens, men, women and children, they plotted to enmesh us into a war with other lands and even promised to assist them to dismember the union of our states and give some of them to those other countries as a premium for making war on us. We protested and remonstrated and Germany made promises and repudiated them as fast as they were made. She talked of friendship and amity and at the same time sought to induce both Japan and Mexico to invade our country and make war on us. We believed her promises had been made for the sole purpose of gaining time to prepare to strike us more effectually.

And, as if to crown the full measure of his infamy the enemy sought, by crafty means and device, to create dissensions among our own people as well, and as a result of this propaganda, we dare not lay the flattering unction to our souls that when these brave boys shall have gone to defend our country, our flag and our property, under the blue sky of sunny France, and at the cannon's mouth, they will have enemies only in front of them and only friends behind. Humiliating as the thought and the fact may be, it is nevertheless true that treason is rife, right here in our own country, in this and in almost every other city and county in America. It does not require the services of a detective or a secret service officer to find the slimy trail of men who have perjured their soul by holding up their hands to high heaven and to swear that they renounced "all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, state or sovereignty whatever." and took a solemn oath to support the constitution of the United States in order that they might be given citizenship in this country, and who are now skulking in discrepant places sowing the seeds of dissension and sedition by finding fault and harping at every move and act of this country and applauding and condoning every horrible criminal and inhuman outrage perpetrated by the instruments of a tyrant whose hands are clogged with human blood to his arm-pits.

Those snipers are too cowardly to help the assassin at whose shrine they crawl and worship and whose praises they never tire of singing and who give them every aid and comfort they think safe to give without running the risk of getting into a detention camp or, perhaps, even a jail. When Zimmermann told the American ambassador to Germany that "The United States dare not do anything against Germany, because we have five hundred thousand reservists in America who will rise against your government," the ambassador replied: "We have five hundred and one thousand lamp posts in America where these reservists will find themselves if they try an uprising."

I remember well just before the close of our civil war, when they took copperheads who sympathized with the rebellion, tarred and feathered them, rode them on fence rails and finally took several of them down to an old pier and ducked them in the lake until they were glad enough to kiss the flag and hurrah for Lincoln! And there are a few rods in pickle for some of the copper-heads of today in this country and before the war ends, some of the lamp posts aforesaid may serve other purposes than that of carrying street signs and gas lamps.

Do not worry boys about what will happen back home when you have gone to the front. There will be enough Americans left here to see that the old flag is not trailed in the dust or offered insult or indignity, and to see that the rank copperhead crawls into his hole and stays there or takes the consequences.

And we will see to it also that those you leave behind, who may be in need of your protection or support, if any, shall not be left to bear and to suffer alone.

Soldier Boys! I bid you Good-speed in the name of every loyal citizen of Michigan City, and as you go forth to battle, to fight for your country, for your country's flag, for home and dear ones there may a just and merciful God guide, protect and preserve you and bring you back here covered with the laurels of victory and the honors of true soldiers who have done their whole duty and done it bravely, nobly and well. God be with you. Good-by.

(Cleveland Leader.)

The effort to make the United States helpless against its enemies in this war by interposing constitutional objections to the military draft and the sending of troops out of the country has received the check it merits at the hands of Judge Emory Speer of the United States district court of southern Georgia. He has dismissed the suit brought to test this question by that professional Georgia trouble-maker, Tom Watson, in such a manner that it will require more than ordinary brazenness and disloyalty to carry it further.

Judge Speer holds that the United States government has ample and exclusive power to raise and support armies in any manner that may be deemed expedient and can use them for the defense of the nation and the maintenance of its safety and rights in any way necessary, without hindrance from any section of the constitution primarily intended to apply to other purposes.

"To agree," he says, "to this contention (that the draft violates the constitutional prohibition of slavery and involuntary servitude) we must conclude that the soldier is a slave.
Nothing could be more absurd to the truth, nothing more degrading to citizens trained in arms, to whose manhood, skill and courage is and must be committed the task of maintaining the very existence of the nation and all that its people hold dear."

The announcements were made at supper time when red cards were discovered hidden in the napkins. The cards were heart shape. The company included Misses Loretta Gooley, Theresa Roy, Katherine Burdick, Letty Ditts, Madeline Rhodes and Mrs. Edith Darby.

Book—Peters.
A beautiful, though wholly informal home wedding, was that of Miss Helen Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Peters, and Mr. Arthur E. R. Book, professor of history at the University of Michigan, which took place on Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock, Rev. H. B. Master, of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Miss Florence I. Lang was the bride's honor maid and Captain Edward Troxell, of Ann Arbor, was attendant to the groom. The bride was gowned handsomely in ivory satin trimmed with silver lace and she wore a veil of tulle made with a crown effect of real lace. The bridal bouquet was made of orchids and lilies of the valley, with which a few bride roses were mingled. Miss Lang wore a pale pink georgette crepe, combined with silver lace and girdle of silver ribbon with a touch of blue about the bodice and at the waist line. Miss Lang's flowers carried out the coloring of her gown with pink roses, snapdragon and forget-me-nots. A collation was served after the bride couple had received the congratulations of the company, which included only the immediate relatives and a few near friends. Mrs. Will Peters presided at the punch bowl. The wedding music was furnished by Mrs. C. A. Horton and Anthony Ciccone, harp and violin players. The house was artistically decorated with baskets and crystal bowls of pink and white fall flowers and many gladioli, asters, lilies, the fragrant clamatiss, phlox and roses were used. After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Book will be at home in Ann Arbor at 1114 Willard street, where they will receive their friends after the first of November. For traveling the bride is wearing a tailored suit of Scotch cheviot in blue and black and all accessories are plain and quiet in coloring to correspond.

Swinehart Family Reunion.

The twelfth reunion of the Swinehart family descendants was held at the home of W. T. Kline, 1702 Canfield street, Huntington. There were 123 people present and the family representatives came from Indiana, Ohio and Illinois. Ninety-four sat down at one table for dinner, which was a treat, and afterwards a program was well rendered. Prof. J. L. Swilart presided. The opening prayer was made by Rev. Elmer Warden, of Colorado. President of the society is Marion Swinehart, Columbia City; secretary-treasurer, C. W. Kline, Fort Wayne. It was planned to hold the next reunion in the same place the second Sunday of September, 1918.

Crawford and Vaughn Reunion.

The annual reunion of the Crawford and Vaughn families was held at the home of John Emrich in Dunfee, on September 2. This was the seventh gathering of these two families. One hundred people were present and a fine time and a big dinner are the chief summary of what happened. As officers for the ensuing year, Gaylord Land was chosen as president; Billy Hilbert, of Roanoke, vice president; Mrs. Gustie Schinbeckle, of Dunfee, as secretary; Mrs. Harry Schane, of Fort Wayne, as treasurer; Mrs. G. H. Paul, of Fort Wayne, as chairman of entertaining committee.

Ruch, Lopshire, McMaken Meet.

NON-PARTISAN LEAGUE MEETS.

The Non-Partisan League will hold its regular meeting in the assembly room at the court house Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Every woman in the city is invited to attend. It will not be long until candidates must be voted for for city offices, and it behooves the women to learn all they can, what to expect from each man who will be elected and to acquaint themselves with the platforms of the different parties. The Non-Partisan League workers feel that this can be done through meetings. Candidates representing the different political parties will be asked to speak to the league. The speaker secured for Thursday evening is Creighton H. Williams, who will talk on "The Mayor and the Council." A voting machine has been secured and everyone will have a chance to practice on it. The time for registration will soon be up, and in order not to get into the rush at the end women should register right away. A notary public will be present at Thursday's meeting and registration will take place free.

FURNITURE OF WALNUT IS AGAIN FASHIONABLE

The bride-to-be of autumn is setting her heart on walnut furniture, as she makes mental pictures of the cozy apartment that is going to be planned for, soon. Very fashionable, indeed, just now is walnut, and walnut beds, diningroom and library "suites" as the furniture people call them bid fair to displace the long adored mahogany from favor—for a time at least.

Think not, however, that walnut furniture means a revival of the mid-Victorian styles, and that those hideous wicker, sideboards and bureaus now stored up in garret or scattered about in seldom used bedrooms, may be brought downstairs and refurbished. The new walnut is dark, rich and extremely distinguished, with a dull, soft luster and a somber color that makes a most attractive background for gorgeous cretonnes. The tapestry blue that is so fashionable in modern dining-rooms is exactly the setting for walnut furniture; and walnut looks well also—as mahogany does not—with rugs and wall coverings in reddish or terra cotta tones. The lines of the new walnut pieces are extremely simple. No carved grapes and flowers as in the seventies when this wood was the mode; no twisted columns or lumpy drawer handles; no tables with tops tortured into grotesque shapes. The new furniture is massive, dignified and graceful, the rich color of the wood being deemed sufficient ornament in itself.

Rengo Belt Reducing Corsets

are made exclusively for
medium and full figures

Rengo Belt Corsets are not intended for slender women—they are strong, sturdy corsets for medium and stout women, reinforced by a specially designed and exclusive Rengo Belt feature for straightening
the abdominal line.

In every other respect these famous corsets are ideal for reducing because of their perfect lines and absolute strength. Rengo Belt Corsets cannot be stretched out of shape or broken, no matter what amount of wearing stress is put upon them by heavy figures. They will mould to their own beautiful lines because they are stronger than any figure, yet pliable and comfortable because they have no "fixings" or "trappings"
of any kind—nothing to indicate that they are specially constructed Reducing corsets, unless you understand the scientific tailoring of the design itself.

All models are boned throughout with double watch-spring steels,
and some are fitted with "steelastic" webbing inserts, for more active freedom.

Shop Through Our Paris Office for American Soldiers in France

How can we send gifts or needful articles to our soldier boys in France is a question confronting those who have loved ones in the Country's service. The shipping facilities from the States are limited—the American Red Cross has first call on all available ships, and there is the uncertainty of correct delivery even after the goods are received on the other side.

Here Then Is The Answer

Wolf & Dessauer, through their Paris office, have an arrangement which at once solves the problem satisfactorily and surely. This store will take orders from friends and relatives here, to be filled in Paris by shoppers in that city. These goods will be charged to our patrons' accounts the same as if purchased right here in the store. From Paris they will be forwarded direct to the soldier in any branch of the service anywhere, in camp, at the front, or in hospitals.

Paris is experienced in providing for soldiers' wants. The purchaser can get more for the money, and the delivery is much more prompt and certain. We are prepared to extend this service immediately and shall be pleased to go into detail with all interested in the novel plan.

Adjectives Fail When It Comes to Telling of the New Silks!

Perhaps we can best state the facts by saying that our present display of Silks is the most wonderful showing we have ever made—in styles, qualities and colorings, we have eclipsed all former efforts. Under existing conditions it was more difficult than ever before to procure handsome, exclusive silks—but we got them, as we always do!

We want every women interested in Fall fashions to see this array of loveliness. Early selections are of course best, as many of the exclusive novelties shown cannot be duplicated later.

Silks for Street and Afternoon Wear

Among this class of silks the "Army and Navy" shades hold full sway. To women is at least accorded the privilege of wearing the same colors as our boys, and they find them
most becoming. Every shade of blue that the soldiers and sailors wear is represented, from cadet and Joffre blue to the deepest navy of the sailor's garb. The grays offer almost as wide choice, from soft, light tones to dark battleship gray.

As a striking contrast to the more sombre colors are Flag red, La France red, currant and Bordeaux, vivid purple and deep, dark tones of purple. Other new shades equally in demand are Maryland brown, tete de Negre, castor, sand, Russian green and Paris bronze. And black of course in every wanted fabric.

For Evening Wear

There are soft, beautiful fabrics in such lovely tones as—

Twilight blue	Jade green	French gray
American Beauty	Ocean green	Mist gray
Rose pink	Golden yellow	Ivory
Flesh	Canary	White

has responded with silks of an exquisite softness, yet of an unusual firmness of weave. Here are to be seen new—

Kid Skin Satin, Satin Charmelle, Satin Marchioness, Charmeuse, Satin Royale, Imperial Satin, Costume Satin, "Moon-Glo" Meteor, Imperial Chiffon Taffeta, Chiffon Failles, Meteors and Crepe de Chines.

Of plaids, stripes and brocades, in taffetas and satins, there is a remarkable diversity, and women will want these for smart blouses, separate skirts and coat linings.

Exclusive Patterns in Coat Linings

For lining furs and coats are handsome silks and satins in our own exclusive designs, as carefully chosen as other lines of silk in this section.

Beautiful Velvets

Army and navy tones predominate in the velvets as in the silks. The richness of the fabric gives an added beauty to these fashionable colors, and makes such velvets adapted for day and evening wear. For capes and scarfs are plenty of black plushes, expressly intended for the purpose.

Ask to see the beautiful new white buckskin satin and silk broadcloth, both of which will wash, and are most desirable for making smart collars and cuffs.
All these silks we bought at the right price, because we know where and how to buy.
They are offered to the women of Fort Wayne in the same way—we can help you plan your winter wardrobe economically.

MANY JOIN THE NAVY

List of Fort Wayne Boys Who Have Enlisted Within Last Few Days.

THERE IS PLENTY OF ROOM FOR OTHERS

Gus Lose Leaves Soon for Connecticut to Join Mosquito Fleet.

Alfred Remy, 20, a cook, enlisted in the naval service and was sent to Indianapolis for further examination Monday by Local Recruiting Officer A. G. Kaftan. Remy is a Swiss, having been in this country only a few years. He had, however, taken out his first papers and was eligible for service. James C. Townsend, 2010 Fairfield avenue, also left for Indianapolis today for examination. Townsend enlisted as a machinist in the aviation reserve class.

There is plenty of room in the navy yet for men of the right class, according to Kaftan, and it is the wish of the recruiting officer that the idea that the navy is full be speedily dispelled.

Johns Mosquito Fleet. Gus Lose, 810 Calhoun street, a former student at Purdue university, will leave shortly for New London, Conn., to join the mosquito fleet. In the meanwhile Lose is spending a few days visiting at home.

Soldiers Pass Through. Members of Company B of Angola and Company K of Auburn passed through Fort Wayne Monday morning at 8:40 o'clock on their way to Fort Benjamin Harrison.

Annual Banquet. The annual banquet of the Boosters' club of the Fort Wayne recruiting station was Saturday evening at the Hotel Oliver at South Bend. The party motored back to this city Sunday.

Given Assignments. Capt. Karl W. Detzer, Lieut. Peter Edson, both former newspaper men of this city, have been assigned to machine gun work at Camp Taylor, near Louisville, in the instruction of the new national army units in this branch of the service.

PLAN TOMORROW FOR FIRST SUBURBAN DAY

The Executive Committee to Meet—Police Will Co-Operate.

Tomorrow, the executive committee of the newly-organized Fort Wayne Suburban Day Trade association will hold a meeting to make final arrangements for the first great Suburban Day—Wednesday, September 19. Interest in the plan is shown by many inquiries from other cities and towns and the farming communities, as well as from the people of Fort Wayne, many of whom are asking by what means they can best assist in making these Suburban days a marked success from the beginning.

Chief of Police Lenz has assured the association of his earnest co-operation to extend the glad hand to the hundreds of visitors who will come by automobile each Wednesday by giving emphatic instructions to the traffic policemen to use extreme care and consideration in directing and instructing visitors concerning the traffic ordinances. It appears that complaints of undiplomatic treatment of visitors has been made against traffic "cops" who, while striving to do their duty, have failed to take into consideration the feelings of strangers who are unfamiliar with Fort Wayne's traffic regulations.

The Suburban Day association has laid as one of the foundation stones of its plan the urging of people everywhere to patronize their home merchants to the full ability of the home merchant to fill the want. Fort Wayne asks patronage from out of town people only when the home merchant is unable to meet the need. The plan seeks to show the fallacy of the patronage of the mail order house and other agencies outside of the trade area of which Fort Wayne is the natural center.

MAINE IS VOTING ON SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT

Portland, Me., Sept. 10.—The voters of Maine went to the polls at a special election today to cast their ballots on the question of ratifying the constitutional amendment for woman suffrage submitted to the people by the last legislature. The Maine Equal Suffrage League of Maine have conducted an active campaign for the amendment. The opposing forces have been led by the Maine association opposed to suffrage for women. Leaders of both sides said they felt confident of victory.

CLAIM PRISONER IS HELD UNLAWFULLY

Claiming Charles Spencer, colored, 21 years old, is being held a prisoner at the county jail unlawfully and is being restrained of his liberty, W. A. Tarver filed a habeas corpus petition in the circuit court Monday morning in an effort to secure his release. The petition charges that Sheriff George Gillie is holding Spencer a prisoner by virtue of a warrant of commitment issued by Judge H. W. Waveland Kerr, in police court.

The petition sets out that Spencer was arrested on September 4, 1917, on the charge of loitering and on September 5 was taken before Judge Kerr, who was ready and then to prove his innocence, but the judge recommended him to the county jail under $200 bond, which he has been unable to furnish.

STAYS OUT THERE.

For That Reason Bernice Hamm Sues for Divorce From Lester Hamm.

Because her husband is out with his automobile on an average of five times a week as late as 1 and 2 o'clock a. m., Bernice Hamm, through her attorneys, Emrick & Emrick, filed suit Monday in the superior court, asking for a divorce from Lester A. Hamm. Mr. and Mrs. Hamm were married on January 9, 1917, and separated one day last week. Mrs. Hamm charges her husband with refusing to provide a home for her and failure to support her. An order restraining him from disposing of his automobile and to restrain the General Electric company from paying him his wages, is also asked.

MAYOR CONDITIONS FOR ANOTHER FIGHT

Preparing to Make Stubborn Battle Against Tank Infringement.

Mayor W. J. Hosey is not allowing his ideas of public safety to be put to rest by the "tanks" of the Sinclair Oil company. He is carefully preparing arguments against the latest council measure, which allows the company to place several large gasoline containers within the city limits, with apparent intention of vetoing the council ordinance.

The fact that large tank cars would have to be sidetracked inside the city and would stand on the Wabash railroad siding while the explosive liquid is being transferred from the freight cars to the underground tanks is in itself a dire menace, says the mayor. If all storage tanks are kept outside the city there will not be the added danger of having railroad tank cars in Fort Wayne, the mayor shows.

"I have found that the recent council vote was in a slight measure due to the fact that the present situation of the General Electric works was held to be uncertain," said the mayor. "It was thought by a few people that the present storage of oil by the General Electric company might be held to be legal. The situation at the electric works is altogether different. The oil stored there is for consumption and not wholesale disposal. The oil kept at the electric works is for transformers and oil switches and is inflammable in a low degree. The two situations are not parallel."

MORE PIGGERY MATTER.

Dr. J. H. Gilpin Tells Mayor of Camp Garbage Disposal.

Success of the pork farming method of garbage disposal at Fort Benjamin Harrison and at Lansing, Mich., are being pointed to by Mayor W. J. Hosey, who states that Fort Wayne will yet see the time when a piggery is held to be the most practical way of caring for city waste.

Dr. J. H. Gilpin, city health board secretary, who was in Fort Wayne from Fort Benjamin Harrison, one week end leave last Saturday and Sunday, told the mayor of the disposal of the garbage at the training camp. A large stock farm company is making use of the Indianapolis camp waste, the doctor says. The same corporation has found the plan so practical that its managers will try to get garbage from a part of the training camp, the doctor was told.

Dr. Gilpin visited the farm of the stock company last week, he told the mayor. He found everything spick and span with the most modern sanitary methods in vogue. The stock company has found the use of garbage for animal feed to be a great saving in their business, Dr. Gilpin was told.

Mayor Hosey has also received word from Lansing, Mich., which city is trying the piggery system of garbage disposal and whose officials are proclaiming the plan to be a success.

WHO WILL HEAD CITY SCHOOLS, GRAVE TOPIC

Board Will Not Attempt to Act on Matter at First Session.

The most serious question which the Fort Wayne school board has faced in several years is that of "Who is to take the position of city school head, which position was made vacant by the death of Prof. Justin N. Study?"

School board members admit that they have no idea how the problem is to be solved. The officials are sure of one thing and that is that they are in no hurry about filling the place.

The new superintendent will not be named at the first regular meeting of the board since the schools opened, which session will be held Monday afternoon. Probably the matter will be talked about, if time allows after bills are allowed and other topics disposed of.

There is a list of applicants for the position as Fort Wayne school superintendent which would bewilder any group of men, school board members say. These out-of-town applications have not been carefully considered as yet. Two men in the Fort Wayne schools at present are named prominently for the place.

"We have no more idea than you outsiders who will get the place," said E. W. Cook, member of the school board, Monday morning. "The schools are starting off nicely and we will be in no great hurry to fill the position. Prof. Study set a high standard for the Fort Wayne schools and we feel that we must consider his successor with the greatest care."

TWO SECRET ORDERS SPEND DAY PICNICKING

Elks at Their Country Club and Odd Fellows at Weisser Park.

Two secret organizations held picnics Sunday, the Elks at their Country club, north of the city, and the four I. O. O. F. lodges at Weisser park.

The attendance at both gatherings was large. Visitors from all parts of northeastern Indiana and northwestern Ohio, were at the Elks' picnic. Many prize awards were made. Principal interest attached to the Victoria which was given to Guy L. Carper, of Van Wert, Ohio. The next most valuable donation was the silver loving cup given to Otto Reese. The award was for guessing closest to the number of admissions. He estimated, in advance, 731; Henry Pequin got 729 as his guess. They drew for the prize.

A noticeable feature of the picnic was the manner in which visitors took the prizes. A set of harness went to R. V. Shirley, of Defiance; an umbrella to E. A. Baker, of Kendallville; a pair of gloves to E. J. Fisher, city; a camera to Joe Brinkav, of Angola; fancy underwear to William Craig, Defiance; a pair of gloves to M. P. Muldoon, city; cuff links to Charles Lee, city; shoe ties to Charles Feist, Marion; box of silk hose to R. Griffin, city; suspenders to L. C. Langard, city.

In the afternoon Our Home lodge team was defeated by Harmony lodge, No. 19, by a score of 9 to 8. In the afternoon Mrs. E. L. Brenner was awarded a plat for her skill in driving nails. Miss Hazel Velt won the ball throwing contest and was awarded a scarf. Other prizes were given.

At the dinner tonight speakers will explain in detail the need and the manner in which the $10,000 fund will be expended during the coming three years to keep the work going in Fort Wayne and making 1,500 young lads into real scouts.

Yesterday, from the pulpits of most of the city churches, pastors of all denominations spoke enthusiastically of the movement and urged their people to give it their moral and financial support.

Organized labor is strongly back of the movement as is shown by the following resolution adopted at the torch session of the Federation of Labor:

"Whereas, the Boy Scouts of America, through its national body in New York, teaches the youth of our country the principles of self-reliance, respect for old age and their fellow men; reverence to God; humane treatment of all animal and bird life; courtesy; thrift; trustworthiness; loyalty to parents, home and country; co-operation—in that no man is independent of his fellows—and other fundamental principles that go to make the body of today the desirable man of tomorrow, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor does most heartily endorse the Boy Scout movement as promulgated by the troops already in Fort Wayne and those to be formed under the jurisdiction of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America, and that this federation offers its full moral support to the Boy Scout movement."

Will Raise Fund.

The Walther Leagues of Fort Wayne have been asked to aid in raising a fund to provide for the spiritual needs of Lutheran needs in the army and navy. The local leagues will conduct a campaign Sunday, September 23. The money raised will be used for the following purposes: To appoint Lutheran pastors to serve as chaplains; to furnish all Lutheran boys with booklets containing the word of God; to supply them with prayer books; to provide reading rooms at the camps with Lutheran literature and to distribute from time to time, interesting gospel tracts among them.

MAY BE NO BALL IN CENTRAL CIRCUIT UNLESS PEACE COMES

Prospects for 1918 Look Gloomy to Club Owners.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 10.—With Bill Eslick's Grand Rapids team the pennant winner, the Central league closed its 1917 season. Although one of the greatest races the circuit has ever seen developed during the season, only one club of the league made money and that team, Peoria, was not in the league when the season started. The other cities, including South Bend, which was dropped for Peoria, were heavy losers.

While there is bound to be talk of a revival in 1918, with a rearranged circuit, it's almost a cinch the lesson learned by the club owners this season will not soon be forgotten. The war, too, will have its effect on plans for another year. At least five club owners have declared they are through until the next war is over.

Not a Player Sold.
Possible drafts by major league teams may enable some of the teams to come close to breaking even on the season, but not a single player of the league has been purchased outright to date. Pitcher Wachtel, of Muskegon, who was reported sold to Brooklyn for $2,500, hasn't been sold after all, and it now develops the Dodgers do not want him.

Catcher Harry Smith, of Fort Wayne, who was expected to sign with Brooklyn, has been grabbed by Cincinnati for a trial. American association teams will give several players of the league trials, among them Shortstop Carney, of Springfield; Pitchers Willis and Hoffman, and Catcher O'Farrell, of Peoria, all of whom will get trials with Joe Tinker's Columbus team. Pitcher Jess Haines and Outfielder Walker, of Springfield, already have joined the Detroit Tigers, who held options on them.

Major Scouts Watch Champs.
Major league scouts are expected to be hovering in the vicinity of Peoria, Ill., for the next five days. The special series between the Peoria club, champion of the Three-league, and Grand Rapids Central league winner, will continue until one club has won four games. Regular world series rules are to prevail for the series, with the winners taking 60 per cent of the players' share of the receipts and the losers 40.

The Peoria club is practically intact for the series, while Grand Rapids will be minus the services of Shortstop Harry Brant and Second Baseman George Curry, who were injured toward the close of the season.

FIRST ROUND CITY TOURNAMENT PLAYED

Second Round Will Be Played Off This Week.

Some fast play developed in the first round of the city tennis tournament at Swinney park, Centerville park and the Arthur Hall courts yesterday. A match between Will Reitzke and Ralph McCulloch was the feature of first round play, the former winning out in three sets. The results follow:

Orthell defeated Buock 6-4, 6-4; George Balthus, George Gawnen, 6-1, 6-3; Gawnen, Hartman, 6-2, 6-3; Reitzke, McCulloch, 6-1, 6-3; Woebeking, Spindler, 6-2, 6-2; Stephens, H. Centerville, 6-1, 6-4; Simon, Runley, 6-1, 6-3; Fisher, Harris, 6-1, 6-2.

The schedule for the second round play is as follows: Orthell vs. Al Centerville; Dalley vs. G. M. Church; E. Gawnen vs. F. Haag; Reitzke vs. Mount; Woebeking vs. Dick Evans; Stephens vs. J. Miller, and Fisher vs. Simon.

CHICAGO WHITE SOX ARRIVE TOMORROW

Everything Ready for Game With Local Baseball Stars.

The game with the Chicago White Sox to be played by an all-star cast of Fort Wayne baseball celebrities at League park tomorrow has set the local baseball fans on edge for what promises to be an opportunity to see real major league baseball as played by prospective world champions. The advance ticket sale has been heavy and the local promoters of the game are feeling optimistic. It will be the banner event of the baseball year in Fort Wayne.

Assurance has been given by Manager Rowland, of the Pale Horse, that it will be his regular lineup that will be sent against Fort Wayne except for possibly Catcher Schalk, whom Rowland wishes to save for the all important games yet on the Sox schedule and the world series if the Sox get into it.

Regular prices will prevail for the game, according to the management, and in case the game is called off on account of rain or not played for any reason, all money will be refunded by the local promoters. Butler, Ind., the home of Lichfield, the Chicago Sox famous shortstop, will send a big delegation here to witness the game.

PACES NEW FIVE MILE RECORD SATURDAY.

Quebec, Sept. 10.—A new world's harness record for a five mile race was established here on Saturday at the closing of the Quebec exhibition harness meeting when Marconit paced ten rounds of the half mile track in 12 minutes and 25 seconds.

THE PARADOX OF BASEBALL—FRED MERKLE, FORMER GIANT, NOW ON TEAM HE ONCE HOPED TO BEAT IN PENNANT FIGHT.

Baseball, like any other sport, must have its little joke. This time the victim is Fred Merkle, first baseman of second base fame. The fate has seemed to put Fred in a somewhat paradoxical situation and laugh at him.

Veteran fans will remember when Merkle made the bone that made him famous, in 1908, he vowed to wreak vengeance on the club that caused his team's downfall. So far as Johnny Evers is concerned, and he had most to do with Merkle's sudden leap to renown, Fred's vow has been fulfilled.

For Fred now is trying to fill the gap Evers left when he quit the Cubs. But what makes Merkle's position severe is his enforced rest with the unsuccessful Cubs during a series in which he had hoped to have a hand.

Merkle was sore at Chicago fans and everything that smacked of the Smokey city, after the Cubs took the pennant from the Giants by a play-off. Now, as fate would have it, he is there playing with the Cubs, and destined to watch one of the most severe world series battles in history.

Fred even now can't have a hand in looking Chicago—whether it's the White Sox or the fans, he doesn't care, although he'd much prefer showing up the latter.

He would be able to put up a good fight today if he were with the Giants, for his batting and fielding has not been lowered to a marked degree. He has shown better judgment and greater skill in batting this year than last, although in former years he has exceeded his present standing.

In 1915, when with the Giants, Merkle finished sixth in batting and his fielding averaged .989. In 1908, the year of his fame, he batted .278 for the eighteen games he played. He had come to the Giants only the year before from Tecumseh, Mich.

Merkle still has the hope of rejoining the Giants and beating the Cubs, the team he plays with now, to the pennant.

Major Scouts Watch Champs.

Major league scouts are expected to be hovering in the vicinity of Peoria, Ill., for the next five days. The special series between the Peoria club, champion of the Three-league, and Grand Rapids Central league winner, will continue until one club has won four games. Regular world series rules are to prevail for the series, with the winners taking 60 per cent of the players' share of the receipts and the losers 40.

The Peoria club is practically intact for the series, while Grand Rapids will be minus the services of Shortstop Harry Brant and Second Baseman George Curry, who were injured toward the close of the season.

Over to the fact that some dispute has arisen over the positions occupied by Dayton and Fort Wayne in the windup of the Central league race, the official standing given out by the secretary of the league is printed herewith. Dayton's percentage is one point higher than Fort Wayne's. The standing follows:

Clubs	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Grand Rapids	80	44	.645
Springfield	74	50	.597
Peoria	66	58	.535
Muskegon	66	57	.533

Indianapolis Pair Develop Engine Trouble Upon Arrival.

Jimmy Ingles and Willie Groff, of Indianapolis, en route from Indianapolis to Fort Wayne yesterday to enter the big auto derby with their special built Maxwell, developed engine trouble just upon their arrival in the city and were unable to proceed to the track.

Ingles, who is a tackle on the Indiana University football team, having made his "T" last year, is widely known as an athlete over the state. Groff has driven in a great many races and would have likely given some of the drivers on the track in Sunday's races some keen competition.

Tents of two carnival companies are being raised among the scattered lemonade stands on the fair grounds. The Guy stock company is back in town for another six day engagement. The finest display of hogs ever shown on the Warren grounds is being collected, say stockmen.

Eighteen "jumpers," a part of them hailing from Columbus, O., and others shipping as far as from St. Louis, are on hand for the derby day contests on the closing day.

The race program for the week holds the following classes:
Tuesday—2:30 trot, purse $200; 2:20 pace, purse $250; Green Road race, purse $50.
Wednesday—2:20 pace, purse $300; 2:21 trot, purse $200; free-for-all road race, purse $100.
Thursday—2:25 pace, purse $200; 2:15 trot, purse $300.
Friday—2:25 trot, purse $300; 2:17 pace, purse $250; free-for-all pace, purse $300.
Saturday (derby day)—One-half mile dash, purse $300; five-eighths mile dash, purse $100; three-fourths mile dash, purse $100; one mile dash, purse $150.

CAPRON RETURNS.

Local Attorney Says Conditions in Mexico Are Appalling.

Attorney John C. Capron, who has returned from a trip to Mexico, declares that conditions in that country are most appalling. However, he says, the attitude of the people towards the United States has changed. While there is no difference in their personal dislikes the fact that the United States is raising an army of millions of men has made a profound impression.

Mr. Capron stated that an armored train with escort of barefooted soldiers in ragged uniforms met the train on which he was riding. Telegraph poles and trees within sight of the car windows were decorated with human forms swinging by the neck, for when the soldiers of Carranza brigades strung them up. The same is true when the brigands catch Carranza soldiers.

AUTO RACING PROVES AN EXCITING SPORT TO 12,000 LOCAL FANS

Record Crowd Jams Centlivre Park to Witness Fast Driving.

Despite the fact that but poor facilities were offered for the holding of a pretentious auto race meet, the first big derby in Fort Wayne was run off smoothly and to the liking of a crowd of race bugs estimated at 12,000. No accident of serious consequences, not a single disagreeable feature marred the afternoon of sport. M. H. Karnes, who acted as official starter, expressed himself as being extremely well pleased with the way Fort Wayne had responded to what he regarded as an attempt to give them a good run for their money.

Dale Armentrout in his Duesenberg, was the scintillating star of the meet. He had little difficulty in capturing every race that he was entered in, being defeated only once, and that in the time trials for one mile by Ralph Ormsby in a Hudson.

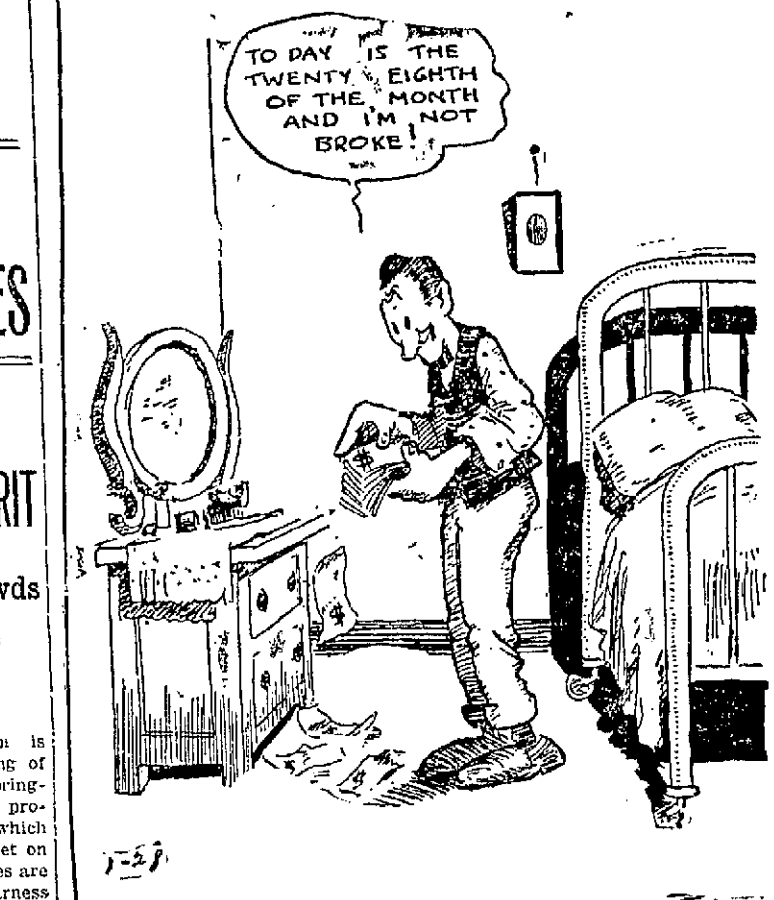

In this event, which was from a standing start, it was demonstrated that on the small track it was impossible for one car to pass another in so short a distance as one mile. Ormsby, however, deserves credit for winning the race, and showed that he had the nerve by his driving in the following races. He forced Armentrout to go the limit in the ten mile professional race and had it not been for engine trouble he might have made a better showing in the five mile race.

One accident, which did not prove serious in any way and had no tendency to mar the day's sport, occurred when Ben Lawell, of Columbus, O., driving a special built sixteen-valve motor Ford, broke a connecting rod on the steering rod. He went into the fence on the southeast turn but was able to slow his car down considerably and he escaped unhurt and his car with only little damage resulted to his car.

The only "fatality" of the day was when a little black and tan dog pushed its way through the crowds surrounding the track and got in front of one of the fast flying cars. It might have caused a serious accident to the men in the car except for careful handling. The dog never knew what hit it.

The results of the various events follow:
One mile time trials, purse $500—Ormsby in a Hudson, first; Armentrout, Duesenberg, second; Dawson, Maxwell, third. Time—1:09.
Special match race for side bet $500—Armentrout in Duesenberg beat Rudy in Lightning Comet (five miles). Time—6:27.
Five mile professional—Armentrout, Duesenberg, first; Lawell, special Ford, second; Dawson, Maxwell, third. Time—6:19.
Ten mile professional race, purse $1,500—Armentrout, Duesenberg, first; Ormsby, Hudson, second; Rudy in Lightning Comet, third. Time—12:28.
Ten mile amateur race—Hinkle, Buick, first; Maxwell, Ormsby, second; Chevrolet, Brown, third. Time—13:03.

KERENSKY IS NEITHER A MAN WITH ONE FOOT IN GRAVE NOR THE DICTATOR—SAVIOR OF RUSSIA

By CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL (Copyright, 1917, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

Every day I am asked to tell something about Kerensky, the "dictator," the "man of blood and iron," the "ruler of Russia" and supposed holder of a raft of other titles the foolish or the reactionary have made for him.

The great question seems to be about his health. He is supposed to be running a race between death and a position as the "Napoleon of Russia," death having the inside track and being likely to win.

The universal belief in this "blood and iron" fantasy is one of the most interesting examples I have ever known of the possibilities of the fake when it takes the form of a pleasing dream.

Nevertheless, since the world is determined to have him the "man of the hour" in Russian affairs, ladies and gentlemen know Mr. Kerensky, present prime minister of Russia.

He is about 40, rather well set up, about 5 feet 8 inches in height, clean shaven, thin-lipped, blue-eyed. He has a very good head, but you would know instantly it was not the head of an American, because it is so much up and down instead of fore and aft. He has rather light brown hair, cut short and rising straight from his head. He has square shoulders, much grace of bearing and an excellent poise for his particular job, which is oratory. But in private conversation he has something of Grover Cleveland's habit of not looking much at the person with whom he is talking, a trick that as in Cleveland's case produces a certain impression of shyness.

Except when he gets started on one of his extraordinary flights of eloquence he is one of the most reticent of men. It is hard to draw him out on any ordinary topic and still harder to judge what he really thinks about it unless he really thinks about it unless he gets interested and sits up to take notice of his surroundings. Then his blue eyes betray him. But at that he will never be a prize-winner at conversation, having too much of a fondness for words of one syllable and only a few of those.

He is an old-time revolutionist and tasted all the bitterness that the old regime handed out to me of his faith. He is a socialist, but that is no distinction in Russia; nine-tenths of the people are socialists.

He is also an idealist and at the beginning of the revolution was as dreamy as any. He, too, had this notion that the downfall of autocracy in Russia sounded Gabriel's big horn for the Earthly Paradise.

There were to be no more divisions among men, and, of course, there were to be no more wars. UNIVERSAL BROTHERHOOD HAD ARRIVED ON THE MIDNIGHT TRAIN. Everybody was to love everybody else; the lion was to lie down and the lamb was to cease to be chops for him.

It was a fine, good feeling and one that reflects great credit on the Russian people. They had joy themselves and they wanted all the neighbors to come in and have some.

There were two men in Russia that never for a moment allowed their enthusiasm to distort their knowledge of the world as it really is with Germany in it.

One was Prince Kropotkin, the old-time philosopher and revolutionist, whose daring escape from the fortress of Peter and Paul is one of the most stirring chapters in the imperishable history of Russian democracy, and the other was Platonoff, who first unfurled the red flag of revolution in the Nevsky Prospekt, the great thoroughfare of Petrograd.

These elder warriors in the long fight continually warned their countrymen that so long as German autocracy remained in the world unbroken there was no chance for democracy either in Russia or in any other place.

I heard Prince Kropotkin speak on this subject one Sunday afternoon in Norodny Dom, great people's palace of Petrograd, and his logic was like an avalanche rushing down a Swiss mountain-side. It swept all before it.

Kropotkin and Platonoff steadily insisted that the first duty of the new democracy in Russia was to give to the other democracies of the world all possible help in the life and death struggle against autocracy. The revolution was only a few weeks old when Kerensky came out of his trance and saw that these men were right. He has not wavered since from that conviction, which has grown steadily among all Russian people who think.

He is a good parliamentarian, but not so good as Tseretelli, the silent man of Russia, nor as Tschaidse, the resourceful chairman of the national council. These two, in my judgment, have no superiors in any parliamentary body of the world. I have seen Tschaidse steer the council so swiftly and skillfully around perilous shoals and through difficult straits that he made all the other presiding officers of my acquaintance seem bunglers. He was like old Hank Hart, the prince of Nantucket skippers. He knew instinctively in advance every change in wind and weather and had everything ready for it.

But Kerensky is pretty good at that sort of thing. The time the council was about to split over the anarchists' demonstration and was saved by an clever a piece of parliamentary maneuvering as ever was pulled off, the credit for the scheme, I was told, belonged to him as much as to Tseretelli and Tschaidse.

As to his health and this dream stuff about the race between death and a Napoleon stunt—I don't see anything in that. I suppose it may be possible for a man to be very sick and to give every indication of being very well, but I don't believe it. Mr. Kerensky, it is true, has no ruddy color in his face and is obviously not a husky. But his eye is perfectly clear and good, his step is quick and firm, his voice has the ring of health, his hand clasp is the grip of a man of vigor, and when he is launched upon one of his amazing speeches I can assure you the only impression you get from him is of power and health.

The picture of an invalid with one foot in the grave and yet doing these oratorical feats was, of course, very taking, and a good story, but it seems to be chiefly a pipe.

Not as big a pipe, however, as the other idea that he will "save Russia." Nobody will do that but just Russia herself.

Your Last Chance to Secure a Humphrey Automatic Water Heater at Before the War Prices

He will demonstrate the advantages of automatic water heaters, and also answer any questions pertaining to hot water systems.

We have succeeded in obtaining a car load at the old prices, and these heaters will be sold at our former prices and installed free for the week only. As we have only a limited number of heaters to sell, we would suggest that you call some time during the early part of the week.

Hot water is a necessity in the home every day the year round. You know the bother, the fuss, the inconvenience of the lack of it—of the shortage that always occurs at the wrong time. You insure your home against fire—why not insure it against hot water?

The Humphrey Automatic Water Heater will put hot water on the same sure, carefree basis as cold water. It heats the water whenever wanted by simply turning the faucet, at a cost of 1-10c per gallon. Think of it! A big bath (20 gallons) costs 2c for gas.

GERMANY HAS PEACE OFFER

Peace situation in Germany. A high official authority gave the Associated Press today the following statement of the situation in Germany as regards peace conference:

"There is no doubt that the German government is anxious to get out of the war at the earliest possible moment on any terms which will insure them against revolution at home and national collapse."

"Great numbers of people in Germany today would welcome a peace on a status quo basis, this meaning practically a draw, in which no belligerent would occupy any territory beyond that which it possessed in July, 1914, and in which, moreover, each side would bear its own burden in respect of the material losses incurred during the course of the war. But it is impossible to say how far this view has spread among the German population because naturally where it exists it has had small opportunity of public expression."

"It is obvious that if the German people ultimately came to accept a net loss of territory as inevitable they must pass to that frame of mind through the intermediate stage of a willingness to accept a status quo peace. If the war continues to go against Germany, the test offers to conclude such a peace will certainly be made as soon as the pressure reaches a certain point."

"America Alters Situation. Since Germany's so-called peace offer a year ago, the continued pressure of the entente and the entry of the United States has completely changed the situation."

"The question is now in fact, not what are the war aims which Germany will impose before she grants peace, but what terms she herself will be willing to accept. That is a very simple statement of the greatest fact in the war situation today."

"The entry of the United States and many of the South American republics has put economic matters into the foreground. The German government must obviously view with extreme apprehension to the situation at home in the months immediately succeeding the declaration of peace. The physical exhaustion of the people and of the country, combined with the want of food, which cannot be immediately remedied, and the want of raw material for starting manufactures will create a most serious situation. If when the troops come back from the front, it is not possible immediately to start again the industrial life of the country and provide food and work, there will almost inevitably be a very dangerous revolutionary movement."

"Would Prefer Civil War. This would be started by the minority socialists and if Germany comes out of the war without a definite increase of strength and prestige in some form or another, the influence of the government on the middle classes will be so much weakened that it will be impossible any longer to depend on their active support against a revolutionary movement. The Prussian military and agrarian party remains as firm and uncompromising in domestic as in foreign affairs as ever and many of them would undoubtedly prefer civil war to any surrender which would deprive them of the political power which they regard as their right."

"For this reason, that which the German government will most seek for in any peace arrangement is security, as soon as the war is over there shall be a free flow of food and raw material into the country and at the same time free markets for German products. If this could be secured, the energy of the people could be at once directed to the restoration of the commerce and industry and these interests are so concentrated that they would be turned away from dangerous political considerations."

Indiana and Illinois tonight, but whether he will have much of a force with him has not been known.

Farmers say that heavy or continued frosts at this time will do much damage to corn and other crops, which have not yet matured.

Early morning risers in Indianapolis had a taste of winter this morning and straw hats were the exception on the early street cars. The weather bureau said the mercury had dropped to 45 degrees above zero at 7 a. m. and the weather forecast is "fair and continued cool tonight and Tuesday."

GEN. KORNILOFF TRIES TO SEIZE SUPREME POWER

and rights of the citizens won by the revolution.

"Therefore, for the maintenance in the country of liberty and public order, am taking all measures, which I shall announce at the proper moment, to the people."

"At the same time I order Gen. Korniloff to hand over his functions to Gen. Klembovsky, commander-in-chief of the armies on the northern front, which bar the way to Petrograd and I order General Klembovsky to assume provisionally the functions of generalissimo, while remaining at Pskov."

"Secondly, I declare a state of war in the town and district of Petrograd. I appeal to all citizens to remain calm, maintaining the order necessary for the welfare of the fatherland."

When M. Lvoff saw Premier Kerensky on Saturday and presented General Korniloff's demands, it developed today, he told the premier that an organization of duma members, Moscow industrial interests and other conservatives who played the role of the opposition at the recent Moscow conference, were supporting General Korniloff, and the army and navy, and tranquilly and faithfully fulfill their duty in the defense of the fatherland against the foreign enemy."

GRAVEST OF EVENTS.

Petrograd, Sunday, Sept. 9.—Eleven cabinet ministers have been in German session in the winter palace today considering measures to face General Korniloff's revolt, which, in conversation with the Associated Press correspondent, the ministers admit is the gravest event since the revolution.

So far, except for the deposition of General Korniloff, which the general is apparently determined to defy, no measures have been decided upon, but the discussion is proceeding on a plan to constitute a directory of five men with full power. The names so far submitted for membership in this body are Premier Kerensky, Vice Premier Nekrasoff, M. Skobeleff, the minister of labor, M. Tretyachenko, the minister of foreign affairs, and M. Savinkoff, the assistant minister of war.

In a talk with the correspondent Foreign Minister Tretyachenko said: "The plan for the directory is under discussion and may be decided tonight. So far the government is unable to make any statement. At 12 o'clock we expect the arrival of General Alexeff, with whom we will confer. My personal opinion is that General Korniloff's revolt is not dangerous and is partly due to a misunderstanding which will be cleared up."

Regarding the rumors of widespread arrests in Petrograd today in connection with the revolt, the Associated Press correspondent is authorized to declare that no arrests have yet been made by order of the government, although there may have been some by the judicial authorities under the ordinary process of law.

Oppose Military Rigors.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Russian embassy officials believed the resignation of General Korniloff was forced by elements of the council of workmen's and soldiers' delegates opposed to enforcement of the death penalty for mutinous soldiers and that Gen. Klembovsky, the new commander, will modify the death penalty order.

Representatives of the workmen and soldiers in the Kerensky cabinet, it was pointed out, have been dissatisfied with the stringent measures adopted to restore the Russian army to discipline, fearing the power might menace the new democratic ideals of the republic. They insisted that a less drastic disciplinary code would receive more whole-hearted support of the army and consequently would be more effective. The embassy had not received official news of Gen. Korniloff's removal.

A BELATED BIT OF CHEER.

Petrograd, Sept. 8.—(Delayed.)—The members of the special American Red Cross mission to Russia, eight of whom are on the eve of departure for home, gave a dinner tonight to Ambassador Frances, members of the embassy staff, and the military and naval attaches, Charles J. Vopelka, American minister to Rumania, Serbia and Bulgaria; Henry Watkins Anderson, chairman, and Dr. Francis W. Peabody, a member of the Red Cross mission to Rumania, were also guests at the dinner. Other guests were American residents of Petrograd.

The members of the American Red Cross mission to Rumania arrived here today, leaving a majority of the party at Moscow, where they will return on Monday en route to their destination. Of the Russian mission Dr. Frank Billings of Chicago, Dr. George C. Whipple of Harvard, Professor Henry Sherman of Columbia university, Harold H. Sift, of Chicago, Dr. Wilbur E. Post of Chicago, William C. Nichols and Major Malcolm Grow, U. S. A., and two orderlies will leave for home on Tuesday night. At the dinner Dr. Billings, head of the medical section of the mission, expressed satisfaction at the work accomplished and declared that the mission "put the Red Cross on the Russian map for good." Dr. Billings said that he was going home to emphasize the message already transmitted to America that the Russian people are worthy of all the assistance that America can give them.

The Americans are leaving a permanent Red Cross unit here in charge of Raymond Robins, of Chicago. In addition to being in charge of the headquarters here, Robins will supervise the four chief Russian relief organizations and will be in direct contact with the Russian armies in the field. One of the chief recommendations of the commission is that American ambulance corps be sent to Russia at once for service at the front.

TOO AMAZED TO BELIEVE.

Buenos Aires, Sept. 10.—Argentine officials, according to newspaper accounts, are still unable to believe that the dispatches sent to Berlin through the Swedish legation here were accurately translated. The foreign office early today said that it was without official advice from Ambassador Naou or American Ambassador Stimson. Newspapers and officials generally believe that the government will demand the recall of Count Luxburg, German charge at Buenos Aires, but a rupture in diplomatic relations with Germany is not anticipated at present, the Argentine government preferring, it is said, to consider the affair a personal one between the German and Swedish representatives here.

La Epoca, the recognized mouthpiece of President Irigoyen's party says: "These documents show discourtesy and duplicity so great that we were unable at first to believe such practices possible by such men. We must confess, regardless of such unimpeachable sources of information, that we did not believe possible such monstrous deceit, which is so exceptional in these times when diplomatic customs have acquired a spirit of sincerity and frankness. Before such stupendous duplicity calm peace is possible and it is impossible to believe that a nation calling itself

our friend (we refer principally to Sweden, Germany's methods being already doubtful) could observe such conduct without any cause for a grudge against us at the present moment with its terrible events reawakening the worst instincts we thought forever dead."

"Although unable to foretell what action the government will take, it is certain that it will take energetic measures to assure the dignity of the nation's highest officials, who are thus insulted in an unprecedented manner, despite their best efforts to treat Germany with dignity during the delicate situations arising through the tramping under foot of the American flag."

La Nacion, in its issue today, declares that it is absolutely necessary that both the German and Swedish ministers leave the country immediately.

BRITISH PRESS COMMENT.

London, Sept. 10.—The Daily Mail, in an editorial, congratulates the American intelligence service on "the second great exploitation of this year," and says:

"A blacker piece of diplomacy on Germany's part never was exposed, while on Sweden's part an offense against neutrality and against every principle of international intercourse, deliberate and despicable, how despicable can only be realized when we recall that Sweden has herself suffered from such outrages as she is inflicting Germany to inflict upon Argentina."

"Such conduct combines maximum duplicity with maximum treachery and we are confident that a cruel Sweden promptly will resent as a cruel stain upon national honor, and demand a strict account from the government that juggled the country in a position so basely dishonorable."

"As matters stand, the allies have every excuse for treating Sweden as a country that has gone over to the enemy. We are confident, however, that no allied government wishes to visit upon the Swedish people the extreme punishment of war for the criminal acts of their rulers. But the allies, and especially the United States, have a sharp weapon in their hands in the form of blockade."

ALL DENOUNCE IT.

All the London newspapers in their editorials similarly denounce in unmeasured language Germany's action as revealed in the Swedish disclosures. The Daily News under the caption of "The Latest Perfidy" says:

"It is impossible to foresee what effect the astonishing revelations will have on the general course of the war. If further evidence were needed on the cynical brutality with which Germany fights, it is surely here. Among the ruffians to whom the German public service appears to afford refuge in such numbers, Count Luxburg, German charge of affairs in Argentina, is entitled to a very prominent place."

The Daily News thinks it is scarcely credible that Argentine public opinion, even if the Argentine government were willing, will tolerate a continuance of friendly relations with Germany.

Foreign Office Gully.

Commenting on the Swedish-Argentine disclosures, the Manchester Guardian assumes that the Swedish foreign office knew the contents of the cipher messages. It would be fairly easy for it to learn them, the newspaper declares, as it points out that what could be decided by the employees of the United States government could be decided by employees of the Swedish government.

"But even if it did not," says the Guardian, "its responsibility is not less great. It gave a blank cheque which could be and was, in fact used by one belligerent against other belligerents and neutrals."

The Guardian continues that the Swedish foreign office made itself a party to the crime of planning the murder of Argentine seamen and the sinking of Argentine ships.

The Guardian assumes that the Swedish people knew nothing of the transactions and will hasten the necessary measures to clear themselves of the stain their government has put on Sweden's good name. The newspaper also expresses belief that the Argentine people may be trusted to make proper reply to this German conspiracy.

NO ADVICES IN LONDON.

London, Sept. 10.—Count Wrangel, the Swedish minister at London, arrived at the Swedish legation early this morning prepared to go to the British foreign office later in the day. The minister told the Associated Press that he had no advice regarding the Argentine affair and had "nothing whatever to say about the matter." The count indicated, however, that he might have some announcement to make later. The Argentine minister is out of the city and is not expected to return until Wednesday.

BATTERY D AT

made without accident of any kind and all of the men are well.

It was a noisy greeting which New York gave the Hoosier soldiers, halting here for a time before going overseas. As the train, in four sections, wended its way over the long route through the city, whistles of hundreds of small boats, of scores of freight and passenger trains and of countless factories and mills shrieked their recognition to these volunteers in Uncle Sam's great army of democracy and liberty.

Thousands Cheer Soldiers.

It would be folly to estimate how many thousands of persons waved their greeting as the train passed through the city and out on Long Island to Garden City. New York knows that troops arriving here are soon to go to the battle line, and it looks on the soldiers with an appreciation of the service they are about to render their country.

An interesting scene was witnessed this afternoon when the Indiana artillerymen touched the hands of several hundred sailors of the navy. The Indiana men were on their train, stalled about five miles out from camp, when on a parallel track passed a train bearing several hundred of the blue-jackets. Both the soldiers and sailors extended their hands from the car windows and touched each other's finger tips as the navy men's train whizzed by. The sailors greatly interested the Hoosier soldiers, since it is the job of the navy to protect the troops crossing the Atlantic.

heavy concentrations of fresh troops they have been able to keep the Italians from achieving the notable success which completion of the capture of the mountain would constitute. The Italians have captured 145 guns from the Austrians since the beginning of this offensive.

General Petain's troops last night clinched the success they won north-east of Verdun on Saturday when they pushed their lines ahead materially in the Fosse and Caurieres wood sector. The Germans were obliged to abandon their furious assaulting tactics of the day, probably because of the heavy losses they sustained in attacks which left the French line unshaken.

Paris characterizes the repulse sustained by the Crown Prince here as an important one and dwells upon the extremely serious extent of the casualties inflicted by the French fire.

There were only raid operations on the remainder of the front and there was a similar lack of activity of a major sort along the British lines. General Haig's troops, however, put in a busy night in successfully consolidating the positions taken by them yesterday northwest of St. Quentin in the neighborhood of Harcourt, London announces. Berlin, however, declares this ground was retaken by the Germans early this morning.

The Macedonian fighting is again assuming importance. On the extreme west of the front the French have apparently massed a considerable force. Yesterday they report occupying several villages in the Mulik lake region and the German war office today admits that German forces there were obliged to retreat before superior French pressure.

The German advance in the Riga region is definitely halted according to indications in the current reports. The only events reported there today by Berlin are clashes between Russian raiding parties and German reserves.

Russia again has a critical political situation to face, however, with Gen. Korniloff deposed from the chief command because of his demand for dictatorial powers and with martial law declared in Petrograd, presumably by way of preparing to cope with threatened resistance by the general to his deposition and possible new attempt to overthrow the provisional government by force. Premier Kerensky in a proclamation assures the people that all necessary measures are being taken to preserve the fruits of the revolution and counsels them to remain calm and firm in the performance of their duty to preserve Russia against the foreign enemy.

sure, says the official statement issued today by the German war office. The Heutons retired in the direction of the heights southwest of Lake Ochrida.

GERMANS ADMIT RETIREMENT.

Berlin, Sept. 10.—British troops yesterday pressed back slightly the German reserves at Hargicourt and Villeret on a narrow front, according to the official statement issued by the German general staff. Early today, the statement adds, the Germans recaptured the positions to the east of Hargicourt.

FRENCH GAINS.

Paris, Sept. 10.—Successful raids were made by the French last night on the German positions in the Champagne and Argonne regions, the French war department announced today. On both banks of the River Meuse there was a violent artillery bombardment. The French success in the sector of the Fosse and Caurieres woods was completed and a number of new prisoners were taken.

CADORNA PRESSES AUSTRIANS.

Rome, Sept. 10.—Gen. Cadorna continues to press the Austrian forces in the region of the Austro-Italian front, north-east of Gorizia, according to the official statement issued today by the Italian war department. Yesterday there was a very great artillery bombardment south of the Carso.

Since the beginning of the battle the Italians have captured 145 guns.

HAIG REPORTS WORK.

London, Sept. 10.—Field Marshal Haig, in his official report today, says the British troops last night consolidated the positions captured during the day southeast of Hargicourt, on the Somme front in France. At several parts of the front German raiding parties were dispersed.

NO CESSATION OF BATTLE.

Udine, Italy, Sunday, Sept. 9.—The fight against the heights northeast of Gorizia continues night and day during good and bad weather. The continuous contest seems to the observer to be animated by superhuman forces, the Italians and the Austrians almost constantly engaging in hand-to-hand encounters. A strange situation is being brought about by the two forces, virtually equal in numbers, strength and determination, struggling for supremacy in a circumscribed area, where it is impossible for either side to employ more men or artillery. Gaps in the ranks are instantly filled and thus the contending forces remain so balanced that victory apparently is impossible to either side. The fierceness of the struggle is proved by the fact that in twelve hours the Italians attacked the enemy five times.

CHAMP CLARK STIRS UP GREAT APPLAUSE

Tells House Insurance Bill for Fighters is Best Since War Began.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Applause swept over the house floor and through the galleries today when Speaker Clark in a brief speech defended the soldiers' and sailors' insurance bill as the best measure brought before congress since the declaration of war.

"One of the objections to this bill," he said, "is that the government is liable to find itself in the hole as a result of it. I don't know whether it will put the government in the hole or not and I am not very much exercised about that. I am in favor of making the soldiers that go to Europe as comfortable as possible both physically and mentally. I don't want them to have to worry about their families back home. If they are willing to risk their lives we ought to take care of them."

"I am in favor of insurance," he said. "I think in time everybody in the country will have insurance of some kind. I never have been able to save any money and I have carried insurance because I wanted to keep my wife and children out of the poor house. And I want to fix it so that the wives and children of these soldiers won't have to go to the poor house."

Representative Gillette, of Massachusetts, acting republican leader, endorsed all the measure except the optional insurance feature. Instead of issuing optional pension policies, he insisted, the government should put all of its available funds in allowances to be equally shared by all that need help.

GOVERNOR'S CONDITION IS REPORTED BETTER

Mr. Goodrich, However, is in Critical State, Following Relapse.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 10.—Governor Goodrich, who is ill at a local hospital of typhoid fever, was said to be better at the hospital, but his condition is still said to be serious. The governor's condition took an unfavorable turn yesterday when he suffered an intestinal hemorrhage, followed by rising fever, but was regarded as a little more favorable this morning.

HORACE IN WONDERLAND.

(Part Four.)

When Horace recovered he just had time enough to get barbered up before supper, so he locked his room and skidded toward the elevator. His room was on the top floor and instead of the elevator being on the first floor, as is usual, it was waiting on the high level floor. Life in Wonderland was just one shock after another for Horace. Reaching the main floor he sailed for the barber booth and doctored up at the hat rack. No porter came tearing up to him, trying to help unknot his tie and unweave his collar and those other tip seeking courtesies. Nope, he did it himself in solid comfort.

Horace told the barber to give him a shave and trim up his hair. The barber did both in perfect silence and offered no suggestions of tonics for scalp treatments, but dirty his scalp was, a good massage he'd give him that would remove all the blackheads, etc., nope! He did as Horace asked, and most of all he combed Horace's hair exactly as Horace does himself.

The barber and porter worked over Horace for an hour with smelling salts trying to bring him to.

OLD SOLDIERS INVITED.

Veterans of the civil war and Sons of Veterans are invited to the regular meeting of Wayne Circle No. 45, Ladies of the G. A. R., Tuesday evening at Vordermark hall. The old soldiers and sons are asked to come and take the obligation as there is a class to be taken in. A social session will be held at the conclusion of the regular meeting.

CANNOT GET COAL.

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 10.—Local coal dealers say they have been unable to buy coal at the new prices set by the government and that the city is facing a coal famine. The dealers say the consumers are buying too freely and that operators report they do not have the cheaper grades of coal for delivery. One retailer showed a number of letters he said he received from operators turning down orders for several carloads of coal. The reply in each case was that it would be impossible to supply coal, the dealer said.

SOCIALIST MEETING TUESDAY.

WAY TO UTILIZE STALE BREAD.

Here is a way suggested by the United States department of agriculture to utilize stale bread and left-over milk for French toast. Beat up together 1 egg, 1 cup of skim or whole milk and salt to taste. Place a small quantity of butter, bacon fat or other suitable fat in a broad-bottomed frying pan. Dip slices of stale bread into the egg and milk mixture until they are thoroughly moist and fry on both sides until a golden brown. Serve hot with or without syrup. The use of two or three eggs instead of one will make the dish still more nutritious and will satisfy many people entirely as a meal.

WALL STREET OPENS WITH A MILD POP

Bears Are Routed in the Earlier Trading, But Weakness Follows.

New York, Sept. 10.—The stock market gave a good account of itself at the opening today and bearish attempts to depress special issues met with indifferent success. Important shares gained a half to two points in the early trading. Bulls purchased stocks in the belief that liquidation had put the well run its course and that technical conditions had been strengthened by the elimination of weekly margined accounts.

Weakness cropped up in stocks for a time, forcing back some of the favorites like steel, rubber, Reading and tobacco products a point or so, but later speculative sentiment became more hopeful. The steels and coppers were the strongest features.

Bonds were firm. The liberty issue sold at 99.82 to 99.90.

NOT SINGLE LOAD OF CORN IS RECEIVED

Increase in Price of Eggs is Forecasted—News of Local Markets.

Not a single load of corn was received on the Fort Wayne markets Monday, and as a matter of fact less than a dozen loads have been delivered here during the past week. The scarcity of corn is largely due to the uncertainty of the weather, which is several days later than usual.

An increase in the price of eggs is believed to be certain as a result of unfavorable weather conditions and the apparent scarcity.

speaking of economical foods

WHEN Mrs. Housewife makes up her grocery list, she mustn't forget crackers.

Tests show that crackers are higher in food value than equal weights of meat, potatoes or beans.

Crackers fit in with any course, they never fail the housewife, they help to round out the menu.

What dish can compare with the ever-ready crackers and milk that can be prepared in a jiffy?

WHAT ever covered the "between meals" problem so satisfyingly as crackers and a spread?

The many inviting ways in which crackers may be prepared make them a necessity at every breakfast, luncheon, dinner and supper every day in every Fort Wayne home. There's more satisfying food value at less cost in crackers than in any two other foods.

We are adding to the good things in crackers and cakes all the time. Ask your grocer about them.

There are a host of varieties of crackers and cakes of various kinds that are made in this clean bakery and packed in such a way that they remain clean and crisp, as when they left the ovens. And the taste is so delicious that you won't be satisfied until you have more.

Think of the many dainty ways you may serve these delicacies, and serve them for every meal or function. You'll be delighted.

AT THE MAJESTIC

Up to Date Is the New "Peck's Bad Boy."

Lovers of good, wholesome comedy have a treat in store in the coming of the new "Peck's Bad Boy," which has been entirely rewritten and set to music by the famous composer, Irving Berlin, who has no end of successes to his credit. The situations are laid in and around Shultz's grocery store and are funny to the extreme, as the clever comedians never let an opportunity pass to create laughter and the pretty girls go to make the picture complete. Jacques Baum has been especially engaged for the title role and is capably supported by a well selected company of fun-makers. The attraction is booked to appear at the Majestic again tonight.

"Nothing But the Truth" With Max Fegman Tomorrow.

Anderson and Weber, who will offer Max Fegman, the well known comedian, at the Majestic tomorrow evening in James Montgomery's stage version of Frederick Isham's latest novel, "Nothing But the Truth," claim there are 304 laughs during the two and one-half hours that it takes to play the farce, and after one has witnessed the many troubles and tribulations that Mr. Fegman, as the young stock broker who bets he can tell the truth for twenty-four hours, has, the auditor thoroughly agrees with the producers. The piece played for one year in New York at the Longacre theater, and comes with the highest endorsement of both press and public as being one of the cleanest and most laughable farces that has been seen for many years. Mr. Fegman is well known as an actor of farce and he will have the assistance of as capable a company of farceurs as money can get together. All in all, "Nothing But the Truth" is designed for fun only, and it will help for two hours a half to drive dull care away.

HONOR THY CHILDREN.

Big William Lawrence in Laugh Sketch at Palace.

Ponderous William Lawrence, known as Big Bill with the whole souled laugh is the featured star in the laugh sketch, "Honor Thy Children," being offered the first portion of the week at the New Palace. The little playlet is a clever satire on the modern day tendency to exalt the position of the children in the household. It is a neat little story and abounds in sparkling epigrams.

The six Colonial Belles, a double trio of charming girl musicians with Lattie Deum as the prima donna are old-time favorites with Fort Wayne vaudeville audiences, for these young people have been here several times and always register big. They have some brand new numbers this time but are using the same quaint Colonial setting. Montrose and Allen, the singing, talking and dancing duo; Karlleton and Kilford, the novelty landscapers whose painting on a transparent canvas is an unique stunt; Gus Erdman, the song jester in comical singing, and Holliday and Willette, a man and woman team of kidding comedians are others on this bill.
